

Music Department Alumni

Scott Mangle

What year did you graduate and with what degree?

2010 with a B.A. in Music Performance and Worship Arts Leadership and a minor in Drama

What have you been engaged in since graduating from WPC? I took a job as Music Engraver/Engineer at Christian Copyright Licensing International in July 2011. I continue to lead worship at my home church, CCFC (Conservative Christian Fellowship Church – Molalla). I have helped out with a few accompaniment activities for individuals and theatre groups. I am continuing to teach piano lessons out of our home to a few students. I married my wife Kate on February 11, 2012. She was healed of a brain tumor through surgery on November 1, 2012. We are currently expecting our first child in August of this year (2014).

How did your education at WPC prepare you? My time at WPC helped me educationally and personally. The education in all aspects of the arts was extremely valuable in enhancing the abilities I brought to college; teaching me new skills in music, drama and performance, and effective research and team building strategies. Personally, I grew to appreciate even more the value of integrity and hard work, the camaraderie of a close knit group of friends and colleagues, the value of a holistic view of life and education, and the importance that God be the center and motivation for everything I do in both my personal and professional life.

If you had three words to describe the WPC Music Department what would they be?
Challenging. Invigorating. Fun!
