

WARNER
PACIFIC UNIVERSITY

2021-2022 Catalog

President's Welcome

Welcome to Warner Pacific University! The last academic year was a period unlike any other in Warner Pacific University's history due to the pandemic. In spite of the uncertainty of the pandemic, which will continue to affect higher education institutions across the nation, Warner Pacific University will remain flexible, dutiful, watchful and continue to follow in the great grace our institution has sustained since its founding in 1937. The 2021-2022 academic year promises to be a year filled with great grace and great glory (Psalm 84:11) for Warner Pacific University faculty, staff and students as well as our surrounding vicinity.

Warner Pacific University is a vibrant, progressive university located within the beautiful city of Portland, Oregon. We are and will remain a Christ-centered urban liberal arts university dedicated to providing students from diverse backgrounds an education that prepares them to engage actively in a constantly changing world.

In recent years, we have come to better understand our mission statement and how it applies to the unique setting of our campus. We seek to educate students who welcome the learning that comes with living in an increasingly diverse and thriving urban environment.

Notwithstanding, the university is presently re-engineering itself for transformation for the purpose of assisting students in their holistic development: spirit, soul and body. To this end, we are proud that the academic and student experience will be enhanced for both our traditional and Professional and Graduate Studies students through a new division, "Student Success and Engagement". This division will go hand-in-hand with the academic curriculum that is contained within this catalog.

Moreover, the university will be engaged in conversations both within and beyond the classroom as we develop a vision for the campus experience that will sharpen its identity, enhance our infrastructure and physical plant, as well as make an impact within the city, state, region and nation that we serve.

In closing, I wish to offer the words of G.K. Chesterton as you undertake the 2021-2022 academic year: "Everyone on this earth should believe that he or she has something to give to the world which cannot otherwise be given." Warner Pacific University will continue to assist each of our students to fulfill their unique callings within a myriad of fields throughout Portland, the northwest region, the United States of America and the world.

Peace and Blessings,

Sincerely,
Brian L. Johnson, Ph.D.
8th President, Warner Pacific University

Mission, Vision, Values and Core Themes

Mission

Warner Pacific is a Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts university dedicated to providing students from diverse backgrounds an education that prepares them to engage actively in a constantly changing world.

Vision

Mission-driven leaders who change the world

Values

Warner Pacific University values:

- We learn in an inclusive community.
- We innovate toward experiential learning and academic relevance.
- We engage our spiritual journey with Christ at the center.
- We serve and care for our city and world.
- We cultivate curiosity, creativity, and purpose.

Core Themes

- Cultivating a Christ-centered learning community
- Collaborating with and for our urban environment
- Fostering a liberal arts education
- Investing in the formation and success of students from diverse backgrounds

History and Accreditation

Warner Pacific University is operated under the auspices of the Church of God (Anderson, Indiana) as a place of education and service for people, regardless of their denomination, who desire a quality liberal arts education in a vital Christian community. Founded in 1937 in Spokane, Washington, it was incorporated as Pacific Bible College and prepared church leaders during its early years. A desire for a more central location in the Pacific Northwest led to a move to Portland in 1940. In 1959, the name of the institution was changed to Warner Pacific College in honor of one of the early founders of the church as well as to reflect its growing liberal arts emphasis. In 2018, the name was changed to Warner Pacific University to more accurately reflect the growth and development it has experienced in the scope of the programs offered and the scale of what its graduates are achieving. It has been accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (8060 165th Ave. NE, Suite 100, Redmond, WA 98052; Telephone: 425.558.4224; FAX: 425.376.0596) since 1961. Warner Pacific University holds program-specific approvals for its teacher education, nursing, and social work programs. The university is approved by the State of Oregon (www.doj.state.or.us/finfraud/) to offer degree programs, for the training of teachers in identified subject areas, and for nursing education. Warner Pacific University has also been approved to offer specific degree programs in the State of Washington (see page 102).

Proviso

Warner Pacific University is an equal opportunity employer, which seeks faculty and staff who have a personal commitment to Jesus Christ and to the educational mission of the university as a Christ-centered liberal arts institution. Warner Pacific University does not discriminate in its student admission and employment practices and provides equal opportunity for all students, applicants and employees regardless of race, color, sex, national origin, disability, age, veteran status and any other status protected by laws and regulations.

While every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of the information in this catalog, Warner Pacific University reserves the right to make changes at any time without prior notice. This catalog is not a contract between Warner Pacific University and current or prospective students. Additions to the curriculum for the ensuing year are published each fall in the master schedule. Degree requirements are effective according to the semester of matriculation to the institution, while policies and processes may change from catalog year to catalog year.

Association Memberships

The university maintains membership in the following organizations and associations: Council for Christian Colleges and Universities; Council of Independent Colleges; Oregon Alliance of Independent Colleges and Universities; Oregon Association of Colleges of Teacher Education; Campus Compact of Oregon; Council on Adult Experiential Learning; Consortium for the Advancement of Adult Higher Education; National Association for College Admissions Counseling; North American Coalition for College Admissions Professionals; Western Association for College Admissions Counseling; Pacific Northwest Association for College Admissions Counseling; Hawaii Association for College Admissions Counseling; American Association of College Registrars and Admissions Officers; Pacific Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers; Northwest Association of Private College and University Libraries; Orbis Cascade Alliance; The Tuition Exchange; Service Members Opportunity Colleges Consortium; Council on Social Work Education; Association for Advancing Quality in Educator Preparation; and the National Association of College and University Business Officers. Documents to the above are available for review in the Office of the President.

Program Formats (Traditional and PGS)

There are two different academic program formats offered at Warner Pacific University:

1. Traditional Program
2. Professional and Graduate Studies (PGS) Program

This catalog applies to all programs at Warner Pacific University. Each section heading indicates the program applicability (Traditional or PGS). There are some sections labeled as Institutional; these sections apply to both programs. Students are encouraged to utilize the sections that apply to their chosen program.

TRADITIONAL PROGRAM

The Traditional program is designed for students who wish to participate in a traditional university format. Students in the traditional program spend a substantial amount of time at the university campus. The Warner Pacific University community emphasizes seamless, holistic learning that occurs in classrooms, in residence halls, on the gym floor, in the dining all, at worship, and at social gatherings.

Academic Calendar

The Traditional program is offered in standard semester terms of 15 weeks of instruction plus 1 week of final exams. In one academic year, there are two standard semesters (fall and spring) as well as an optional summer term. Students enroll in multiple courses during the semester, and class meetings are scheduled throughout the week.

PROFESSIONAL AND GRADUATE STUDIES PROGRAM (PGS)

The Professional and Graduate Studies program offers a distinctive alternative to a traditional university format. It is specifically designed for adult learners who:

1. Have significant professional or volunteer work experience.
2. Desire to take classes at times that allow employment or other activities during the day.
3. Have responsibilities that may require a non-traditional approach to continuing their education.

Through its PGS program, Warner Pacific University serves the needs of adult learners by helping them assess personal values, expand interpersonal skills, and enhance professional competencies. Instructional strategies are based on adult learning theory and honor the experience adults bring to the learning environment.

Academic Calendar

The PGS program is offered in non-standard terms of 25 weeks of instruction. In one academic year, there are two terms (fall and spring). Each term is subdivided into shorter modules, and students typically enroll in one course per module. Class meeting options include one night per week, online, and hybrid.

Traditional Admissions Policies and Procedures

ADMISSION

Warner Pacific University selects candidates for admission who value a Christ-centered liberal arts education and provide evidence of academic achievement, aptitude, and the ability to benefit from, and contribute to, the opportunities offered at the university.

Campus Visit

Prospective students and their families are strongly encouraged to visit Warner Pacific. This provides an opportunity to explore the campus and meet the people who make Warner Pacific University unique. The Office of Admission offers a variety of campus visitation days or will design an individual visit Monday through Friday, based on the needs and interests of the prospective student. Individual or group visits may be scheduled by contacting the Office of Admission at 1-800-804-1510 or 503-517-1020 weekdays from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. or online at www.warnerpacific.edu. The office may also be reached by email at: admissions@warnerpacific.edu or by FAX at 503-517-1540. Directions to the campus, lodging, and restaurant information along with sites of local interest are available upon request.

When to Apply

Warner Pacific University has an early application deadline of December 1 and a priority application deadline of February 1 for freshman applicants. For transfer students, the application deadline is March 1. Applications for admission will also continue to be accepted throughout the calendar year; students are encouraged to apply for admission at the earliest possible date. An early application for admission provides optimal opportunity for financial aid awards, course selection, and campus housing. Applications are accepted for the fall and spring semesters.

How to Apply

To obtain application materials and information, contact the Office of Admission by phone, 1-800-804-1510 or 503-517-1020; email, admissions@warnerpacific.edu; or FAX, 503-517-1540. Completed materials may be mailed to:

Office of Admission
Warner Pacific University
2219 SE 68th Avenue
Portland, Oregon 97215-4026

Prospective students may also apply online at the admission section of the Warner Pacific University website at www.warnerpacific.edu.

REQUIREMENTS OF THE ADMISSION PROCESS

Undergraduate Student Admission Process

The following are required to complete the application process:

1. A completed Warner Pacific University application for admission, which includes a Community Agreement.
2. A $25.00 non-refundable application fee. The application fee may be waived by submission of one of the following: a College Examination Board Waiver Form or a letter requesting waiver from a high school guidance counselor.
3. A personal statement (short essay).
4. An official high school transcript sent directly from the school or test scores from the General Educational Development Test (GED) are required of all applicants to the freshman class and transfer students who have earned fewer than 12 semester college credits.
5. An official transcript from each college and university attended sent directly from the institution to the Warner Pacific University Office of Admission.
6. Standardized Testing (Optional)

Warner Pacific University is committed to a holistic view of all of our applicants, and it recognizes that an applicant's secondary school record (their curriculum and grades) and standardized testing are strong predictors of success at the University. We also know that research supports – and many students believe – that SAT and ACT scores do not fully represent students' academic achievement, potential and college preparedness, and that the secondary school record is a stronger predictor of success than standardized testing. The University has approved a test-optional policy that will allow those applying for admission the option of not submitting standardized test scores, except in select circumstances. If a student chooses to submit an application without a standardized test (SAT or ACT) score, the admissions review will focus on high school transcripts and admissions essay along with any supplemental documentation of academic ability.

If you choose to submit scores, WPU accepts official examination scores from the Scholastic Assessment Test of the College Examination Board (SAT) or American College Testing Program Assessment (ACT) for applicants to the freshman class and transfer students who have earned less than 12 semester college credits. If five or more years have passed since high school graduation, this recommendation is not applicable. Information regarding registration, test dates, and location may be obtained from a high school guidance counselor, the Warner Pacific University Office of Admission, or from:

SAT College Board: www.collegeboard.com WPU SAT Code: 4595
ACT Program: www.actstudent.org WPU ACT Code: 3486

7. A personal interview and/or references may be required of selected candidates.

International Student Admission

The following are required to complete the application process:

1. A completed Warner Pacific University application for admission, which includes a Community Agreement.
2. A $25.00 non-refundable application fee.
3. A personal statement (short essay).

4. An official secondary school transcript sent directly from the school or test scores from the General Educational Development Test (GED) are required of all applicants to the freshman class and transfer students who have earned fewer than 12 semester college credits.
5. An official transcript of all college and university grades and coursework. All coursework completed outside of the United States should be submitted to an approved evaluation service. Warner Pacific University recommends the following evaluation service providers for coursework completed outside the United States:
 InCred International Credit Evaluations, Web: www.incredevals.org, Email: InCred@naia.org (Required for varsity athletes)
 World Education Service (WES), Web: www.wes.org, Email: info@wes.org
6. Students whose native language is not English are required to demonstrate English proficiency. The TOEFL (70+), IELTS (6.0+), Duolingo English Test (95+) or other appropriate instruments may be used for this purpose. Students may also demonstrate proficiency by presenting one of the following: 1) Transcripts from an accredited US institution of higher education that demonstrate completion of at least 2 English composition courses completed with grades of C- or higher, or 2) Documentation that the student completed their entire secondary school education in the English language.
7. Evidence of adequate financial support by submission of the Warner Pacific University International Student Financial Support Verification Form.

Student Readmission Process

Former Warner Pacific University Students who have withdrawn from the university or have failed to maintain continuous enrollment may apply for readmission. Students who have filed a Leave of Absence Form with the Records Office and have returned within the specified period are not required to apply for readmission. Re-admitted students are required to complete the degree requirements specified in the current catalog at the time of re-entry.

The following are required to complete the application for readmission process:

1. A completed application for readmission, which includes a Community Agreement.
2. A $25.00 non-refundable application fee.
3. An official transcript from each college and university attended in the interim sent directly from the institution to the Office of Admission.
4. A personal statement describing the reason you left Warner Pacific, and why you wish to return.
5. For any student previously placed on academic dismissal, the readmission materials must also include a petition for readmission, explaining the following:
 - The reasons for the academic deficiencies at the time of dismissal,
 - The manner in which the intervening time has been spent,
 - How the student intends to improve academic performance if readmitted, and
 - The reasons why the student should be given favorable consideration for readmission. Note: Prior to applying for readmission, the student is encouraged to successfully complete at least one full-time term at a community college or other accredited college/university in order to demonstrate a renewed commitment to academic progress.

The petition will be reviewed by the Academic Policies Committee to determine eligibility for readmission.

The readmission candidate must be in good financial standing at Warner Pacific University and must be clear of any Warner Pacific University registration holds.

Non-Degree Seeking Student Admission Process

Students who are not seeking a degree or are enrolled in another institution and wish to take a course from Warner Pacific University may apply. Students who wish to maintain non-degree seeking student status may accumulate up to 15 credits at Warner Pacific University while enrolling in no more than five credits in a single semester.

The following are required to complete the application process:

1. A completed non-degree seeking student application for admission, which includes a Community Agreement.
2. A $25.00 non-refundable application fee.

Graduate Student Admission Process

The following are required to complete the application process for Religion and Christian Ministries programs:

1. A completed Warner Pacific University application for admission, which includes a Community Agreement.
2. A $25.00 non-refundable application fee.
3. A completed supplemental program application for the Master of Religion (M.Rel), including essays as specified.
4. An official transcript from the baccalaureate degree granting institution sent directly from the institution to the Warner Pacific University Office of Admission.
5. Completed professional references should be sent directly to Warner Pacific University Office of Admission.

The following are required to complete the application process for the Master of Arts in Teaching program:

1. A completed Warner Pacific University application for admission, which includes a Community Agreement.
2. A bachelor degree with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0.
3. Three recommendations.
4. A $25.00 non-refundable application fee.
5. An official transcript from the baccalaureate degree granting institution sent directly from the institution to the Warner Pacific University Office of Admission.
6. An academic paper demonstrating proficient college level writing ability.
7. A passing score on each section of a TSPC approved basic skills exam (reading, writing, math).
8. A passing score on the Protecting Student and Civil Rights in the Educational Environment exam.

9. A passing score on the ORELA exam in the licensure content area.
10. Fingerprint clearance through TSPC.
11. Completion of all prerequisite courses with a grade of C or better:
 - a. ED 260, Human Development and Learning Theory Implications for P-12 (4).
 - b. ED 515U Classroom Management with Practicum (30 hours) (2).
 - c. ED 535U, Curriculum Planning and Instruction with Practicum (50 hours) (3).
12. A personal interview conducted by a Teacher Education Interview Committee, which serves as the final step to program acceptance.

ADMISSION CRITERIA

To be considered for full admission in good standing, applicants must supply evidence of likely success as a Warner Pacific University student including:

For applicants to the freshman class:

A high school academic record indicating graduation with a minimum of a 2.50 cumulative grade point average (4.00 scale) or completion of the GED with an average score of at least 450.

Scores on the SAT or ACT will be considered in the admission process if submitted. Students who score below a 990 combined SAT (Evidence-based reading and writing + Math) or an ACT composite score of 19 may be requested to provide additional elements as part of their application.

It is recommended that students have taken a college preparatory curriculum including:

- English – four years
- Mathematics – three years
- Laboratory Science – three years
- Social Studies – three years

For transfer students:

An official academic record indicating a minimum of a 2.00 cumulative grade point average (4.00 scale) from each college or university attended. Applicants with fewer than 12 semester college credits should also submit a high school academic record indicating a minimum of a 2.50 cumulative grade point average (4.00 scale) and SAT or ACT scores may also be requested.

For international students:

In addition to the criteria listed above for applicants to the freshman class and transfer students, international students must:

- Demonstrate English proficiency: Students whose native language is not English are required to demonstrate English proficiency. The TOEFL (70+), IELTS (6.0+), Duolingo English Test (95+) or other appropriate instruments may be used for this purpose. Students may also demonstrate proficiency by presenting one of the following: 1) Transcripts from an accredited US institution of higher education that demonstrate completion of at least 2 English composition courses completed with grades of C- or higher, or 2) Documentation that the student completed their entire secondary school education in the English language.
- Provide evidence of adequate financial support through the Financial Support Verification Form.

For readmission students:

Readmission applicants must be in good standing academically, socially, and financially at Warner Pacific University to be eligible to re-enroll. They also must be clear of any Warner Pacific University registration holds.

For non-degree seeking students:

Non-degree seeking student applicants must have completed secondary school or hold a GED Test Certificate, and complete a non-degree seeking application for admission.

For graduate students:

An official academic transcript confirming a completed baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university. The transcript received must also reflect a minimum of a 2.75 cumulative undergraduate grade point average (4.00 scale) for the M.Rel or MABTS programs, or a 3.0 cumulative undergraduate grade point average (4.00 scale) for the MAT program.

ADMISSION DECISION - UNDERGRADUATE

Each candidate for admission is reviewed individually with careful consideration given to academic records, test scores, and the ability to benefit from and contribute to the opportunities offered at the university. Warner Pacific University complies with federal and state requirements for non-discrimination on the basis of handicap, sex, race, color, national or ethnic origin in admission and access to its programs and activities. Warner Pacific University reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant when that decision is determined to be in the best interest of the applicant or the institution. When a candidate has completed the application process, one of the following decisions will be made:

1. Admission in Good Standing

In some cases, students will be granted admission based on self-reported information or unofficial documents pending receipt of official documentation to complete their application file. If official documentation fails to arrive before the end of the first semester, the student will not be allowed to continue classes the next semester.

2. Admission on Academic Warning

First time freshman students whose high school performance demonstrates the need for additional assistance in order to meet their potential for academic success will be granted full admission on academic warning. Students admitted on academic warning will be limited to no more than 14 credits in the first semester, will meet regularly with an academic mentor, and will be required to submit an academic plan of action, which may include enrollment in specific classes. Students admitted on academic warning are expected to complete their first semester with a semester GPA of at least 2.0, and earn at least 12 credits. In cases where the student fails to meet these minimum requirements, the student will be placed on academic probation for the second semester of study.

3. Admission on Academic Probation

A limited number of students who demonstrate ability and motivation to achieve academic success are granted full admission on academic probation and are expected to earn a 2.00 or higher grade point average in the first semester of enrollment. Students admitted on academic probation will be required to participate in provisions to promote academic achievement as established by the Faculty. These provisions may include a reduction in course load, limitation of extra-curricular activities, and enrollment in specific classes or support programs.

4. Denied Admission

ADMISSION DECISION - GRADUATE

Each candidate for admission is reviewed individually with careful consideration given to academic records, test scores, application essay(s), professional references and the ability to benefit from and contribute to the opportunities offered at the university. Warner Pacific University complies with federal and state requirements for non-discrimination on the basis of handicap, sex, race, color, national or ethnic origin in admission and access to its programs and activities. Warner Pacific University reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant when that decision is determined to be in the best interest of the applicant or the institution.

When a candidate has completed the application process, one of the following decisions will be made:

1. Admission in Good Standing

In some cases, students will be granted admission based on self-reported information or unofficial documents pending receipt of official documentation to complete their application file. If official documentation fails to arrive before the end of the first semester, the student will not be allowed to continue classes the next semester.

2. Admission on Academic Probation

Graduate students may be accepted on an academic probation status if any of the following conditions apply:

- Entering the program with an unaccredited degree. The performance of the student will be evaluated after six semester credits of completed coursework to determine eligibility to continue the program.
- Entering the program with a GPA below 2.75. To continue in the program, the student's cumulative GPA at the end of the first semester must be a 3.0 or above. The student's performance will be re-evaluated at the end of the second semester.
- International students entering the program with a TOEFL score below 70.

3. Denied Admission

The appropriate graduate program director determines denial of admission to Warner Pacific University. An applicant denied admission has the right to appeal such a decision in writing to the Graduate Committee, provided the applicant can present relevant additional information indicating ability and motivation to achieve academic success.

NOTIFICATION

Candidates for admission who have completed the application process will receive written notification of their admissions status. Information on the following will be included in this communication:

A tuition deposit of $200.00 is required of all students to confirm intention for enrollment. Deposits for the fall semester are refundable until May 1 and until November 15 for the spring semester. A completed Warner Pacific University Health and Immunization Form is required of all full-time students prior to registration.

All students who will be living in Warner Pacific University residence halls, apartments, or houses are required to complete a residence life application and submit a $250.00 residence deposit. Deposits are refundable until May 1 for the fall semester and November 15 for spring semester.

PAYMENT POLICIES

Student Accounts

Charges to students for all tuition, fees, and housing are recorded in an individual account based on the student identification number assigned upon initial enrollment. Grants, scholarships, and loan payments are recorded as credits against those charges as they are received. The balance due, if any, shown on the student's account statement must be paid in full by August 1st for the fall semester and December 15th for the spring semester, prior to moving into student housing, and upon receipt of subsequent monthly statements. Payments in excess of charges will be refunded to the student unless the student requests the funds be held on the account as pre-payment of future charges. All credit balances must be refunded to the student at the end of each academic year, regardless of student request. The student may apply the money to their student account for the next academic year charges by making a payment on their account.

If a student adds or drops courses, an official change of registration form must be submitted. Fees and charges are adjusted for adding and dropping courses within the allowed add/drop period at the full semester rate(s), with related adjustments in financial aid. Students considering a drop below full-time enrollment status are encouraged to discuss the financial impact of such a decision with Student Financial Services personnel.

Upon registering for classes, students incur charges and are responsible for payments of these charges whether or not they attend. Warner Pacific University, a non-profit institution of higher learning, in establishing any student account, extends credit to students solely for the purpose of financing their education.

Books and Supplies

Warner Pacific University has recently changed the way that textbooks are purchased for students. In order to provide students with maximum dependability and affordability, WPU has chosen to partner with Slingshot. The partnership with Slingshot allows students to receive the correct books in time for the start of the academic year.

All traditional semester program students are automatically enrolled in the Slingshot Digital/Rental program. Students receive their books on campus during the weekend before classes start each semester and are not required to purchase their course materials on their own. Information is provided on the Slingshot website for students to access books provided digitally. Students are required to return all rental books to the on-campus mailroom no later than the day after finals.

Students access their textbook information on the Slingshot website at www.slingshotedu.com.

Payment Plans

Balances remaining after charges minus all financial aid, third party payments, and personal payments require a payment plan. Traditional Semester Student Payment Plans are computed on the academic year ending in April (typically nine months, maximum of 12 months). A pre-authorized plan is available to automatically deduct a monthly payment from a debit or credit card, or work study payroll earnings. A non-refundable enrollment fee equal to 5% of the amount financed will be charged to the student account and included in the payments upon plan approval.

Third-Party Plans

The university participates in programs with third parties such as employers, government agencies, and embassies provided written documentation confirming enrollment in the third party's reimbursement program is submitted to the Office of Student Financial Services by the semester due date. All fees and charges not covered in the arrangement are the responsibility of the student and are due prior to the first day of classes. Delayed employer reimbursements may result in service charges to the student.

Unpaid Account Status

Full payment, or an approved payment arrangement, is required prior to moving into housing or attending classes. A student is placed on unpaid status if satisfactory payment arrangements are not made by the first day of the semester. Failure to contact the Office of Student Financial Services may result in a voided registration. Unpaid balances, including those created or increased after initial clearance, may be subject to a 1.5% monthly service charge (18% annually).

Outstanding Student Account Balances

Failure to meet arranged payment plan terms may result in plan termination. Delinquent monthly accounts, and any deferred payment arrangements, incur service charges. Continuous nonpayment may result in an administrative withdrawal from enrollment and may prohibit the student from registering in subsequent semesters and obtaining official and unofficial transcripts until such obligations are satisfied. Diplomas and transcripts are not released to any student until the student account balance is zero. In addition to withholding transcripts, records, or diplomas until all university expenses are satisfied, Warner Pacific reserves the right to preclude students with past due balances from representing the university in public activities or events.

Students experiencing legitimate extenuating circumstances relating to their finances are encouraged to meet with Student Financial Services personnel for counseling.

Refund Policy

If a student withdraws from all courses or is dismissed from the university, a pro-rated amount of tuition and fees, except applied music fees and housing-related fees, will be refunded based on calendar days attended. After 60 percent of the semester has passed, no refund will be granted. Any refund may be reduced by the tuition deposit, room reservation deposit and meals consumed. Additional charges may arise from the terms and conditions of a residential lease. See the section: Return to Title IV Policy.

Return of Financial Aid Funds

Federal Title IV student aid is disbursed to pay educational expenses while enrolled. When a student withdraws prior to the completion of 60 percent of the semester for which aid was awarded, a pro-rated portion of the aid must be returned to the federal government.

Federal regulations require a written institutional policy for the refund and repayment of federal aid received by students terminating enrollment for any reason during a semester for which payment has been received. Refund calculations to determine the refund percentage are performed using the Federal Title IV refund procedure as prescribed by the Federal Department of Education. Refer to the section in Financial Aid titled Return to Title IV Policy.

The institution is responsible for the return of funds to appropriate federal sources based on the refund percentage identified. The student is responsible for repayment to the institution or the federal government for any balance owed created by the withdrawal.

Warner Pacific University recognizes the challenge students and their families face in financing the cost of attending college and is committed to making a personalized education of excellence affordable. Although the primary responsibility for financing an education lies with the students and their families, the university recognizes financial assistance as a partnership between the student, the student's family, the federal government, and the university.

Warner Pacific University commits substantial resources to need-based institutional financial assistance, and to merit and talent award programs. Financial resources are available from Federal, State, institutional, and private programs.

DETERMINING FINANCIAL NEED

Warner Pacific University uses data collected from the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the federally-calculated Expected Family Contribution (EFC), the Oregon Student Aid Application (ORSAA), or the Warner Pacific Need Application for each financial aid applicant to determine eligibility for both government and institutional aid funds. Parent and student contributions are determined by using federal formulas and institutional policies. The EFC is compared to the annual student budget at Warner Pacific, which includes tuition, fees, room, board, and estimated amounts for supplies, personal expenses, and travel expenses. For those students with an EFC amount that is less than the student budget, financial need exists.

The federal need analysis formula considers parental income and assets as well as such factors as size of the family, age of the parent(s), and the number of children attending college. Also considered are necessary family expenditures such as taxes and the standard cost of living. The formula does not consider discretionary expenses (e.g. consumer indebtedness) in its calculation of the parental contribution. In addition to the parental contribution, students are expected to contribute toward their university expenses from current income, savings, and any other personal resources.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

To receive financial assistance from the university, students must be admitted as degree-seeking students to Warner Pacific University. For Federal assistance students must be U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens, must not be in default on educational loans nor owe repayment of Federal grant funds, and must be making satisfactory academic progress toward graduation (see section titled Satisfactory Academic Progress.)

All students requesting Federal, State, and need-based university funding must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) if eligible. Students should submit a completed FAFSA to the Federal processor as soon after October 1 as possible each year. The FAFSA may be completed online at <https://fafsa.gov>. Students are notified of financial assistance only after being admitted to the university. Students not eligible for Federal aid should submit the ORSAA to the State agency or the Warner Pacific Need Application to the Office of Student Financial Services.

Financial aid is offered annually, and students must reapply beginning October 1 of each year. Applications for aid received after the March 1 priority filing date are awarded subject to the availability of funds. Students can expect their financial aid to be renewed each year, contingent upon available funding, provided they:

1. Submit all necessary information prior to the March 1 priority filing date.
2. Demonstrate a similar level of financial need.
3. Maintain satisfactory academic progress towards graduation.

If a student's demonstrated need changes, the aid package is adjusted accordingly.

The following information may be specific to the traditional semester calendar programs at Warner Pacific University. Please refer to the Professional and Graduate Studies Financial Aid section of this catalog for information specific to the non-standard term calendar programs.

SOURCES OF ASSISTANCE

"Financial Aid" includes resources awarded in the form of gifts (grants and scholarships) and self-help (student employment and loans). Warner Pacific University, Federal and State governments, private organizations or donors, and businesses provide the funding for these resources. The majority of assistance is awarded primarily on the basis of demonstrated financial need. However, the university also offers certain select scholarships to students based on merit without consideration of financial need.

Warner Pacific University Funds

The university awards four-year scholarships and grants to students enrolled in the traditional semester program. For some awards, the student's financial need is considered. Institutional funds are only available to students pursuing their first baccalaureate degree (regardless of whether the first degree was from an accredited institution) and require full-time enrollment except as noted on the website. All institutional aid excludes summer semester and is divided in half by semester, with the exception of students enrolled in the SOIT program, who may use institutional aid for the summer term as well. Please contact the Office of Student Financial Services for specific requirements, restrictions, and application procedures.

Federal Funds

Federal Pell Grant: Federally funded grants awarded to financially needy students meeting the program-specific requirements as determined annually by the federal government.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG): Federally funded grants awarded to students demonstrating exceptional financial need with priority given to Federal Pell Grant recipients. The amount of the grant varies depending on need and available funding.

Federal Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education Grant (TEACH): Federal grant available to students with a junior or senior status intending to teach in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves students from low-income families. A cumulative GPA of 3.25 or ACT/SAT score in the 75th percentile is required to receive this grant. Annually, students must complete the TEACH Grant Agreement to Serve and counseling. Students requesting the TEACH Grant for the first time must complete a WPU TEACH Grant Application. The student GPA is reviewed at the end of each semester to determine eligibility for the grant in subsequent semesters. Students desiring additional information should contact the Office of Student Financial Services and access the website <https://studentaid.gov/TEACH>.

Federal Work Study: Federally funded work program providing the opportunity for students to work part-time during the academic year. Work study positions are generally on-campus with pay rates beginning at minimum wage. Compensation is paid monthly. Eligibility for work study is based on financial need as determined by an analysis of the information provided on the FAFSA. Eligibility may change if additional resources, such as scholarships, are received. Eligibility is not a guarantee of employment.

Federal Direct Stafford Loan (Subsidized and Unsubsidized): The Subsidized loan is awarded on the basis of financial need. The federal government pays all interest on the loan until the student drops below half-time enrollment or meets the maximum eligibility cap. An Unsubsidized loan is not awarded on the basis of need. The student is charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed until it is paid in full. Repayment for the Subsidized and Unsubsidized Stafford Loans typically begins six months after the student is no longer enrolled at least half time or immediately after a cease in enrollment if the student entered repayment status on prior loans before returning to school at least half time. Amounts are based on academic credit level completed and aggregate loan limits apply. The interest rate is fixed at a maximum of 3.73% for undergraduate loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2021. The interest rate is fixed at a maximum of 5.28% for graduate loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2021.

Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) and Graduate PLUS: Parents of dependent students may apply for a Direct PLUS Loan to help pay their child's education expenses as long as certain eligibility requirements are met. Graduate and professional students may apply for PLUS Loans for their own educational expenses. The interest rate is fixed at 6.28% for loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2021. Interest is charged from the date of the first disbursement until the loan is paid in full.

State Funds

The Oregon Office of Student Access and Completion (OSAC) administers State-funded and private awards for Oregon residents attending an Oregon college. Information contained in the FAFSA or an alternate application, the ORSAA, for an Oregon resident is automatically sent to OSAC for use in determining student eligibility for the following programs:

Oregon Opportunity Grants: The State uses the Shared Responsibility Model to determine awards. Some of the factors in the calculation are family size, income, and the number of family members attending college. More information is available at oregonstudentaid.gov.

Private Awards: The Oregon Office of Student Access and Completion (OSAC) administers a number of awards funded by private donors. Though many of these awards have some restrictive eligibility requirements, most recognize outstanding academic achievement. In addition to the FAFSA, students are required to submit a separate application to OSAC by March 1. Applications are available at oregonstudentaid.gov.

Private Funds

Oregon Alliance of Independent Colleges & Universities (OAICU), local churches, service clubs (such as Kiwanis, Elks, Rotary, Masons, Eastern Star, and similar clubs), and employers provide student scholarships. Many reference books and internet web sites are available for use in researching private assistance programs. These can be found at libraries, high schools, the worldwide web, university websites, or college counseling offices.

Gift-aid (Grants, Awards, Scholarships)

Gift-aid funds are credited to the student account by the Office of Student Financial Services at the beginning date of each semester or, if after the academic period begins, upon notification of approval and verification of enrollment.

Veterans Affairs Benefits

Students eligible to receive Veterans Affairs (VA) educational benefits should first check with their Benefits Officer to determine the appropriate program (chapter) under which to apply. Additional information may be found at benefits.va.gov. To establish eligibility at Warner Pacific, the student should submit:

- A copy of the Certificate of Eligibility awarded by the VA
- A signed VA Education Benefit Statement of Rights and Responsibilities form (available from the WP admission counselor)

If VA educational benefits have been received at another institution prior to attending Warner Pacific, the student must submit a VA Form 22-1995, Request for Change of Program or Place of Training.

Please note that the Cybersecurity programs at Warner Pacific University are not approved for certification for VA educational benefits.

Any student requesting certification for VA educational benefits while attending Warner Pacific University is required to submit transcripts from all previously attended institutions for review of prior credit. This must include the Joint Services transcript with a record of the student's military training so that it can be evaluated for possible university credit.

Once a student has submitted a Certificate of Eligibility (COE) for educational assistance under chapter 31 or chapter 33, Warner Pacific University will permit that student to participate in the course of education even if payment is pending from the Department of Veterans Affairs for up to 90 days. Warner Pacific University will not impose any penalty - including the assessment of late fees, the denial of access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities, or the requirement to borrow additional funds - due to the delayed disbursement of funding from the Department of Veterans Affairs under chapter 31 or 33. The student is still responsible for any additional payment that is required to account for any difference between the student's financial obligation to WPU and the VA education benefit disbursement.

Loans

Loan eligibility is listed on the student aid award letter and processed by the Office of Student Financial Services. The Office of Student Financial Services will process the awards in the amount stated on the award letter unless notified by the student of a reduction. If a lesser amount is desired, the student should follow the instructions given on the electronic award letter notification and indicate a reduction on MyWP. The Office of Student Financial Services is electronically notified and will review and evaluate changes made to awards on MyWP. If unable to make this adjustment electronically, contact the Office of Student Financial Services directly for assistance by calling 503.517.1091 or emailing financialaid@warnerpacific.edu.

In general, funds are received at the beginning of each semester, according to Federal regulations. Typically, entrance counseling and a Master Promissory Note (MPN) must be completed prior to funds being placed on the student account if the student is a first time borrower. Most loans, including Federal Direct Stafford Loans, are received by electronic funds transfer. If hard copy checks are received, a notification is sent to the student regarding the check for endorsement and application to the student account. The Office of Student Financial Services credits loan funds to student accounts and requests refunds on overpayments.

Student Loan Advocate Disclosure for Washington State Students

For Washington State residents seeking information and resources about student loan repayment or seeking to submit a complaint relating to your student loans or student loan servicer, please visit www.wsac.wa.gov/loan-advocacy or contact the Student Loan Advocate at loanadvocate@wsac.wa.gov.

Campus Employment

Students may be employed through the Federal Work Study and Institutional Student Employment programs and are paid monthly. All positions pay at least minimum wage. Earnings are not automatically applied to student account balances; however, monthly student account payments are available through a payroll deduction plan. The Office of Student Financial Services manages the student employment programs at the university.

EXCESS FUNDS AVAILABILITY

Excess Title IV funds are available to students within two weeks of funds receipt. Excess funds are deposited directly into the student's bank account. Students may also request the excess funds be held on their student account for future charges or to have their refund check mailed to their permanent address on file in the Records Office. Proof of attendance forms may be required (usually in the first two weeks of the semester) and are available in the Office of Student Financial Services. Proof of attendance forms (if required) must be signed by at least one instructor. Warner Pacific University does not advance funds prior to receipt of the proof of attendance.

ACCOUNT ADJUSTMENTS

If a student adds or drops courses, an official change of registration must be submitted to the Registrar. Complete withdrawal from the university and all courses follows the withdrawal process outlined below. Fees and charges are appropriately adjusted at the full semester rate(s), with related adjustments in financial aid.

WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

The procedure for withdrawing from all courses is as follows:

1. Obtain a withdrawal form provided by the Retention and Student Success Manager.
2. Secure required signatures and complete the form.
3. Return the completed form to the Records Office.

RETURN TO TITLE IV POLICY

Federal regulations require each educational institution to have a written policy for the refund and repayment of federal aid received by students withdrawing during a semester for which payment has been received. These policies are effective only if the student completely terminates enrollment (i.e., cancels registration, withdraws, or is dismissed) or stops attending all classes before completing more than 60 percent of the enrollment period. The Return to Title IV Policy also applies to Leaves of Absence (LOA) in the traditional semester program.

Warner Pacific restores to the appropriate federal sources a proportional share of the institutional charges for which the student has been paid. A repayment by the student may be required when money has been disbursed to a student from financial aid funds in excess of the amount of aid the student earned during the semester. The law assumes that a student uses Title IV student aid to pay institutional charges: tuition, fees, room and board. The amount of Title IV aid earned is determined by multiplying the total Title IV aid (excluding FWS) for which the student qualified, by the percentage of time during the semester in which the student was enrolled. A copy of the worksheet used for this calculation may be obtained from the Office of Student Financial Services. The responsibility for returning unearned aid is allocated between the school and the student. Please refer to the Warner Pacific website under the heading of Consumer Information for examples.

In accordance with federal regulations, the Return to Title IV calculation is made in the following priority order:

- Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan
- Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan
- Federal PLUS Loan
- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal SEOG
- Federal TEACH Grant

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Warner Pacific University is mandated by the U.S. Department of Education per Federal regulations to qualitatively (grade-based) and quantitatively (time-related) monitor the academic progress of financial aid recipients. The standard is cumulative and includes all periods of enrollment, even those in which the student did not receive financial assistance.

The Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) calculation is performed for all matriculating students attempting credits within the term. This includes students that withdraw at any time during the term. The SAP status assigned is taken into consideration should a student re-enroll.

Standards-Undergraduate Students: Undergraduate students must maintain at least a 2.00 cumulative and term grade point average (GPA) and earn the minimum number of credits for their enrollment status:

- Full time – at least 12 credits
- Three-quarter time – at least nine credits
- Half time – at least six credits
- Less than half time – one to five credits

Standards-Graduate Students: Graduate students must maintain at least a 3.00 cumulative and term grade point average, and earn the minimum number of credits for the enrollment status:

- Full time – at least six credits
- ½ time – at least three credits
- Less than ½ time – one to two credits

In the event that a student's performance is found to be unsatisfactory, the university notifies the student of the current status and the impact of this unsatisfactory progress on financial aid eligibility. Financial assistance includes but is not limited to Federal, State, and institutional assistance including employee remit.

Note: The policies that govern financial assistance do not have any bearing on student academic standing monitored through the Office of Academic Affairs; they are separate policies.

Qualitative Standard

The GPA is computed by multiplying the credit hours by the quality points for each letter grade received; the quality points for all courses recorded are totaled and the number is divided by the total number of letter grade credits. For courses repeated by the student, all grades remain on the transcript, but only the highest grade is included in the GPA calculation. Financial aid can be applied toward successfully completed courses repeated raise the grade one time only.

Quantitative Standard

Full-time undergraduate students must complete at least 12 credits per semester while attending Warner Pacific University. Full-time graduate students must complete at least six credits per semester while attending the university. The quantitative measure for less than full-time attendance is calculated as a percentage of the full-time standard. Periodic evaluations monitor the student's pace of progression. No-credit designations such as "W" (withdrawal), "I" (Incomplete), or "IP" (In Progress) are considered unsatisfactory completion of a course.

Maximum Time Frame

Full-time matriculating students are eligible to receive financial aid for a maximum of 150 percent of the time required to complete a degree. In general, a baccalaureate degree program is 120 credits. The maximum number of credits for which a student may be eligible to receive federal financial aid is 180 (120 x 150%). All course work included in credits toward completion are considered in the calculation for time frame eligibility. Transfer credits accepted by Warner Pacific University toward the program are included in the calculation of attempted and completed credits in determining the total 150% time frame. Once it becomes apparent the student is unable to complete the program within the 150% credit limit, financial aid is suspended. Students with suspended financial aid may submit an appeal for reinstatement.

Unsatisfactory Academic Progress

Satisfactory academic progress, as indicated by semester and cumulative GPA, and number of credits earned, is monitored each semester by the Office of Student Financial Services. Students failing to meet satisfactory academic progress standards are placed on financial aid warning and issued a letter alerting the student of the need to correct the deficiency. The warning status allows the student to maintain financial aid for one additional semester. At the end of the additional semester, if the student achieves satisfactory academic progress standards, the status is lifted. If the student does not achieve satisfactory academic progress standards at the end of the warning period, the student is placed on financial aid suspension and is denied further financial aid from Warner Pacific University until the standard is met. Students whose financial aid has been suspended may appeal for reconsideration of financial aid eligibility. (see appeals section).

Appeals

A student with suspended aid may appeal for reconsideration of financial aid eligibility by providing an email or physical letter in writing to the Director of Financial Aid. The appeal must include a statement regarding the reason the student failed to make satisfactory academic progress and changes made that will allow the student to achieve satisfactory academic progress during the next evaluation period. Appeals are adjudicated by the Financial Aid Advisory Committee (FAAC). An appeal may be approved if the FAAC determines the student has addressed the issues and has created systems and support to allow satisfactory academic progress during the subsequent evaluation period. Decisions by the FAAC are final. Students will be notified in writing (posted or email) of appeal decisions. If the FAAC approves an appeal, the student is placed on financial aid probation for one semester and is eligible to receive financial aid. At the end of the probation period, if the student achieves satisfactory academic progress standards by meeting the requirements that the FAAC set forth, the status is lifted. If the student does not achieve satisfactory academic progress standards at the end of the probation period, the financial aid is suspended. Students may appeal again if aid is suspended.

Circumstances under which a student is permitted to submit an appeal letter include, but are not limited to, death of a relative, injury or illness of the student, or other special circumstances.

Re-establishing Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress and Financial Aid

A student with suspended aid may re-establish financial aid eligibility if an appeal is approved by the FAAC or by completing credits without the benefit of financial aid from Warner Pacific. For the latter, an undergraduate student must complete 12 credits in a term with a term and cumulative GPA of 2.0. Graduate students must complete six credits in a term with a term and cumulative GPA of 3.0. Following the completion of the credits, the student may submit a written appeal to the FAAC for reinstatement of financial aid.

Policies listed in this section represent a portion of the information available in The Squire, WPU's student handbook. In the event there is a difference in co-curricular policies listed in the catalog and student handbook, the information in The Squire will take precedence.

WARNER PACIFIC COMMUNITY

Warner Pacific University offers a Christ-centered, academically rigorous, leadership focused, learning community in which faculty, staff, and students come together to share, explore and solidify each individual's ideas, values and beliefs. Warner Pacific is a university that strives to develop students who are characterized by a strong personal faith, integrity, transformation, a sense of mutual responsibility, and a pursuit of personal excellence. The Warner Pacific community emphasizes seamless, holistic learning that occurs in classrooms, in residence halls, on the gym floor, in the dining hall, at worship, and at social gatherings. The Warner Pacific student population is comprised of students ranging in age from 17 to well past retirement, and originating from across the United States and many foreign countries.

COMMUNITY AGREEMENT

Warner Pacific is a university sponsored by the Church of God. Its mission, programs, and campus life are all informed by three basic traditions: Christ-centered, urban, and liberal arts.

Campus standards have grown out of the following qualities of campus life valued at Warner Pacific University:

- Love of God, self and neighbor
- Respect for others
- Honesty and integrity
- Reconciliation
- Freedom within restraint
- Health and wellness
- Spiritual growth and maturity
- The joy and abundance of life

Students coming to this university agree to conduct themselves as responsible citizens and actively contribute to the quality of social, spiritual, and intellectual life. Violation of university policies including the Community Agreement, subjects students to disciplinary action that could include warning, probation, or dismissal from the university.

A full description of the Community Agreement appears in The Squire, the student handbook. Abiding by the Community Agreement is a condition of students' continued enrollment at Warner Pacific University.

The Squire is accessible on the university's website and may be viewed at <http://www.warnerpacific.edu/student-dashboard/>.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS of WARNER PACIFIC UNIVERSITY (ASWPU)

Leadership Development and Student Programs exists to cultivate a community where students are engaged in relevant and diverse programming, empowered to lead, and inspired to act justly. The Associated Students of Warner Pacific University (ASWPU) is the executive body, composed of duly elected and appointed officers and representatives. ASWPU consists of six major branches: Student Government, The Campus Activities Board (CAB), The Student Diversity Council, Residence Life, Campus Ministries, and Service Learning.

Membership in campus interest groups and clubs is open to all fee-paying students; their activities are carried out under student leadership with the counsel and advisement of faculty and staff. The workings of student government are outlined in detail in the student handbook, The Squire, which is available online.

Clubs and Organizations

A variety of clubs and organizations are available to students who meet the stated requirements. In addition, several faculty and institutional committees have student membership. See The Squire for specific information.

Student Government

The purpose of Student Government shall be to organize an active voice expressing student sentiment for the control of all matters of general student concern and to develop a spirit of Christian fellowship and service. They are the representative board through which the student body acts on all matters pertaining to student rights and responsibilities. Membership in Student Government (SG) is comprised of six officers who are elected or appointed for one-year terms. They operate under the guidance of the Student Government By-laws.

Campus Activities Board

Warner Pacific's Campus Activities Board (CAB) is a ministry and student leadership vehicle designed to build campus-wide unity through quality activities and services for the student body. It is the goal to help students get acquainted, involved and invested in the community. CAB coordinates and administers student programming on campus. Membership in CAB is comprised of five officers who are elected or appointed for one-year terms. CAB understands that social, physical, and educational activities play an important role in a students' overall experience and that they are key to developing a strong sense of community on campus. Student Activities help shape attitudes, affect one's readiness to learn, and impact the quality of the college experience. CAB is responsible for programming in intramurals, outdoor recreation, special events, and the Student Union. These activities are student-led, enabling students to be involved in the planning and leadership of campus-wide programming. wpulife.com/connect.

Student Diversity Council

The Student Diversity Council exists to fulfill the WPU mission by actively promoting justice on campus and in the broader Portland community. This is accomplished through inclusive events and programs that encourage awareness, education, advocacy, activism, and collaboration.

The Student Diversity Council is composed of elected and appointed student representatives. These students work throughout the year, in conjunction with the Office of Diversity and other leadership groups, to promote the mission of the Council and the Institutional Diversity Framework consisting of these five components: Multicultural Education, Multicultural Programming, Social Justice, Community Collaborations, and Equitable Campus Culture.

Residence Life

Residence Life exists to cultivate a responsible living and learning environment where holistic growth takes place through dynamic relationships and relevant and diverse programs. A team of ten trained Resident Assistants (RAs) works to build relationships, act as a connection point and resource and to engage in community on campus. By maintaining a safe and secure living environment, Residence Life seeks to offer dynamic educational and social programming that furthers the building of community and enriches the overall student experience.

Living in residence at Warner Pacific University carries with it a distinctive set of privileges and responsibilities. Students who reside on campus live in a community with their peers and are entrusted with the responsibility to care for each other in a cooperative and communicative fashion. This environment provides students with enriching experiences, which may be an impetus for healthy interpersonal relationships. Because living on campus (in residence) can have a significant impact on one's learning process, personal development, and faith journey, all single students under 21 years of age who are enrolled full-time (12 or more semester credits), who have not established a permanent residence for 12 months or longer and who do not live with parents or legal guardians, are required to be a part of the residence life program. Living options consist of residence halls, one and two bedroom apartments, and houses.

Residential living is more than sleeping, studying, and enjoying friends; it provides an opportunity for students to integrate their academic, spiritual and interpersonal learning. Living in residence enables students to develop the ability to adjust their personal needs to achieve the goals of true community. Requests for permission to live off-campus must be submitted by petition to the Housing Coordinator. Questions and concerns about on-campus living are handled directly by the Office of Student Life.

Campus Ministries

Campus Ministries cultivates the love of God by providing quality pastoral care, developing transformational leaders, and creating community by serving the campus and the city. Often, college is a place for students to explore their spirituality and reflect on their religious traditions. This can be an intense time of spiritual awakening which can lead to a deeper understanding of one's faith in Christ. The Campus Ministries team is committed to aiding in each student's spiritual maturing regardless of one's faith tradition. Campus Ministries is comprised of a Chapel Worship Leadership Team and a Small Groups Leadership Team. For more information, visit the Campus Ministries Office.

As a diverse "Community of Faith" with Christ as the centerpiece, Warner Pacific is committed to finding its unity in Christ. Students, staff and faculty come from a variety of backgrounds reflecting differing worship styles, theology, and doctrines. The community employs the principle, "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, tolerance; and in all things, charity."

Campus Ministries at the university is offered in numerous ways. First, weekly chapels are designed to relevantly engage the WPU community around our mission as a Christ-centered, Urban, Diverse, and Liberal Arts environment. Second, students have the opportunity to participate in student-led meditative chapels that provide experiences for practicing the rewarding and challenging work of spiritual disciplines such as community, prayer, and reflection. Third, small group and discipleship offerings encourage deepened community and accountability. Fourth, a thriving and challenging service program is designed to meet the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of the Portland area residents, which includes our annual Common Day of Service and the Martin Luther King Jr. College Service Day.

Because spiritual formation is a central part of the health and development of our community, students are encouraged to be involved with chapel on the campus and service in the community. The campus ministry agreement follows:

- Every residential student enrolled in 12 credits or more is required to attend a minimum of 15 chapels per semester. These community chapels are on Tuesday and Thursday in McGuire Auditorium. Fifteen credits represent roughly half of the chapels offered in the semester. In addition, every full-time residential student is required to have ten service hours. These hours can be acquired by direct service and social action off campus in the greater Portland area. The Department of Service Learning provides many opportunities for service hours.
- Every commuter student enrolled in 12 credits or more will be required to have a combination of chapels and service hours that equal 25. Commuter students may get up to 20 hours in either chapel or service and must have a minimum of five credits in both categories at the end of the semester.

Information on how to petition out of chapel credits and fines for missed credits can be found in The Squire, the student handbook.

Service Learning

Service learning at WPU seeks to engage students in direct service that is rooted in social justice and meets the tangible needs of our neighbors in the city of Portland and beyond. We do this through curricular and co-curricular collaborative service opportunities and facilitated reflection specifically focused on these seven categories: Economic Equity, Ecological Justice, Racial/Ethnic Equity, Youth and Child Support, Support for the Elderly and Disabled, Gender Equity, and Interfaith Relationship.

Service at Warner Pacific University is work that is done to meet the tangible needs of our neighbors in the city of Portland and beyond. Through a variety of engaging curricular and co-curricular service learning opportunities, students will be consistently involved in experiential learning and gain the ability to apply learning beyond the classroom. At Warner Pacific, students are encouraged to engage in the university's Christ-centered identity by utilizing their skills, passions, and education to work toward social justice through consistent direct service in the community. Students will engage in many service opportunities to utilize their skills and interests for the betterment of our community. Occasional service opportunities will be hosted by Service Learning (such as Common Day of Service and MLK Day of Service) and courses with service learning components. In addition, students have access to volunteering resources through Service Learning (such as the Local Connect program) which will assist in connecting with community organizations.

CAMPUS SERVICES AND RESOURCES

Varsity Athletics

Competitive athletics for men and women are an important part of the Warner Pacific University educational experience. Athletics bring excitement and a sense of pride and commitment to the overall collegiate environment. Warner Pacific's athletic program epitomizes the university's commitment to provide the total educational experience that promotes student development at all levels. Consistent with Warner Pacific's mission, the university emphasizes the integration of athletic and academic opportunities, where faith, scholarship and athletics lead to service.

Warner Pacific University fields women's teams in basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, track and field, volleyball, and wrestling. Men's teams participate in basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, track and field, and wrestling. The teams compete in the Cascade Collegiate Conference. On a national level, Warner Pacific is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA). For further information on the athletic programs at Warner Pacific, visit www.wpknights.com.

Intramural Program

The purpose of the Intramural Program is to provide an opportunity for the Warner Pacific University community to participate in a variety of competitive and non-competitive sports and activities. The Intramural Program seeks to compliment the educational endeavors of the university and is oriented toward every population on campus.

University Counseling Center

The Counseling Center's goal is to provide a supportive and confidential environment to address student concerns and needs. Services are designed to help develop deeper self-awareness, strengthen coping skills, foster health relationships, and improve academic performance and community engagement. Located in the Caldwell House between the Gotham Science building and the Tabor Terrace Apartments, the center is a comfortable place to relax in-between or after classes.

Counseling services focus on engaging individuals in the assessment of their own strengths and in using these strengths to address obstacles that arise as they progress towards graduation. Communication strategies, strengthening relationships, time management, stress reduction, identity development, and healthy living are just some of the areas of personal growth that are typically encountered by university students. Should life stressors become overwhelming to any student, counselors at the Counseling Center are prepared to support students in crisis situations. While attending to the need to protect confidentiality, counselors actively work with an individual's support network and community resources in order to provide the care necessary to weather personal emergencies.

More information about the University Counseling Center and how to schedule an appointment may be found at www.warnerpacific.edu/student-success-engagement/health-wellness/counseling-services/.

Student Health Insurance and Immunizations

All students are encouraged to carry their own personal health insurance, while Accident Insurance is automatically provided for students enrolled in six or more credits as a part of their general fees. Information on several good health insurance plans is available as needed from the Office of Student Financial Services.

Oregon State Law requires that all full-time students show proof of receiving a second dose of measles-containing vaccine. Students are also asked to provide record of receiving all immunizations mandated by the Oregon Department of Health Services for all public and private schools. For more information, see: <http://oregon.gov/DHS/ph/imm/school/index.shtml>. In addition, all students are required to provide a completed Health Information form. Completed forms should be submitted at registration. All Health History information is kept confidential and requires student permission for any further distribution. International students have additional requirements, as follows:

1. Oregon law prohibits foreign students with non-immigrant visas and no measles immunizations from starting classes (or even coming on campus) until they have at least their first measles immunization; they must then get the second measles immunization within a month after school starts or they cannot continue.
2. They must provide proof of tuberculosis Screening (PPD/Mantoux) within six months of entering college.

Student Vehicles

All students with vehicles on campus must register their vehicles to comply with campus regulations. A parking permit may be purchased for $65.00 per semester. To obtain on-campus parking privileges, the following information must be provided: the vehicle make, model, license number and student's name, student ID number and phone number. Parking regulations are strictly enforced (see The Squire for automobile and parking regulations). A fine of $20 will be imposed for each violation on all improperly parked vehicles, with the exception of official university guests. In addition, improperly parked, unregistered student vehicles may be assessed motor vehicle search costs from DMV plus the cost of a parking permit.

Weather Closures

In the case of inclement weather and adverse road conditions, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will make a decision about closure. School closure information is available on the WPU website as well as on various local radio and TV stations. In addition, Warner Pacific University has implemented a messaging system to alert students, faculty and staff of closures due to inclement weather or other emergencies. To receive this notification, students must sign up at the link noted below, which will give the option of receiving this notification via a text message to a cellular phone, or by email. Please note that students will receive notification for emergencies and school closures only. <https://warnerpacific.omnilert.net/subscriber.php>

In the case of inclement weather, safety is a priority. Even though classes are in session, students should use discretion regarding weather concerns in their area and communicate with their instructors regarding any weather-related absence. Whenever possible, course content will be posted on the course's MyWP Classes site to enable students to participate in class even if they are not able to travel.

Career Services

Warner Pacific Career Services is dedicated to supporting students as they identify their interests, talents, and skills and explore potential career paths.

- Professional development is an integral part of the Career Service experience! As students are able to more fully understand their values and interests, they are better prepared to translate them into meaningful career and life plans. Individualized career mentoring, vocational assessments, and library resources can be scheduled by appointment.
- Workshops – Career Services offers workshops covering a wide variety of topics such as resume building, cover letters, and interviewing techniques to assist them in finding fulfilling work in today’s competitive job market.
- Weekly Employment Opportunities – Daily updates of the latest jobs, internships, volunteer opportunities, and local career fairs are posted on WPU’s Handshake (warnerpacific.joinhandshake.com)
- Resume and cover letter support – Appointments can be scheduled through via Careerservices@warnerpacific.edu.
- Online Resources and Career Exploration Tools – Our online resources can easily be accessed from anywhere and our career services support team are on hand to assist students with navigating the interpretation.

For more information or to schedule an appointment contact Careerservices@warnerpacific.edu.

Disability Services

Support for students with diagnosed disabilities is provided by Warner Pacific and is consistent with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Appropriate academic assistance, classroom and housing accommodations are available to students who have been diagnosed with a qualifying disorder. Students seeking academic or residential accommodations should contact the Disabilities Resources Coordinator or the Director of Academic Success to arrange an appointment to discuss academic or housing challenges and to develop an accommodation plan. In order to draft a plan, current assessment records will need to be submitted.

STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

Warner Pacific University does not discriminate in its student admission and employment practices and provides equal opportunity for all student applicants and employees regardless of race, color, sex, national origin, disability, age, veteran status, and any other status protected by laws and regulations.

All employment decisions, including hiring, promotions, compensation, benefits, transfers, and terminations are made in a manner that does not discriminate against individuals in the categories discussed above. Because Warner Pacific is a Christian liberal arts university, the university exercises its legal right to hire Christian employees to fulfill its mission and purpose.

GRIEVANCE POLICY

The grievance process exists to provide students a process to resolve disputes between other students, staff, faculty and other members of the community, for example, disputes within learning teams or other conflicts of a personal nature between students or between students and staff or faculty. This process is not intended to apply to complaints or problems related to alleged sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking, discrimination and/or harassment that is prohibited by law, nor does it exist to resolve academic disputes.

Purpose

As stated in the Community Agreement, “As an expression of the university’s urban mission and identity, students are expected to live out Christ’s command to love their neighbors both on and off campus. Civility and love are to be demonstrated in personal interactions, campus and community life, and in service to others.” Therefore, this grievance process provides an opportunity for students to work out their differences in a safe and structured manner.

Procedure

The specific steps of the grievance procedure are listed below.:

When a student has a grievance with another member of the community, they may file a report with the Office of Student Affairs: 503.517.1088.

A judicial officer will review the report and determine one of the following actions:

- a. The student has a legitimate grievance against a member of our community and the student will be encouraged to attempt a resolution in a one on one meeting. The student bringing the grievance is responsible for providing a written summary of the meeting.
- b. The student has a legitimate grievance against a member of the community and the student will be provided an opportunity to resolve the issue with an advisor, another staff or faculty member, or a member of the Caldwell House counseling staff. In such cases, the mediator will meet with each individual or group involved prior to the mediation meeting. The mediator will also provide a written summary of the meeting.
- c. The student has not provided enough evidence to demonstrate a valid grievance.

If step (a) above fails to provide resolution it may be determined that step (b) is necessary for a healthy resolution. If step (a) and (b) fail to provide a resolution the case will be referred to the Director of Student Life. The Director of Student Life will decide on a resolution. If either party is not satisfied with the resolution, they may appeal to ruling per the appeal instructions outlined in the student judicial process.

STUDENT COMPLAINT PROCESS

Any student with a complaint who feels unfairly treated has the right to be heard fairly and promptly. The university recognizes that disputes may sometimes arise and expects the parties involved to resolve the conflict informally whenever possible. If resolution cannot be reached, a formal complaint process will be provided in order to assure impartial and equitable resolution for those conflicts. This complaint process may not be invoked for matters that have independent appeal processes established. Examples of these include, but are not limited to Academic Appeals, Course Policies, Campus Life Standards, FERPA, Financial Aid, Grades, Title IX, Discrimination, and Harassment.

The following matters are not grievable:

- Federal and State laws
- Administrative Procedures Act (ORS Chapter 183)
- Employment and personnel decisions
- Policies of the Board of Trustees
- Rules and procedures adopted by the State Board of Higher Education (Oregon Higher Education Coordinating Commission)

Students who have a grievance with another member of the community may file a report in the Office of Student Life following the procedures outlined above.

Students should attempt to resolve any grievances they may have with their school first. Should attempts to resolve these problems with appropriate school officials fail, or should the student be dissatisfied with the final outcome of the college complaint process, then the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC), can respond to a formal complaint. Students may contact the Higher Education Coordinating Commission, 3225 25th St. SE, Salem, OR 97302 or by sending an email to complaints@hecc.oregon.gov. Students may also access our Complaints web page at <https://www.oregon.gov/highered/about/Pages/complaints.aspx> or visit the complaints page at NC-SARA's website: <https://nc-sara.org/student-complaints>.

Complaints about educational quality not satisfied by internal processes may be directed to the university's accrediting body, the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (<http://www.nwccu.org/Complaints/ComplaintProcess.htm>).

Consumer protection and other civil complaints can be filed with the Oregon Department of Justice Consumer Complaints (<http://www.doj.state.or.us/consumer/pages/index.aspx>).

The Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC) has authority to investigate student complaints against specific schools. WSAC may not be able to investigate every student complaint. Visit <https://www.wsac.wa.gov/student-complaints> for information regarding the WSAC complaint process.

For Washington State residents seeking information and resources about student loan repayment or seeking to submit a complaint relating to your student loans or student loan servicer, please visit www.wsac.wa.gov/loan-advocacy or contact the Student Loan Advocate at loanadvocate@wsac.wa.gov.

If you're in a dispute about your federal student aid, contact the Federal Student Aid Ombudsman Group as a last resort: <https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/repay-loans/disputes/prepare>. The Ombudsman Group is dedicated to helping resolve disputes related to the federal student aid programs, including Direct Loans, Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program loans, Perkins Loans, and grant programs.

TITLE IX COMPLIANCE

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 ("Title IX"), 20 U.S.C. Sec. 1681, et seq., and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in any federally funded education program or activity. In compliance with this federal policy, Warner Pacific University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its education programs and activities and has designated the following individuals as Title IX compliance officers:

Title IX Coordinators

Felita Y. Singleton, Associate Dean of Students, Interim Title IX Coordinator for Traditional Students
Office Location: Smith Hall 211, Office phone number: 503.517.1097, Email: fsingleton@warnerpacific.edu

Dr. Lori Jass, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs, Interim Title IX Coordinator for Professional and Graduate Studies Students

All inquiries concerning the application of Title IX including inquiries about the university's sex discrimination, sexual harassment, or sexual assault policies may be referred to the appropriate Title IX officer.

Named or confidential reports may also be filed via the campus' online reporting form at <https://wpulife.com/report>

Full information regarding the Title IX policy at Warner Pacific University can be reviewed online at <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/title-ix/>

Non Retaliation

The university's intent is to always be mindful of the complainant's well-being, and take ongoing steps to protect the complainant from retaliation or harm. Retaliation against the complainant or any person who makes a report or participates in a disciplinary proceeding or investigation of alleged Title IX or discriminatory harassment violations, whether by students or university employees, will not be tolerated. Students, who believe they are experiencing retaliation because of their involvement, should immediately report it to the university's Title IX Coordinator.

Traditional Academic Policies, Procedures and Standards

Warner Pacific University abides by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Sec. 438, PUB. L90-247, as amended, which sets forth requirements for the protection of students' rights to privacy in their educational records and gives them the right to inspect such records to seek correction of errors. This statement serves as notice to all students of their rights under the law.

STUDENT RECORDS POLICIES

Warner Pacific University adheres to a policy of protecting students' rights to restrict release of personal information within their university records. All student academic files, supporting documents, and other records shall be maintained by Warner Pacific University staff employed for that purpose. The Registrar maintains transcripts of educational records, containing information only about academic status, in the Records Office. Every student is guaranteed access to their own records. The Registrar or a designee will advise a student of procedures for handling a request for correcting errors in the records. Disclosure of a student's records to faculty and administrative officers shall be for internal educational purposes, routine administrative and statistical purposes or legitimate inquiries made by instructors to guide the student in a specific academic area.

In general, information from a student's record will not be released to anyone outside the institution except with the prior written consent of the student or upon presentation of a court order or subpoena. As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education's FERPA regulations expanded the circumstances under which academic records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records — including Social Security Numbers, grades, or other private information — may be accessed without student consent. First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities ("Federal and State Authorities") may allow access to individual records and PII without student consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to academic records and PII without student consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when the university objects to or does not request such research. In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without student consent PII from academic records, and they may track student participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about students that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

Students who have questions about their grade records or any of the registration procedures may inquire at the Records Office. To maintain confidentiality of student records, only authorized persons presenting identification may review students' files.

Directory Information

The university considers the following items to be student directory information and may be released to anyone upon request: name, mailing address, campus email address, date of birth, photograph, enrollment dates and status (full time, half time, etc), major field of study, participation in recognized activities and sports, degrees and awards received, educational institutions previously attended, and hometown. Height and weight of student athletes may be released for appropriate purposes.

Students who do not wish to have directory information released by the university must file that request in the Records Office and must re-file the request annually.

Student Records Retention Policy

The university is committed to student record management in accordance with applicable laws and regulations as well as established best practices, reasonable business judgment, and common sense. Management of records must meet legal standards, optimize the use of both electronic and physical space, preserve the university's history, and ensure that redundant, outdated and useless records are destroyed.

The Records Office is responsible for ensuring appropriate use, retention and destruction of the primary student record file by establishing and following record management practices consistent with this policy. Other campus departments (admissions, advising, student finance, academic divisions, etc) also create and maintain student records in the disposition of their duties. These departments and offices are expected to follow the standards for student record management as outlined in this policy.

All confidential records are stored in manner that prohibits access by unauthorized individuals. For physical records, this means storage in locked offices or cabinets in appropriate locations. Access to physical spaces is controlled by the Campus Safety Department. For electronic records, this means storage in the electronic database with access through means of a confidential login. Access to electronic records is controlled by the Information Technology Department.

Warner Pacific University contracts with an external partner for the secure shredding of confidential paper documents at the time of disposal.

Student transcripts, academic dismissal records, class rosters, final grade rosters, and graduation lists are maintained permanently by the institution. Other portions of the student record (registration forms, major changes, advising files, applications for graduation, etc.) are maintained for 5 years after the student's last date of enrollment and then destroyed.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

Because of the changing nature of certain areas of study, Warner Pacific has set specific limitations on the age of courses completed in identified subjects: courses older than ten years are not acceptable to satisfy the General Education Core Health requirements; courses older than 20 years are not acceptable to satisfy the General Education Core Social Science requirement; courses older than 20 years must be reviewed by the Natural Sciences and Health Division faculty to determine acceptability to satisfy the General Education Core Science requirement. Courses deemed to fall outside of the Statute of Limitations may be applied toward elective degree requirements. In addition, most academic divisions have established specific statute limitations on courses applied toward major and minor requirements. Those statutes are specified in the individual academic division sections. All statutes of limitations are specific to the student's catalog of entry, so long as continuous enrollment is maintained.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Accredited Colleges and Universities- Undergraduate

Warner Pacific evaluates credits from regionally accredited colleges and universities for applicability toward General Education Core, major or elective requirements. In addition, Warner Pacific University evaluates coursework from schools and colleges which are accredited by other agencies, provided the institution is listed in Accredited Institutions of Postsecondary Education, published by the American Council on Education (ACE). No more than 40 semester credits may be accepted from vocational-technical fields of study, and these credits will be considered as electives. Credits from non-regionally accredited institutions will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for transfer. Courses completed with an earned grade of "C-" or higher, may be evaluated by faculty in the appropriate academic division for General Education Core application.

Lower division courses taken at four-year institutions and all courses taken at two-year colleges will be counted only as lower-division credit (i.e., 100 or 200 level). Upper division and graduate courses taken at four-year institutions may be used to satisfy upper division (i.e., 300 or 400 level) requirements. In all cases, courses must be transferred from an appropriately accredited institution. A grade of "D" cannot be transferred to satisfy any course in the major, minor or core. In the transcript evaluation process, quarter credits will be converted to semester credits. The formula used is: 1 quarter credit = .67 semester credit.

Credit for college-level work from accredited community, junior or vocational/technical colleges is allowed to a cumulative maximum of 82 semester credits. A maximum of 94 semester credits may be accepted in total for transfer credit at Warner Pacific University.

Accredited Colleges and Universities- Graduate

Warner Pacific evaluates credits from regionally accredited colleges and universities for applicability toward graduate degree and program requirements. Courses from regionally accredited institutions in which the student earned a grade of "B" or higher, may be evaluated by faculty for use in graduate degree requirements. No more than nine (9) semester credits may be accepted in transfer for the RCM programs; six (6) semester credits may be accepted in transfer for the MAT program. In the transcript evaluation process, quarter credits will be converted to semester credits. The formula used is: 1 quarter credit = .67 semester credit.

Block Transfer

Warner Pacific accepts the completed Associate of Arts Transfer Degree from Oregon community colleges and the Associate of Arts D.T.A. degree from Washington community colleges as having fulfilled the General Education Core requirements except as described below. Other accredited college associate degrees are transferable and qualify a student for junior status; these will be evaluated for applicability toward General Education Core, major, or electives. The associate degree being transferred must be completed prior to entry at Warner Pacific. Students enter the university at junior status with a minimum of 60, but no more than 82 semester credits. If coursework in progress at another institution at the time of transfer would complete the associate degree and/or qualify for junior status at the end of that term, the student may request the Registrar in writing to postpone evaluation of the official transcript until the end of the current term, upon receipt of the official transcript. Student must present evidence that coursework is in progress and that satisfactory completion of those courses will result in completion of the Transfer Degree. Any academic advising provided by the university prior to official transcript evaluation is not official and may change based on the official evaluation.

Students with an acceptable transfer degree must complete the following additional General Education Core requirements:

- ILR 300 Advanced Information Literacy & Research (3)
- HUM 310 Faith, Living and Learning (3) or HUM 410
- REL 320 Spirituality, Character, and Service (3) or REL 220

In addition, Warner Pacific University honors specific articulated agreements with Chemeketa Community College, Clackamas Community College, Clark College, Everest College, Mt. Hood Community College, Linfield College, Multnomah University, Pioneer Pacific College, Portland Bible College, Portland Community College, Portland State University, University of Portland and University of Western States. The university maintains a teacher education cooperative agreement with The University of Portland and cross-registration opportunities with members of the Oregon Alliance of Independent Colleges and Universities.

Unaccredited Institutions

Credit earned at an unaccredited college or university may be submitted for evaluation at the time of transfer. Credit which has been awarded a grade of "C-" or higher may be transferable upon appropriate faculty evaluation and recommendation, on a course-by-course basis. Credits receiving recommendation are provisionally accepted until the student has satisfactorily completed 15 semester credits at Warner Pacific.

Foreign Institutions

Credit earned at a foreign institution may be submitted for evaluation at the time of transfer. If the institution is listed in the ACE-published Accredited Institutions of Postsecondary Education, the credits will be evaluated as the university evaluates similar U.S. institutions. If the institution is not listed in the ACE guide, the student must provide acceptable documentation of its academic equivalency in the United States. Warner Pacific University recommends the following evaluation service providers for coursework completed outside the United States:

InCred International Credit Evaluations, Web: www.incredevals.org, Email: InCred@naia.org (Required for varsity athletes)

World Education Service (WES), Web: www.wes.org, Email: info@wes.org

Courses completed prior to High School Graduation

Undergraduate college courses taken before a high school diploma is received are accepted in transfer provided the student receives grades of "C-" or above in the courses.

ALTERNATIVE CREDIT

Several alternative credit programs are available for undergraduate students. A maximum of 30 non-graded credits may be earned.

Prior Learning Experience

Prior Learning Experience (PLE) credit may be awarded at the undergraduate level for liberal arts college-level learning acquired from non-traditional sources, such as work experience, professional training, military training, etc. There are three ways in which students can demonstrate that they have achieved college-level learning through prior experience: a) by successful completion of proficiency examinations. b) by submission of professional certification obtained through non-college instruction. c) by writing papers which document learning that has occurred through life experience. Such credit awards shall be made under protocol designed to ensure that reliable and valid measures of learning outcomes are or have been applied. All policies and procedures will follow guidelines set by the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL) and the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Advanced Placement (AP)

The Advanced Placement process begins in high school when students of high academic ability, proven achievement and/or ones who are highly motivated enroll in college-level courses offered by their institutions. Warner Pacific grants credit to students who receive qualifying scores, as indicated in the Table below. Letter grades will not be assigned.

International Baccalaureate (IB)

Warner Pacific grants credit for the IB Diploma Program. Letter grades will not be assigned. Credit will be granted for scores of “5” or above on higher-level examinations, up to a maximum of 30 semester credits. A score of “4” may grant waiver of certain core requirements or prerequisites. No credit will be granted for standard level examinations.

Agency-Sponsored Learning (Military Training, Certificate Training)

A maximum of 30 semester credits may be awarded at the undergraduate level for some types of military services as well as certificated courses on the college level as listed in, or comparable to, guidelines provided by the American Council on Education (ACE). No credit is awarded for general military service. Official documentation of course completion is required. (Coursework completed through the Community College of the Air Force is not included in the alternative credit category and is limited, as with other credit earned at two-year institutions, to 72 semester credits.)

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION

Students may earn undergraduate credit by examination through tests developed and sponsored by Warner Pacific University or through standardized tests sponsored both by CLEP and DSST as described below.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Developed and administered by the College Entrance Examination Board, the CLEP evaluates what a person has learned through non-traditional or independent study. Warner Pacific considers the ACE (American Council on Education) recommended guidelines to determine passing scores and number of credits for CLEP exams.

Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Educational Support (DSST)

Originally developed for the voluntary education programs of the U.S. Armed Forces, the DSST standardized exams are now available for civilian use. The civilian tests are administered by the Chauncey Group International, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Educational Testing Service. Warner Pacific considers the ACE-recommended guidelines to determine passing scores and number of credits awarded for DSST exams. The university is registered as an official DSST test site.

Proficiency Examination

Students may earn undergraduate credit for a course by examination. The student must submit a Proficiency Examination form with the signatures of the faculty of the course for which the exam is being taken, and the Division Dean for the course, and pay a Proficiency Examination fee prior to taking the exam. A minimum score of 70% ("C" or better) is required to pass the exam. The fee is due regardless of the outcome of the exam (see the Fees section of this catalog). The Proficiency Examination form is available in the Records Office.

REGISTRATION AND ENROLLMENT

Academic Advising

All students registered for six or more credits are assigned an academic advisor or faculty advisor, depending on class standing. The advisor's responsibility is to assist the student to set, plan and reach their own personal educational goals. In order for a good advising relationship to function, each person involved needs to know what is expected. The final responsibility for meeting all academic and graduation requirements rests with the individual student.

To achieve educational goals, the student must take the initial responsibility for setting advising appointments, creating an Educational Plan in MyWP before meeting with the advisor, and undertaking some long-range planning for the completion of studies. Students should track their progress toward completing degree requirements by reviewing their Program Evaluations regularly. A minimum of six months prior to graduation, the student should file an Application for Graduation with the Registrar.

Students who have earned fewer than 45 credits toward their degrees will work with an academic advisor to register for classes. When preparing to register for their junior year classes, the students shift to a faculty advisor in their major area of study, who assist the students in more intentionally focusing on long-range planning, including reviewing the graduation application and the student's academic major and vocational plans.

Students who change majors will likely have a change of advisor to align with the new major. Students have the right to request such a change for other reasons as well.

Registration for Classes

Pre-registration for new students is available at several summer pre-registration events or during new student welcome weekend. Students matriculating during the fall semester are eligible to register for the fall and subsequent spring semesters. Returning students may begin registering for fall and spring semester classes on the published dates during the previous spring semester.

All new and returning students are strongly encouraged to register for their class schedule at least two weeks prior to the start of the term in order to ensure student readiness for the term and timely delivery of textbook materials. Some students may need additional time to clear registration holds; the deadlines are designed to accommodate these needs. However, all new and returning students must resolve any outstanding financial issues, clear any registration holds, and register for their term schedule no later than the first day of classes.

Adherence to the printed schedule of dates regarding additions, drops and withdrawals is expected, since the dates have been established in light of teaching and learning needs and expectations. The Academic Calendar is published in the current catalog, and on each semester's schedule of classes.

Withdrawals

Withdrawal from a course must be initiated by the student and advisor approval is required. Students may withdraw from a course with no record on the transcript (called a "drop") when they withdraw properly before the deadline (see table below). Once the initial "drop deadline" passes, a student may still properly withdraw from the course but a "W" will be entered on the student's transcript.

Course Length	Drop Deadline – No "W" on Transcript	Withdrawal Deadline – "W" on Transcript
Full Semester	First Business Day of Week 4	Last Business Day of Week 10
Eight Weeks	Before Week 3 Begins	Before Week 6 Begins
Seven Weeks	Before Week 3 Begins	Before Week 5 Begins
Six Weeks	Before Week 3 Begins	Before Week 4 Begins
Five Weeks	Before Week 2 Begins	Before Week 4 Begins

Most traditional courses are represented in the chart above. However, there are occasionally courses of different lengths. For these courses, the drop and withdrawal deadlines will be adjusted proportionally. Please consult with the Records Office for details.

The student is responsible to complete the paperwork for withdrawals. A student who fails to officially withdraw from a course but has not attended class sessions or submitted assignments will be assigned an "X" grade on the transcript.

Course Cancellation

Warner Pacific University is committed to providing each student with a healthy learning environment in the classroom. Class sizes are carefully monitored to ensure each student has the opportunity for active engagement and interaction. Should it become necessary to cancel a course due to low enrollment, an academic advisor will notify the affected students to identify acceptable alternatives.

Class Standing

All full and part-time students who have applied for admission to the college and are working on a degree program are assigned class standing:

- Freshman, students who have earned fewer than 30 semester credits
- Sophomore, students with 30 to 59.99 credits
- Junior, students with 60 to 89.99 credits, and at least 120 cumulative grade points
- Senior, those with 90 or more credits and at least 180 cumulative grade points
- Post-Baccalaureate, those who have earned a baccalaureate degree, and are pursuing a second degree, advanced licensure or certification
- Graduate, those who have earned a baccalaureate degree, and have been accepted into one of the graduate programs

Enrollment Status and Course Load- Undergraduate

A full-time student is one who has met all entrance requirements and carries a minimum of 12 credits per semester. A part-time student is one who has met all entrance requirements and carries a minimum of six semester credits, a maximum of 11 semester credits, and is working on a degree program.

Students who expect to complete degree requirements in four years should register for at least 16 credits per semester. The Registrar must approve any course load that exceeds 18 credits prior to registration. An additional per credit overload fee will apply to student schedules above 18 credits.

A non-degree seeking undergraduate student is one who is enrolled in five or fewer semester credits and is not working on a degree. Non-degree seeking students who have accumulated 15 credits at Warner Pacific are required to complete the full application for admission process before registering for additional courses. The non-degree seeking student is subject to the current tuition and other academic charges. Such students are entitled to all privileges of the classes for which they are enrolled, but they do not have full student government or activity privileges or rights unless they elect to pay the Student Body Fee.

Enrollment Status and Course Load- Graduate

A full-time student is one who has met all entrance requirements and carries a minimum of six (6) graduate credits per semester. A part-time student is one who has met all entrance requirements and carries a minimum of three (3) graduate credits per semester.

Students who expect to complete degree requirements according to the program calendar must remain in the Community of Scholars or cohort of a graduate program. Cohort study relies upon participation of all members throughout the course of study. It is to the advantage of the individual student, and to the cohort as a whole, to maintain the integrity of the cohort throughout the entire degree program.

A non-degree seeking graduate student is one who is enrolled in two or fewer semester credits and is not working on a degree. Non-degree seeking students who have accumulated nine (9) credits at Warner Pacific are required to complete the full application for admission process before registering for additional courses. The non-degree seeking student is subject to the current tuition and other academic charges. Such students are entitled to all privileges of the classes for which they are enrolled. Only students accepted into the Master of Arts in Teaching program will be eligible to attend MAT classes.

Auditing a Course

The purpose of an audit is to allow the student an opportunity to experience a particular discipline in an effort to make future degree/program decisions. Audited courses do not satisfy prerequisites for other courses. Only earned credits may count toward degree / program requirements or prerequisite fulfillment. A student may register for any course without credit by declaring that intention at the time of registration. A student may change a credit class to an audit no later than the last day to add classes. Admittance is contingent upon available space in the class. Audits may change to regular registration by paying the regular tuition, using the standard registration change procedures, and meeting the deadline of the last day to add classes.

Students electing to audit a Warner Pacific course must attend/participate (in) 75% of the classes for the audit to appear on the transcript; if the required attendance/participation level is not reached, the audit will be removed from the transcript, but no fees will be refunded.

Credit Hour Definition

The term "credit hour" represents an amount of work corresponding to the learning outcomes of a course rather than a specific amount of time. Given this explanation, there is recognition of a relationship between time spent on task and measurable student achievement. In the traditional 15 week semester program, a credit hour is generally represented by one hour each week of classroom instruction or direct faculty interaction and two hours of outside course work (representing 45 hours spent on course work per credit). In courses that are shorter in duration, similar or equivalent student learning outcomes must be achieved regardless of length of course or actual direct contact hours. This applies to accelerated courses, online courses, internships, practica, and laboratory work.

Course Numbering System

001-099	Preparatory courses. A maximum of six credits of preparatory coursework taken at Warner Pacific University may be applied towards the total requirement of 120 credits for a baccalaureate degree.
100-199	Lower-division courses, primarily for freshmen
200-299	Lower-division courses, primarily for sophomores
300-399	Upper-division courses, primarily for juniors
400-499	Upper-division courses, primarily for seniors
500-699	Graduate-level courses
279/379/479/579	Reserved for special topics in any subject area
205/305/405/505	Reserved for independent study courses in any subject area

INTERNSHIPS, FIELD EXPERIENCES, AND STUDENT TEACHING

University sponsored on-site coursework is supervised by site personnel identified by the university supervisor, site supervisor and student prior to commencement of the experience. International students are required by law to notify the Designated School Official (DSO) and receive clearance for Curricular Practical Training (CPT) prior to beginning an internship, student teaching, or field experience.

Internships are courses having number, title, units and outcomes stated in filed syllabi. Credit is assigned prior to the internship with regard to the length and breadth of exposure necessary to successfully accomplish stated outcomes.

A Field Experience or Practicum is an introductory exposure to a professional environment for a few hours per week. Student involvement may range from observation to directed participation in assigned components of the working environment. In a field experience, the student is not responsible for any development or change in the clients of the school, agency, etc.

Student Teaching is the final stage of the Preliminary Teaching Licensure program, leading to entry level competencies as a classroom teacher. Consent of the Dean of Education is required. See the Teacher Education Handbook for further information.

INDEPENDENT AND DIRECTED STUDIES

An Independent Study is a particular course that is designed specifically for an individual student. Listed below are the conditions under which an Independent Study may occur:

1. Such study is intended to allow students to explore academic areas of special interest not ordinarily provided by the existing curriculum.
2. Independent Study is carried out under the guidance of a qualified member of the faculty and must include regular contact with the faculty member.
3. Independent Study must have prior approval of the Division Dean.
4. Independent Study is normally available to junior and senior students. It is not available to students who are not regularly enrolled students of the university.
5. No more than 12 credits of Independent Study may count toward graduation.

In unusual cases, students who do not meet these criteria may be permitted to undertake Independent Study providing that the appropriate instructor submits, along with the student's petition, a letter which, in the judgment of the Division Dean, adequately justifies the proposed study.

A completed Independent Study form (available in the Records Office) must be filed as part of the registration process. A per credit fee will be assessed for Independent Studies. The fee is in addition to tuition and any applicable class fees.

Directed Study is an existing course. Students may register for an approved Warner Pacific course either at a time other than normally scheduled or when fewer than the minimum number of required students have enrolled for a regularly scheduled course. Directed Study will be approved only in instances where the course is required for student's degree program, and circumstances prevent the student from enrolling in the course at the next regularly scheduled time.

A completed Directed Study form (available in the Records Office) must be filed as part of the registration process. A per credit fee will NOT be assessed for Directed Study if the course is scheduled but canceled due to low enrollment, AND there is no approved substitute course. In all other cases, there will be a fee charged. This fee is in addition to tuition and any applicable class fees.

AFROTC PROGRAM

Under a cooperative agreement with the University of Portland, Warner Pacific University students may participate in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) program offered on the University of Portland campus. The purpose of the program, which is administered by the Aerospace Studies faculty at the University of Portland, is to select and train students to serve as officers in the United States Air Force. AFROTC is available to qualified men and women on a competitive basis. Scholarships are available in two, three or four-year lengths to qualified students. In-college scholarship selection boards are held in March and July of each academic year. The applicant must be attending the university full-time to be considered. Interested students should contact the AFROTC Program Counselor several months in advance to obtain nomination materials. Additional scholarships, including a Pre-Health scholarship for medical school, are also available. More information can be found online at www.up.edu/afrotc, email rotc695@up.edu or call (503) 943-7216.

ATTENDANCE AND CLASSROOM BEHAVIOR

Students are assumed to be attending all classes for which they are registered. Students are responsible for course assignments regardless of the reason for an absence.

Visitor Policy

After the last day to add classes, only students who are registered for a class may attend said class. Students may not bring family members, guests, or animals to class without the prior consent of the instructor. Consent for children under the age of 12 to attend class will be granted only in extreme situations, and it should be understood that if the child(ren) are distracting to the professor or other students, they should be removed from the classroom. Children under the age of 12 may not be on campus unattended. Individuals who are approved for ADA accommodation (including service animals) are exempt from this policy.

Make Up Examinations

Students are expected to take examinations when scheduled. If circumstances prevent them from doing so, they may request that the professor administer the exam at a mutually convenient time. The professor may choose not to grant the request, but in cases where the request is granted, students must pay a special exam fee. A request for waiver of the fee must be made to the Registrar and must include reasons for the request.

Final Examinations

The schedule for final examinations is published by the Records Office. In instances where the schedule requires a student to take more than two exams per day, or in cases where the schedule conflicts with university sponsored activities, the student may request to reschedule a final exam at no extra charge. The request to reschedule the exam should be made at least one week before the scheduled test date. Other requests to reschedule a final exam for a time other than the published hour require the student to pay a special exam fee. Travel and other arrangements must be planned ahead in accordance with the schedule, since exemptions due to travel arrangements will not be granted.

Religious Accommodation Policy

Warner Pacific University will make good faith efforts to provide reasonable religious accommodations to students who have sincerely held religious practices or beliefs that conflict with a scheduled course or program requirement. Students requesting religious accommodation should submit a written request to their instructor with as much advance notice as possible. Any absence resulting from a religious accommodation does not excuse students from course requirements or information reviewed during missed classes. Students are responsible for obtaining materials and information provided during any missed class. The student must work with the instructor to determine a schedule for making up missed work.

Civil Behavior and Consideration of Others in the Classroom

Most Warner Pacific courses include a considerable expectation of participation and active learning during the class period. Interruption caused by one student to the orderly flow of the class session may not only inhibit the learning process but also disrupt and distract others engaged in the class. Therefore, the following guidelines have been established for use during class sessions:

- All cell phones should be silenced during class time. Students may not text message, receive or make calls during class.
- The use of electronic devices during class is permitted for the purpose of enhancing the educational outcomes of the course. Use of electronic devices to check one's email, cruise the Internet, play games, work on projects not related to the course, or other uses not related to the course outcomes is NOT permitted. Persistent violation of this guideline may result in the loss of computer use privileges during the class.
- Individual use of earbuds and personal listening or viewing devices such as iPods is not permitted during class.

In order to assure a safe and supportive environment for all students, the following behaviors are strictly prohibited in classes:

- Verbal threats of physical harm directed towards professor and/ or other students or physical violence or intimidation
- Verbally aggressive taunts, threats or abusive language directed toward students or professors, which may include the use of profanities
- Showing up intoxicated/under the influence of alcohol or drugs
- Sleeping in class
- Disruptive and uncooperative behavior and actions that results in the breakdown of order in the classroom, or obstruction of class goals
- Defying specific instructions from the instructor pertaining to classroom conduct or behavior
- Being openly critical and negative towards the professor and other students
- Instigation/Provoking – the face-to-face use of personally abusive epithets that, when addressed to any person, are inherently likely to provoke immediate violent reaction whether or not the reaction occurs
- Using hate speech including but not limited to racist, demeaning, inflammatory, and or vulgar language in classroom conversation, communication, blogs or assignments.
- Participating in or promoting practices that are in direct contradiction to the Bible e.g., occult practices
- Inappropriate dress (hoods during class or exams)
- Inappropriate taking of photos/videos/audio recordings
- Excessive tardiness or leaving class early

Students who demonstrate any of these behaviors may be asked to cease the behavior or leave the classroom; in the case of repeat offenses, the student may face censure through the student judicial process.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of honorable conduct in academic matters. If students and faculty are to build a learning community, it is essential that students present their own work in their classes. The following situations constitute a breach in academic integrity:

1. Cheating (the use or attempted use of unauthorized materials, information, or study aids)
2. Fabrication/falsification (intentional falsification or invention of information, including false sign-in)
3. Plagiarism (the use of another's ideas, words, data, or product, including tables and figures, without proper acknowledgment)
4. Identical work (submitting work for multiple purposes without permission or submitting work that closely parallels another student's submission when collaboration is not allowed)
5. Assisting in dishonesty (helping or attempting to help another commit an act of academic dishonesty, tampering with evaluation materials, distributing unauthorized questions or answers related to an examination/test)
6. Misuse of electronic resources (the use of unauthorized electronic resources to complete an assignment)

All incidents of willful dishonesty or plagiarism will be reported in writing to the Chief Academic Officer (CAO). Possible actions that may be taken by a faculty member who suspects a student of academic dishonesty (after conversation with the student in order to determine the student's awareness of the problem) are listed below. In order to protect both student and faculty involved, either the appropriate Division Dean or the CAO must be present during any action taken beyond the oral reprimand/ counseling stage:

1. Oral reprimand (by faculty member)
2. Requirement to resubmit work or retake an examination/test (by faculty member)
3. Reduction of grade or failing grade on assignment/exam (by faculty member with Division Dean or CAO)
4. Reduction of grade for the course (by faculty member with Division Dean or CAO)
5. Failing grade for the course (by faculty member with Division Dean or CAO)

If a satisfactory resolution is not reached after these actions have been taken, either faculty or student may refer the matter to the Academic Policies Committee for resolution, which will address the issue using the regularly established procedures for academic appeals.

At the discretion of the CAO, repeat offenses may result in suspension or administrative dismissal from the university.

All of the above procedures must be carried out in accordance with the Warner Pacific University Education Records Policy in compliance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (Public Law 93-380).

Institutional Review Board (IRB)

The Institutional Review Board at Warner Pacific University ensures that all research involving human subjects conforms to standards committed to the ethical treatment and adequate protection of the rights and welfare of all human subjects. Prior to the implementation of any studies involving human subjects, including recruitment and screening activities, research projects must be reviewed and approved by the WPU Institutional Review Board. More information regarding WPU policies can be requested at irb@warnerpacific.edu.

GRADES

Grading and Grade Points

Academic work is measured in terms of letter grades and numerical grade points.

Grade	Grade Point Value	Grade	Grade Point Value	Grade	Grade Point Value
A	4.0	B-	2.7	D+	1.3
A-	3.7	C+	2.3	D	1.0
B+	3.3	C	2.0	D-	0.7
B	3.0	C-	1.7	F	0.0

This grading scale was implemented on July 1, 2021. Prior to July 1, 2021, plus or minus grades were specified on the transcript but did not affect calculation of the grade point average.

Grades with No Point Value

P	Pass	I	Incomplete	R	Registrar received no grade
NP	No Pass	IP	In Progress	X	No Basis for Grade
AU	Audit	W	Withdraw

Grade Changes

Once recorded, a grade of "A" through "F" (or a P/NP grade) can be changed only in the case of clerical or computational error. It is the student's responsibility to bring to the attention of the instructor any error in grades received within one semester following the issued grade. The instructor will submit the grade change to the Registrar. The instructor who assigned the grade should be involved in any appeal procedure concerning grade changes. Late work is not accepted for the purpose of a grade change.

Incomplete Grades

An Incomplete ("I") may be granted only when: 1) completion of remaining requirements is not possible because of factors beyond the control of the student; 2) the student has been in regular contact with instructor regarding course completion; and 3) the student was earning a course grade of at least "C-" at the date of occurrence or request.

The "I" may be granted only after a completed and approved Request for Incomplete form has been filed in the Records Office, including a contract for completing the work signed by the student and the instructor. Requests for incompletes must be filed before finals begin. An Incomplete taken in the fall semester must be completed by the end of the following spring semester; an Incomplete taken in the spring or summer semester must be completed by the end of the following fall semester. If the incomplete work is not completed within the stated time frame, the Registrar will automatically change the "I" to an "F."

In Progress Grades

In Progress ("IP") is offered only for research or thesis courses, internships, study trips, Independent Study, and summer semester courses. In order to issue an "IP" grade the Registrar must receive a contract for completing the work signed by the student and the instructor. An In Progress taken in the fall semester must be completed by the end of the following spring semester; an In Progress taken in the spring or summer semester must be completed by the end of the following fall semester. If the in progress work is not completed within the stated time frame, the Registrar will automatically change the "IP" to an "F." An extension may not exceed the stated period without approval of the Academic Policies Committee.

Pass/No Pass Policy- Undergraduate

Courses at Warner Pacific University may be taken for a Pass/No Pass (P/NP) under the following stipulations:

- To earn a "P" the student must complete the requirements of the course with at least the equivalent of a "C" letter grade.
- No more than a total of 12 credits, and no more than six credits in any one term (except internships and student teaching), may be taken P/NP to apply toward graduation.
- Courses in the student's major or minor (except internships and student teaching) may not be P/NP.
- Students choosing to exercise the P/NP option in a course must process a P/NP form. This form must be completed and on file in the Records Office by the Friday of the tenth week of classes. (This form is available in the Records Office.)
- Once the P/NP option has been elected, it is not possible to request a letter grade at a later date.

Pass/No Pass Policy- Graduate

Graduate courses at Warner Pacific University may be taken for a Pass/No Pass (P/NP) under the following stipulations:

- To earn a "P" the student must complete the requirements of the course with at least the equivalent of a "B" letter grade.
- Only courses designated as P/NP in the degree Course of Study may be taken as Pass/ No Pass.
- Once the P/NP option has been elected, it is not possible to request a letter grade at a later date.

Repetition of Courses

When a course is repeated, only the highest grade is included in the computation of the total number of credits and GPA required for graduation. All courses will remain on the student's permanent record.

HONORS

Dean's Lists are published each semester in recognition of undergraduate students enrolled for 12 or more letter grade credits and receiving a minimum grade point average of 3.5 in all courses attempted that semester. Credits taken P/NP are eliminated from this calculation. Thus, a person taking 12 credits of which three are P/NP, would not be eligible for Dean's List consideration.

Baccalaureate degree candidates with qualifying GPAs who have completed at least 43 semester credits at Warner Pacific receive confirmation of honors at graduation. The "career" (cumulative) GPA appears on the student's transcript and is used to calculate the minimum GPA for graduation and qualification for honors at graduation. The career GPA is based on all courses attempted (both in residence and transfer) which are applicable toward graduation with the baccalaureate degree at Warner Pacific. Associate degree candidates and Master degree candidates are not eligible for academic honors at graduation. Undergraduate honors at graduation are determined solely on the cumulative GPA earned:

Cum Laude	3.50-3.74
Magna Cum Laude	3.75-3.84
Summa Cum Laude	3.85-4.00

ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE

Satisfactory Progress- Undergraduate

Students are expected to make satisfactory progress toward their degree by maintaining a minimum GPA of 2.0, by enrolling in courses that meet the requirements for a specific degree program, and the completion of the following:

- 24 credits per academic year if classified as a full-time student
- 18 credits per academic year if classified as a 3/4-time student
- 12 credits per academic year if classified as a 1/2-time student

Students will be placed on Academic Probation at the close of any semester in which their GPA for that semester falls below a 2.0. If the GPA earned the subsequent semester is not a minimum of 2.0, a student may be dismissed. Students are required to earn a cumulative career GPA of 2.0 to be eligible for graduation.

First-time freshmen admitted on academic probation who achieve a GPA of 2.0 or higher in their first semester will move to good standing; those who earn a GPA from 1.0 to 1.999 will remain on probation and be required to participate in an academic support course as well as continue to meet with an academic mentor in their second semester; those who earn a GPA of 0.999 or below will be academically dismissed. Transfer students admitted on academic probation who achieve a GPA of 2.0 or higher in their first semester will move to good standing; those who earn a GPA below 2.0 will be academically dismissed.

Students placed on academic probation at the conclusion of any one semester MUST adhere to the following requirements:

1. Report to the Director of Academic Success during the first week of the semester to develop a plan that identifies and provides a remedy for the current academic difficulties.
2. Meet with the advisor no later than the first week of the semester to review the student's class schedule and make any necessary adjustments. Students are limited to 13 credits during the semester of academic probation.
3. Enroll in Critical Thinking and Study Skills (CLS 110). If credit has already been earned for CLS 110, the student must enroll in Critical Thinking: Designing Your Life (CLS 111). If credit for both CLS 110 and CLS 111 has already been earned, the student must participate in an individualized academic success plan.
4. Meet with an assigned faculty or staff mentor on a weekly basis throughout the entire semester.
5. Refrain from participation in Student Leadership or other co-curricular activities unless the student has completed a plan of action in conjunction with the Director of Academic Success and the Director of Student Leadership. Participation in the co-curricular activity throughout the duration of the term is contingent upon the student's continued and regular participation in all elements outlined in the plan of action.
6. Refrain from participation in Varsity Athletics unless the student has completed a plan of action in conjunction with the Director of Academic Success and the Athletics Director. Participation in Varsity Athletics throughout the duration of the term is contingent upon the student's continued and regular participation in all elements outlined in the plan of action. Other limitations may be required by the Athletics Department.

Students may appeal their academic probation status in writing to the Registrar for a review with the Academic Policies Committee and may ask their advisor to be present during the review. A student wishing to appeal their status or request an exception to any of the above policies must complete an APC petition no later than the end of the first week of the semester.

Students placed on probation must successfully complete all of the credits in which they are enrolled (including CLS 110). Students who complete fewer than 12 credits with a GPA of 2.0 or higher will remain on probation for the subsequent semester. Students who complete the academic probation semester with a semester GPA lower than 2.0 are subject to academic dismissal.

Students placed on academic dismissal are no longer eligible to enroll at the university. Students may appeal their dismissal status in writing to the Registrar for a review with the Academic Policies Committee. If a student wishes to return to Warner Pacific University after previously departing the university on academic dismissal status, then that student must submit an application for readmission to the Office of Admissions. Additional information is provided in the Admissions section of this catalog.

Satisfactory Progress- Graduate

A graduate student must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 to maintain Regular Student status. If a graduate student's cumulative GPA falls below 3.0, the graduate student will be placed on Academic Probation until the GPA returns to at least 3.0.

If a graduate student is on Academic Probation for three consecutive courses (in a cohort-based program), or two consecutive semesters, the student is subject to dismissal. Students placed on academic dismissal are no longer eligible to enroll at the university. Students may appeal their dismissal status in writing to the Registrar for a review with the Academic Policies Committee. If a student wishes to return to Warner Pacific University after previously departing the university on academic dismissal status, then that student must submit an application for readmission to the Office of Admissions. Additional information is provided in the Admissions section of this catalog.

Academic Success Resources

Online resources can be found at <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/academics/support-services/academic-success-center/>

Academic Success provides academic support to students from diverse backgrounds who are majoring in a wide array of liberal arts disciplines by helping them engage in their studies through various tutoring and mentoring services, including the following:

- Academic Tutoring – Tutoring at the Academic Success Center provides assistance in the mastery of new material and study techniques for different courses. Tutors are recommended by professors based on their understanding of the subject and hired because they are eager to support the academic needs of their peers. All tutoring sessions are now booked through the Academic Success Center’s new online platform, Picktime. Picktime can be easily located and accessed on the Academic Success page of the Warner Pacific University website.
- Writing Resources – Because good writing skills are a key component of success in almost every job, the Academic Success Center staff and tutors provide support in the areas of: paper organization, APA formatting, paper review, and grammar assistance. Please note that our staff will work alongside students with their writing, but students must make their own edits and corrections. Students should provide their work to tutors in order to maximize the time spent in the tutoring session.
- Academic Assistance – Individual meetings are available to help students strategize ways to achieve their academic goals (setting academic goals, establishing good study habits, developing time management strategies, and test taking, note taking, and other academic skills). Academic Success also provides resources to support classroom success in addition to tools for students to immediately use in their daily courses.
- Academic Mentoring – Studies have shown that mentors can play a significant role in student success. Academic mentors are trained members of the Warner Pacific faculty and staff who provide support, accountability, and help de-mystify the college world.
- Brain Food – Brain Food is an academic resource program that offers materials to students during the lunch hours. Located between the cafeteria and Tabor Grind, Brain Food offers support for all Warner Pacific students in the following categories: academic, career, and community resources. In the past, these resources have included sentence transition templates, resume and cover letter templates, and additional information for internship programs in the community. Resources rotate each week and previous resources are always made available in both the Student Life Center and Warner Pacific Library.
- Courses in study skills and critical thinking (CLS 110 and CLS 111).

Setting Aside Past Record

Warner Pacific University transfer students may petition only one time to have their entire transfer academic record prior to a specified date, including earned credits and GPA, set aside and to start a new baseline. Petitions are submitted in writing to the Registrar and may be submitted either at the time of transfer or after the student has enrolled at Warner Pacific University. The set aside credits may not be applied toward graduation requirements nor will they be applied in calculating academic standing or honors. Thus, a student setting aside 12 credits of “C” and “D” grades, for example, needs to take 12 credits to replace those since the set aside credits may not be counted toward the required 120 credits. Qualification for federal financial aid may be affected.

NOTE: Determining the method of computing the GPA is the prerogative of each institution. Although Warner Pacific makes provision for setting aside past records, students should not assume that schools to which they may transfer will compute their GPA using only the new record. (See also “Repetition of Courses”)

Academic Renewal

If a student has previous substandard performance at Warner Pacific University, Academic Renewal offers a one-time opportunity to renew the academic record. When academic renewal is granted, the substandard Warner Pacific University terms are disregarded from the GPA and from all considerations associated with degree requirements. Under academic renewal, the permanent Warner Pacific University transcript is annotated so that it is readily evident to all users of the record that no work taken during the disregarded terms, even if satisfactory, may apply towards degree requirements. All work will remain legible on the record, ensuring a true and complete academic history. Academic renewal does not change academic standing. Once applied, academic renewal is irreversible.

A student may petition for up to two semesters of Warner Pacific University coursework to be disregarded when at least two years have elapsed since the most recent work to be disregarded was completed. Alternately, a student may petition for up to four semesters of previous Warner Pacific University coursework to be disregarded when at least five years have elapsed since the most recent work to be disregarded was completed. To petition for academic renewal, the student needs to demonstrate that the work completed in the selected term(s) is not representative of their current academic ability and level of performance. The GPA for the terms of consideration should be considerably lower than the GPA for the student’s most recent terms. Additionally, the student must demonstrate their current academic performance through at least one of the following:

1. At least a 3.0 GPA on the most recent 15 semester units at Warner Pacific University.
2. At least a 3.0 GPA on the most recent 30 semester units of transferrable coursework at another accredited college or university.

The petition should be submitted to the Records Office. The evaluation of criteria and the final decision regarding academic renewal is made by the registrar and the Academic Policies Committee.

NOTE: Determining the method of computing the GPA is the prerogative of each institution. Although Warner Pacific University makes provision for academic renewal, students should not assume that schools to which they may transfer will accept the academic renewal in the GPA calculations

ACADEMIC PETITIONS AND APPEALS

Occasionally it may be necessary to institute a petition for a waiver of established policies and procedures, or an appeal for a redress of grievances. Written appeals of policy are processed through the Records Office. Academic appeals fall into two general categories: 1) petitions regarding application of specific policies or 2) appeals of final grades or other academic matters related to a particular course.

Petitions Regarding Application of Academic Policy

Petitions relating to academic concerns must be in writing. All petitions must include the signature of the student’s advisor. This signature does not necessarily mean that the advisor agrees with or supports the petition, but that the advisor is aware of the petitioner’s request. Petitions are submitted to the Registrar. Typical petitions include waiver of a particular graduation requirement, acceptance of transfer credits to meet a specific graduation requirement, or other similar types of policy appeals.

Appeals Regarding Final Grades or Other Academic Matters Related to a Particular Course

Resolution of appeals is handled at the lowest possible level. The student must discuss the situation with the professor involved. Should discussion with the professor not resolve the issue and the student decide to appeal further, the following procedure must be followed:

1. A written statement describing the situation is submitted to the appropriate Division Dean.
2. The Division Dean will meet with both the student and the professor to resolve the issue. Should the issue not be resolved at this level and the student or the professor wish to appeal further, step 3 is followed.
3. The student or the professor files an appeal with the Chief Academic Officer. The Chief Academic Officer will request pertinent information from all parties involved and make a recommendation for resolution. Should the issue remain unresolved, the student or the professor may appeal to the Academic Policies Committee (step 4).
4. A petition in writing is submitted by the student or professor to the Academic Policies Committee. The petition will describe the issue involved and the steps taken toward resolution. The Committee will request appropriate documents from the parties involved in steps 1-3. The Committee will hold a hearing on the petition. Parties to the dispute will be granted an opportunity to present their cases and to questioning. After receiving such evidence, the Committee will render a decision. The decision of the Committee is final. No further avenue of appeal is available. The decision of the Committee will be in writing and will remain on file in the office of the Chief Academic Officer and in the student's academic file.

OTTO F. LINN LIBRARY

The Otto F. Linn Library is the center of research for Warner Pacific University. The Library offers key learning and research resources, providing information literacy instructions and best practices for information harvesting, searching, sharing and copyright oversight.

The Library holds physical collections of over 60,000 items including periodicals, DVDs, and CDs. The Library has licensed many research and course-related databases including EBSCOhost and eBooks. A long index of free, Open Educational Resource (OER) textbooks and related digital materials are also available. As a member of the Orbis Cascade Alliance, a consortium of 39 libraries in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, the Library has access to over 30,000,000 additional items listed in the Alliance's Summit Catalog. Stakeholders can check out items from any participating libraries in person or order them online. Items requested online are delivered via courier to the home library of the requester within a couple of days.

ONLINE CONSORTIUM COURSES

Warner Pacific University participates in Acadeum, a consortium of like-minded accredited colleges and universities that share online course offerings. A student must be admitted and enrolled in a traditional degree program in order to be eligible for Online Consortium course enrollment during a traditional term (Fall, Spring, or Summer). Online Consortium courses are considered to be "in residence" at Warner Pacific University. The course is recorded on the student's Warner Pacific University transcript and the grade is factored into the institutional GPA. Online Consortium course enrollment must be approved by the student's Academic Advisor and the Records Office.

Fall and Spring Term Enrollment

A traditional student must be in good academic standing to enroll in an Online Consortium course during the fall or spring term. A maximum of one Online Consortium course may be taken during each fall/spring term. Students are charged an enrollment fee of $150 per credit for enrollment in an Online Consortium course via Acadeum. This fee is in addition to the standard block tuition rate charged for fall/spring enrollment. Tuition remission and other forms of scholarships do not typically cover this enrollment fee.

Summer Term Enrollment

A student may enroll in multiple Online Consortium courses during the summer. Students on good academic standing may enroll in a maximum of 18 Online Consortium credits in summer, and students on academic probation may enroll in a maximum of 6 Online Consortium credits in summer. Students will pay the standard per-credit summer tuition rate to enroll in an Online Consortium course. Tuition remission and other forms of scholarships do not typically cover summer tuition.

Books

Students are responsible for obtaining their own books and materials for Online Consortium courses. The Online Consortium will provide information directly to the student regarding the required books and materials. Many of the online consortium courses have the materials included in the online course. If a physical book is required, the Library is available to assist students in finding affordable book options.

GRADUATION PROCEDURES

Application for Graduation

When students are approximately one semester from graduation they begin the application for graduation process with the assistance of the faculty advisor. The student will receive an email from the Registrar with a link to complete the Application for Graduation. The Registrar and Academic Advisor will review the Application for Graduation to ensure that all requirements for graduation will be met and to notify students in writing of deficiencies. Students may track their progress toward degree completion through My Progress on MyWP, and should discuss any questions or discrepancies with the Academic Advisor.

The student will graduate under the requirements listed in the catalog in effect at the time of first enrollment at Warner Pacific University. Students who do not maintain continuous enrollment will graduate under the requirements listed in the catalog in effect at the time of re-entry. Students must complete their degree requirements within five years of exiting the university. If the requirements are not completed within that period of time, the student must re-apply for admission, and complete the catalog requirements in effect at the time of readmission.

Students may elect to graduate under a more recent catalog than the one in effect at the time of their entry but they must declare the new catalog in writing to the Registrar, along with their advisor's approval. The student is subject to ALL requirements of the catalog listed (major/minor as well as General Education Core).

To be eligible to participate in commencement ceremonies, students must plan to complete all academic requirements prior to the date of the commencement ceremonies with the following exception: A maximum of 6 credits may be planned for the term directly subsequent to the commencement ceremonies. All graduation requirements must be met before the degree will be posted and financial obligations to the university must be met before the diploma is awarded to the student. Any credit by examination testing must be completed at least 30 days prior to the intended commencement date.

Commencement Ceremonies

Because graduation is the culmination of one's academic career and provides an opportunity for the recognition of academic achievement, all graduating students are encouraged to plan their schedules in order to participate in commencement ceremonies. Diplomas are not provided prior to the commencement ceremonies.

EXITING THE UNIVERSITY

Leave of Absence

Some students need or want to leave the university for a time. This is referred to as "Leave of Absence." A leave of absence is defined as an interruption in attendance at Warner Pacific for a period of one semester for acceptable reasons. Re-entry to the university is automatic at the expiration of the leave period provided all other specified deadlines have been met. A student may request a leave of absence by filling out a Request for Leave of Absence form, which is available in the Office of Enrollment.

Readmission after Active Duty/Reservist Training

A student at Warner Pacific University who is a member of the military may experience an interruption in their program attendance due to service obligations. Such a student has a right to be readmitted and reenrolled at the university within one year after release from active duty/reservist training. The student should present a request for readmission along with verification of active duty/reservist training and official transcripts from any other institutions attended in the interim. Upon receipt of this request and documentation, the student will be promptly readmitted to the same academic status they had when last attending and no readmission fee will be required.

Exit Interview

Each student leaving Warner Pacific is required to file a Withdrawal Form with the Office of Enrollment and have an Exit Interview with the Retention Manager. Students who are exiting permanently must be cleared by each office listed on the form. An interview with a representative of the Office of Student Financial Services is required for all exiting students. The completed exit form is then filed in the Records Office.

Transferring to Other Institutions

Warner Pacific transcripts may be requested by supplying specific personally-identifying information and a signed release to the Records Office.

The transferability of credits earned at Warner Pacific University is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at Warner Pacific University will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at Warner Pacific University to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at Warner Pacific University will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas, or certificates earned.

MAJORS/MINORS

Majors

Majors offer students the opportunity to concentrate their learning in a particular discipline of study, its theory and practice. Completing all specified courses and number of credits for a major is required to earn either the associate or bachelor degree. In general, the bachelor degree major includes a minimum of 40 total credits and 18 upper-division credits. Many majors are larger than this minimum. Specific courses and credit requirements for the majors listed on the following pages appear in the appropriate division descriptions later in this section. Majors in some programs include the possibility of completing additional courses for a special emphasis.

Duplication of Credit

Courses may be double-counted to fulfill two different major or minor requirements, provided that the following conditions are met:

- A minimum of 12 unique upper-division credits must be completed for each major.
- A minimum of 6 unique upper-division credits must be completed for each minor.

Declaring a Major

Students are required to make an official declaration of their major no later than the second semester of their sophomore year. Although they may declare a major earlier, they are not required to do so and, in fact, are encouraged to explore subject areas of interest to them as they fulfill General Education Core requirements.

Students with a Double Major

The advising process is the same for students with a double major as it is for those with a single major. Students first must declare the intent to work toward a double major to the appropriate Division Dean. The advisor in the first declared major is the responsible advisor, who must ensure that the student has secured a list of requirements and are meeting those requirements in the schedule. Students completing a double major will earn a single baccalaureate degree; the specific degree granted will be the degree associated with the "Major 1" as identified by the student on the Application for Graduation and Program Evaluation Review form.

Individualized Major

Students may work with a faculty member to plan an Individualized Major. Such a major is usually interdisciplinary (i.e. including courses from different disciplines) and provides an opportunity for the student to focus learning in a specialized field not available through the university's regular programs. The faculty advisor and student plan classes and electives in the major area(s), indicating both courses and credits required. This plan is recorded on an Educational Contract for Individualized Major for a baccalaureate degree. On approval by the faculty Curriculum Committee, the contract is filed in the Records Office and with the faculty advisor.

1. Secure a petition for an Individualized Program from the Records Office. In consultation with the advisor, a petition is completed. Incomplete petitions will not be considered.
2. The completed petition is submitted to the Registrar who will forward it to the Curriculum Committee for consideration. The Curriculum Committee may refer the petition to the appropriate division/program(s) for review as deemed necessary.
3. All petitions for Individualized Major must be submitted prior to beginning the last 30 credits of residency and the petition approved prior to beginning the last semester of study for the degree.
4. At least 30 semester credits with a cumulative GPA of 2.75 must be completed prior to submission of the petition. Students entering the university with 30-59 credits accepted in transfer must complete at least one semester of full-time study at Warner Pacific before petitioning for an Individualized Major; students who will enter WPU with 60 or more accepted transfer credits must be accepted for admittance and pre-registered for classes before petitioning for an Individualized Major.
5. Proposed majors must include the following minimum requirements: 45 credits: 15 credits in residence, 30 credits upper division

Minors

Minors offer students an opportunity to focus their electives on an academic area of study, but without the depth and breadth of a major. Students are not required to choose a minor for graduation.

Individualized Minor

Students may work with a faculty member to plan an Individualized Minor. Such a minor provides an opportunity for the student to focus in a specialized field not available through the university's regular programs. The advisor and student plan requirements and electives indicating course titles, numbers and credits. The plan is recorded on an Educational Contract for Individualized Minor and submitted to the Curriculum Committee for approval.

1. Secure a petition for an Individualized Program from the Records Office. Complete the petition in consultation with the advisor and submit it to the appropriate academic division/program for deliberation. Incomplete petitions will not be considered.
2. If the petition is endorsed by the division/program, submit the completed petition to the Registrar who will forward it to the Curriculum Committee for consideration.
3. All petitions for Individualized Minors must be submitted prior to the beginning of the last 30 credits of residency and the petition approved prior to beginning the last semester of study for the degree.
4. Student must have completed a minimum of 30 semester credits and have attained a cumulative GPA of at least 2.75 at the time of submission of the petition. Students transferring fewer than 60 semester credits into Warner Pacific, must complete at least one semester before petitioning for an Individualize Minor. Students transferring in 60 or more semester credits must be accepted for admission and pre-registered for classes before petitioning for an Individualized Minor.

5. At a minimum, proposed Individualized Minors must include the following: 21 semester credits; 12 credits in residence; 9 semester credits upper division course work.
6. No credits used to satisfy a student's major or another minor may be used to satisfy a student's Individualized Minor.
7. Only one Individualized Minor is permitted per student.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

At Warner Pacific University, students' progress toward meeting their academic goals has the highest priority. The policies, procedures, and standards described in this catalog provide the guidelines for achieving those goals. The university makes every effort to assist students in planning course schedules in order to meet academic and graduation requirements. However, the final responsibility for meeting the requirements rests with the individual student.

Requirements for the Master's Degree

- For the M.A.B.T.S, M.Rel., or M.A.T. degree, complete the specific graduation requirements outlined in the program curriculum.

Requirements for the Baccalaureate Degree

- For the B.A., B.S., B.S.W., or B.S.N. degree, complete a total of 120 semester credits with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 in all courses taken in residence and accepted in transfer.
- Earn at least 40 upper division credits (courses numbering 300 and above).
- Complete General Education Core requirements for the Baccalaureate Degree, achieving a grade of "C-" or better in all required courses.
- Complete a baccalaureate-level major, achieving a grade of "C-" or better in all required and prerequisite courses. If the student elects to declare a minor, a grade of "C-" or better must also be achieved in all courses required for the minor.
- Satisfy the following requirements regarding credit earned at Warner Pacific (credit earned in residence):
 - Earn at least 15 of the semester credits required for the major in residence.
 - Earn at least 30 of the last 40 semester credits in residence. A waiver of some of the residence requirements may be requested in special circumstances by petitioning the Academic Policies Committee, in consultation with the student's advisor

Requirements for the Second Baccalaureate Degree

Students holding a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university may earn a second degree at Warner Pacific as a Post-Baccalaureate student upon completing an additional minimum of 30 semester credits, subject to these conditions:

- All credit must be earned subsequent to the granting of the first degree.
- For the former Warner Pacific student who has completed at least 30 semester credits in residence, at least 20 of the 30 credits must be earned at Warner Pacific. For the new student, all 30 semester credits must be in residence.
- At least 15 of the 30 semester credits must be upper division courses.
- Satisfy all specific requirements for the second bachelor degree.

Requirements for the Associate Degree

- For the A.A. or A.S., complete a minimum of 60 semester credits with a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0.
- Complete General Education Core requirements for the Associate Degree, achieving a grade of "C-" or better in all required courses.
- Complete an associate-level major, achieving a grade of "C-" or better in all required and prerequisite courses.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Several certificated training opportunities are available to students who do not wish to pursue a full degree program. Students may elect to complete either a credit-bearing Certificate of Mastery or a non-credit bearing Certificate of Training. The courses required for the two programs are the same; students will be required to meet the established participation requirements for their level of enrollment to be eligible to earn the program certificate.

Certificate of Mastery (COM)

- Students must apply for admission to the university (including submission of high school and/or college transcripts as appropriate) and meet all course prerequisites within the program.
- Students will be expected to complete all course requirements (and meet course outcomes) as detailed in the course syllabus.
- Students will earn regular university credit for the courses completed.
- All course requirements for the COM must be completed in residence at WP.
- Each course within the COM program must be completed with a minimum grade of "C-".
- Students must earn a COM program GPA of at least 2.75.
- Upon completion of the program requirements, students will receive a Certificate of Mastery, which will be posted to the official WPU transcript record.
- Credits earned may be counted as electives toward WPU degree requirements. Students who wish to pursue a major or minor in the area of an already-completed COM program will agree that the certificate will be revoked when the completed courses are applied toward the major or minor requirements.
- Tuition in the COM program will be the same as that charged of students in the degree-seeking program.
- Students may elect to change from the COM program (Credit status) to the Certificate of Training (COT) program (Audit status) no later than the last day to withdraw for the course. Any applicable refunds will be calculated based on the regular refund schedule for the course. Once a decision has been made to move from the COM to the COT program, the decision cannot be revoked.
- Requirements for the COM must be completed within five years of beginning the program.

Certificate of Training (COT)

- Students must complete a non-degree seeking application for admission to the university.
- All courses for the COT must be taken in residence at WP.
- Students will register with audit status for the courses within the COT program.
- Students must attend at least 75% of class sessions to receive audit credit that applies toward the COT.
- Students will attend and participate in class lectures, discussions and activities, but will not be expected to complete exams, out-of class assignments or projects required of students taking the class for university credit.
- COT students may complete out of class assignments if they choose, but should not expect the instructor to grade their work. Under no circumstances will a student registered with audit status receive a letter grade for the course.
- A combination of audit and university credits may be applied toward completion of the COT.
- Students may elect to change from Audit to Credit status no later than the last day to add the course. Additional charges will be applied.
- Upon completion of the program coursework, students will receive a Certificate of Training. The COT will not be posted on the student's official WP transcript record.
- Requirements for the COT must be completed within five years of beginning the program.
- Students will be charged a reduced tuition rate within the COT program.

FIRST-YEAR LEARNING COMMUNITY PROGRAM (FYLC)

The FYLC program is a set of three linked courses which focus on issues relevant to incoming first-year freshmen students including: transitioning to college, social support, study skills, and community building. Using the city as their classroom, FYLCs explore topics relevant to Portland, immersing students in interdisciplinary, collaborative, hands-on learning. With this context in mind, the hallmarks of the FYLCs are: 1) cultivating curiosity by approaching relevant real-world issues as co-learners and problem-solvers; 2) using the city as our classroom and teacher; 3) building community that encourages mutual academic, social, emotional, and spiritual support; and 4) connecting otherwise separated aspects of university life by intentionally bringing social, spiritual, and personal growth into the curricular learning context within the framework of the university's mission and values of being Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts, and diverse. The students in each FYLC course will be in at least one other General Education Core class together in the fall semester of their freshman year, as well as a thematically-linked General Education Core class in the spring semester. Dedicated faculty and upper-class peer mentors provide a strong framework of support and connection. The specific FYLC course subjects vary from year to year, based on student and faculty interest. Regardless of the subject area, after participating in the FYLC program students will have:

- developed a sense of belonging among diverse cohort members;
- developed hope in relation to their academic potential and future outlook;
- increased curiosity through the lens of a particular academic discipline that engages a real world issue in the city and beyond;
- improved reading and writing skills to a level that helps prepare them to engage upper-division courses;
- experienced intentional academic support;
- developed spiritually as part of a community and through intentional mentorship;
- developed a greater sense of purpose regarding their education at WPU and as a human being in the world; and
- transformed their orientation toward academic work and faculty.

FAITH AND SERVICE CREDITS

Students enrolled for twelve or more academic credits must accrue at least 25 non-academic Faith and Service Credits per semester. For further explanation, please see The Squire student handbook.

Traditional General Education Core Requirements

GENERAL EDUCATION CORE

According to its Mission Statement, Warner Pacific University is a Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts university dedicated to providing students from diverse backgrounds an education that prepares them to engage actively in a constantly changing world. The General Education Core Curriculum at Warner Pacific University supports this Mission Statement by providing students with a broad-based education in an urban Christian context. Below are definitions of the challenges students face and the objectives that students will be able to achieve upon completing the General Education Core Curriculum at Warner Pacific University.

CORE THEMES

In order to gain a foundation that will encourage them to address General Education Core expectations, students at Warner Pacific University will take required courses which will give them the opportunity to demonstrate the following Core Theme areas.

Christ-Centered: This Core Theme demonstrates an intentional movement from a religion-driven approach to the more active commitment to “be Christ” to those around us. Christ demonstrates what it means to love one another (Luke 10:25-37), how to truly serve others (Matthew 25:35-45), and the importance of reaching out with His message of truth (Matthew 28:19-20). It is this model that Warner Pacific strives to emulate.

Diverse: Rather than focusing on just one marker, diversity at Warner Pacific encompasses several areas, including Multicultural Programs, Social Justice and Activism, Community Collaborations, Multicultural Education, and creating an Equitable Campus Culture.

Urban: The geographic location of Warner Pacific University provides a unique opportunity to embrace, engage, and study the urban environment of a major metropolitan area in the Pacific Northwest. This opportunity has informed Warner Pacific’s intention to be “in the city, for the city” by preparing students to be leaders in business, education, social services, politics, religion, the arts, science, and all manner of related vocations. This core theme calls the Warner Pacific community to apply talents, not for personal gratification, but for the improvement of life in the city.

Liberal Arts: Warner Pacific identifies closely with a study conducted by the American Association of Colleges and Universities (“College Learning for the New Global Century,” AACU, 2007), which described the critical role of American colleges in meeting the world’s “very high expectations for knowledge and skill.” These areas of skill and knowledge include technology, economic development, environmental concerns, urban growth, scientific and medical innovation, global interdependence, cross-cultural encounters, “waves of dislocating change,” and the expected volatility in the public and private lives of citizens. Warner Pacific graduates gain those skills, knowledge, positive behaviors, and attitudes needed to equip them for success in future education, life-long learning, employment, citizenship, community involvement, and family life.

STUDENT OUTCOMES

Cultivating a Christ-Centered Learning Community

- C1. Articulate their own spiritual journey as related to an understanding of God and a connection with others.

- L13. Demonstrate strategies required to create and execute a plan.

The General Education Core Outcomes are designed to be demonstrated by students completing their entire program at Warner Pacific University; students that transfer a significant amount of coursework from other accredited institutions may not demonstrate these competencies to the same degree.

GENERAL EDUCATION CORE REQUIREMENTS FOR BACCALAUREATE DEGREE

The General Education Core consists of four themes and 13 clusters as outlined below; students must complete a minimum of one course/2 credits per cluster (except for the Written Communication cluster, which requires 2 courses). Transfer courses that are determined to be comparable and parallel to Warner Pacific courses will be applied toward General Education Core requirements.

All courses used to satisfy general education core must be completed with a “C-” or higher.

Total Credits for Core

Courses in the major or minor may be used to meet cluster requirements. However, each student must complete a total of 30 credits of General Education Core applicable coursework that is separate from coursework for the major or minor. Students who have completed all 13 clusters but lack the 30 overall credits of non-duplicated General Education Core coursework may select additional Core course options from any of the 13 clusters. To encourage students to experience a range of courses, there is a maximum number of participatory classes that will count for Core Credits (Physical Education: 2 credits; Participatory Art and Music: 3 credits).

DIVISION OF ARTS AND SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES

The Division of Arts and Social and Behavioral Sciences embodies a community of transformation that draws from the narratives and exemplars of the humanistic tradition, the university's founding theological roots, and the studies of social and behavioral sciences. The Division helps students experience and participate in the redemption of self and world, primarily through the discovery, cultivation, and use of their voice in the many aesthetic, cultural, professional, and relational contexts in which they find themselves. The mission of the Division is to equip students to be knowledgeable in their field(s) of study; congruent in their integrity between professional preparation and personal lives; skilled in their areas of concentration; and integrated in their approach to faith and their discipline.

<input type="checkbox"/> TH 501 + 502	Constructive Theology I + II	3 + 3

Graduation Requirements

In order to graduate from Warner Pacific University, a Master of Arts in Biblical and Theological Studies student must accomplish the following:

- Complete the total number of hours required for the degree (42 credits, 30 credit hours in residence).
- Complete all coursework with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. No course grade less than a C- will be applied to the degree requirements.
- Successfully defend a Master thesis to a majority of the RCM faculty and one outside referee.
- Present three (3) error-free copies of the thesis to the Director of the RCM program.
- Be recommended by the Arts and Letters Division to the general faculty for approval.
- Pay all fees in full to the institution.

Graduate students in the Master of Arts in Biblical and Theological Studies program have six years from the date of admission to complete all academic work for the degree. If a student is unable to finish the program in the time allotted, the student must reapply for admission, at which time all previously earned credits will be re-evaluated for current relevance.

MASTER OF RELIGION

The Master of Religion Program (M.Rel.) at Warner Pacific University is designed for the following individuals:

1. A pastor seeking a renewal in ministry.
2. A student seeking further training in biblical studies, historical theology, Christian ethics, or ministry.
3. A professional needing educational advancement in one of our concentrations.
4. A student wanting to prepare for further graduate education.

The Program offers four concentrations: Biblical Studies, Theology, Pastoral Ministries, and Religion and Ethics. Students will be matched with an RCM advisor who specializes in one of these four concentrations. If an advisor is not available in a particular concentration before coursework is completed, a student will need to select a concentration from the remaining concentrations. Students interested in other areas of concentration may apply to tailor the M.Rel. degree in conjunction with other Warner Pacific professors or one of two seminaries in the Portland area.

In addition to the four concentrations currently available, an M.Rel. student may apply to the program for an Independent Concentration. In such cases, core M.Rel. requirements are retained. An Independent Concentration requires 12 credits of concentrated study (six credits in residence) in a specific area of study that relates to religion. All projects and major papers from graduate level courses taught by adjunct graduate faculty must be available for review by the RCM faculty. These submissions must demonstrate significant content in the field of religion as defined by the RCM faculty.

Independent Concentration Application Procedure

1. Submit written proposal for an Independent Concentration to the M.Rel. director.
2. Submit written approval from any non-RCM professor who agrees to serve as Independent Concentration advisor. All Independent Concentration advisors must hold a terminal degree in their field of study. The RCM faculty must authorize all Independent Concentration advisors.
3. Complete the Independent Concentration application. This application will require a proposed course listing with complete course descriptions. Tentative syllabi of any proposed non-RCM courses are preferred. The RCM faculty must approve all non-RCM instructors.
4. The application must be reviewed and approved by the RCM faculty.

If a student is granted an “In Progress” grade at the end of CM 571, the student must register for CM 572, Master Thesis Extension (1 credit) per semester until the student has completed the thesis. Failure to register in an extension course when the thesis has not been approved will be a termination of the program. The student must petition the Director of the Master of Religion Program for reinstatement. Earning an “In Progress” in CM 572 requires the student to enroll in the next extension course the following semester. Summer semesters do not require a thesis extension.

Graduation Requirements

In order to graduate from Warner Pacific University, a Master of Religion student must accomplish the following:

- Complete the total number of credits required for the M.Rel degree (37 credits, 28 credits hours in residence).
- Complete all coursework with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5.
- Successfully defend a Master Thesis or Project to three RCM faculty and one outside referee.
- Attend and participate in a minimum of six graduate colloquium sessions.
- Be recommended by the Arts and Letters Division to the general faculty for approval.
- Pay all fees in full to the institution.

Graduate students in the Master of Religion program have six years from the date of admission to complete all academic work for the degree. If a student is unable to finish the program in the time allotted, the student must reapply for admission, at which time all previously earned credits will be re-evaluated for current relevance.

EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Education Program at Warner Pacific University is Christ-centered and dedicated to serving and learning in the urban context by preparing highly effective, culturally competent, professional educators from diverse backgrounds who think critically, act with integrity, work collaboratively, and serve with passion and purpose.

Dean of Education: Dr. Marty Palacios

Baccalaureate Degree Major: Early Childhood/Elementary Education

Minor: Early Childhood Education

Preliminary Teaching Licensure: Early Childhood Education, Elementary, Middle Level, High School endorsement levels

Masters Degree: Master of Arts in Teaching

Major/Minor Course Statute of Limitations: Courses must have been completed within five years

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Teacher Education at Warner Pacific University provides a Christian liberal arts education along with preparation in a teaching specialty. Faculty members will assist and guide the student to attain each individual's educational career goals.

The Teacher Education Program is approved by the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission. Warner Pacific graduates have established an excellent reputation in the education community and are employed both nationally and internationally. The Teacher Education Handbook guides students who are preparing for a career in education. This handbook is posted on the Education News & Resources page in the LMS.

Undergraduate students pursuing a Preliminary Teaching License for Multiple Subjects (ECE/EL) endorsement must declare an Early Childhood/Elementary Education major.

Students pursuing a preliminary teaching license for middle level and high school (ML/HS) or K-12 will first complete a bachelor degree in one of the approved endorsement areas and then complete the teacher education program at the graduate level in the Master of Arts in Teaching program.

ADMISSION TO THE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Pre-admission to the Teacher Education program requires a formal application and approval procedure including the following:

Undergraduate (ECE/EL) Program

- Successful completion of ED 250
- A personal interview conducted by a Teacher Education Interview Committee
- A personal narrative describing the strengths the applicant would bring to the profession.

Admission to the Teacher Education program is not automatic. It requires a formal application and approval procedure, including the following:

Undergraduate (ECE/EL) Program

1. Pre-admission to the Teacher Education program
2. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 before program admission.
3. Successful completion of ED 250, ED 281, and ED 334 with a grade of "C-" or better.
4. Recommendations from three Warner faculty members and one from an off-campus source.

Graduate (ML/HS & K-12) MAT Program

1. A completed application
2. A bachelor degree with a minimum 3.0 GPA
3. Three recommendations
4. An academic paper demonstrating proficient college level writing ability
5. A passing score on the Protecting Student and Civil Rights in the Educational Environment exam
6. A passing score on the ORELA exam in the licensure content area
7. Fingerprint clearance through TSPC
8. Completion of all prerequisite courses with a grade of C or better:
 - a. ED 260 Human Development and Learning Theory Implications for P-12 (4)
 - b. ED 553U Curriculum Planning and Instruction (with 50 hours practicum) (3)
 - c. ED 515U Classroom Management (with 30 hours practicum) (2)
9. A personal interview conducted by a Teacher Education Interview Committee

TEACHER LICENSURE

Teacher Education students at Warner Pacific University can pursue an Oregon Preliminary Teaching License in the following areas:

Authorizations:

- Early Childhood (Pre-K - Grade 4)
- Elementary Education (Grades 3-8)
- Middle Level (Grades 5-10)
- High School (Grades 7-12)

Endorsements:

- Multiple Subjects (ECE/EL)
- Advanced Mathematics (ML/HS)
- Biology (ML/HS)
- English Language Arts (ML/HS)
- Health (ML/HS)
- Physical Education (ML/HS)
- Social Studies (ML/HS)

Endorsements, Add-On Only:

- Reading Interventionist
- SPED: Special Education
- ESOL: English for Speakers of Other Languages

Checklists for individual areas of licensure are available from the approved subject matter advisor.

Students are responsible for fees associated with licensure including ORELA, edTPA, licensure fees, fingerprinting, and licensure assessments as determined by TSPC. Additional information regarding the most up-to-date estimate of fees related to assessment and licensure can be found at <http://www.oregon.gov/tspc/Pages/Testing.aspx> and <http://www.oregon.gov/tspc/Pages/Fees.aspx>.

POST-BACCALAUREATE TEACHER EDUCATION STUDENTS

Students who have already completed a bachelor degree and are considering teaching as a career may qualify for the Early Childhood/Elementary Education teaching license by completing a minimum of three semesters of resident study at Warner Pacific, including the student teaching semester (36 semester credits minimum). After a careful analysis and comparison of the student's transcripts with the Warner Pacific University approved program, a plan of study is developed.

TESTING REQUIRED FOR PROGRAM COMPLETION

In Oregon, a system of multiple measures is used to determine the status of "program completer." One component of this system requires the candidate to pass a battery of subject matter exams, and the Civil Rights and Equity in the Educational Environment Examination. In the undergraduate program, the subject matter exams and the Civil Rights Exam must be passed prior to Student Teaching I. In the graduate (MAT) program, all exams must be passed before beginning the program.

COMPLIANCE INFORMATION

Test Pass Rates

Because the passage of subject matter tests is required for program completion in Oregon, the state pass rate is 100%. Individuals who do not pass the required tests are not considered to be program completers and are not eligible for Preliminary Teaching Licenses. Warner Pacific University is not classified as a low-performing institution.

edTPA

For Oregon licensure, Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) requires that candidates' evidence is nationally evaluated and scored within five dimensions of teaching: planning instruction, and assessment; instructing and engaging student in learning; assessing student learning; analysis of teaching effectiveness; and academic language development. To meet TSPC licensure requirements, successful completion of edTPA and student teaching is required of all teacher candidates in the State of Oregon. Additional information regarding TSPC licensure requirements can be located at www.oregon.gov/tspc/pages/index.asp

Program Information

During the 2016-2017 academic year, 74 students were enrolled in the Teacher Education program. A minimum of 600 hours (40 hours per week for 15 weeks) was required to complete supervised practice teaching; the student to faculty ratio in supervised practice teaching was 3:1.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Non-Licensed Option: Family Work/Pre-Kindergarten Teaching

A graduate with a Human Development Family Studies major and an Early Childhood minor is well prepared to be a teacher of young children and to work with families. Graduates may assume teaching roles in programs that do not require an Oregon teaching license. Graduates who apply to the Oregon Early Childhood Professional Development Registry meet Level IV requirements.

Licensed Option Early Childhood Licensure

A graduate with a major in Early Childhood and Elementary Education who is admitted to the Teacher Education Program and meets the Early Childhood Authorization requirements is licensed to teach children in Oregon public schools age three through grade four. Students completing the Elementary Authorization at the same time are licensed to teach through the 8th grade.

MASTER OF ARTS in TEACHING

The Master of Arts in Teaching program for middle/high school licensure is designed for traditional students completing a bachelor degree at Warner Pacific University and wishing to pursue ML/HS and K-12 Licensure. Course and program requirements are dependent upon state teacher licensure rules (OAR 584). Teacher candidates must complete the requirements in effect at the time of licensure.

Students will begin the admission process during their junior year, completing all prerequisite courses, exams, and application materials prior to graduation. The MAT program begins in the May immediately following graduation and is completed by December. A graduate level Capstone paper is required, along with successful completion of 16 weeks of student teaching, an edTPA and an integrated unit.

Prerequisites: ED 260, ED 515(U), ED 535(U) and admission to the Teacher Education program (see Program Handbook for requirements). ED 260, ED 515(U) and ED 535(U) apply as electives for the undergraduate degree, as well as fulfilling requirements in the M.A.T.

35 credits: 29 credits in residence.

NOTE: Oregon teacher licensure is dependent upon the graduate completing all Teacher Standards and Practices requirements in effect at the time of licensure application (OAR 584).

Graduation Requirements

In order to graduate from Warner Pacific University, a Master of Arts in Teaching student must accomplish the following:

- Complete a minimum of 35 credits.
- Passing scores on required exams
- Cleared background check
- Complete the approved Master of Arts in Teaching program coursework.
- Achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 with no individual course grade lower than “C-”.
- Successfully complete a minimum of 15 weeks of student teaching and submit an edTPA to Pearson for evaluation.
- Pay all fees in full to the institution.

The MAT is a cohort-based program in which students are expected to complete program requirements in the prescribed eight month period; in cases where a stop-out is necessary, the student may join the next cohort of MAT students in the following academic year. MAT coursework must be completed within two years of beginning the program. If a student is unable to finish the program in the time allotted, the student must reapply for admission, at which time all previously earned credits will be re-evaluated for current relevance

DIVISION OF NATURAL SCIENCES AND HEALTH

The mission of the Division of Natural Sciences and Health is to help students gain a solid foundation in math, the sciences, and health in order to help them achieve their goals in their selected field of service and to confront the technological, social, moral, and spiritual challenges to be faced in the future.

Division Dean: Dr. Beth DuPriest

Baccalaureate Degree Majors: Biological Science (emphases in General Biology and Human Biology), Kinesiology, Physical Science, Sports Medicine, Sports Management (emphases in Administrative and Coaching)

Minors: Biology, Chemistry, Coaching, Health, Mathematics, Physical Education, Sports Management

Associate Degree Majors: Health Sciences, Life Sciences, Sports Performance

Major/Minor Course Statute of Limitations: Courses applied toward Biological Science, Kinesiology, and Physical Science majors/minors must have been completed within five years; courses applied toward the Sports Medicine and Sports Management majors and the Coaching and Physical Education minors must have been completed within ten years.

Course Subject Areas: Biological Science, Chemistry, Environmental Science, Health, Kinesiology, Mathematics, Physical Education, Physical Science, Physics, Sports Medicine, Sports Management

BACCALAUREATE DEGREE MAJORS

B.S. in BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE, General Biology Emphasis

This degree supports a core of general biological knowledge and skills and is designed to provide background necessary to facilitate careers in the major areas of biology. It is intended to support the needs of students who are seeking to pursue graduate school or are interested in secondary biology education.

<input type="checkbox"/> PHY 222	General Physics II	4
<input type="checkbox"/> CHEM 302	Organic Chemistry II	4
<input type="checkbox"/> CHEM 412	Biochemistry	4

Upon successful completion of the major in Biological Science, graduates will be able to:

- Demonstrate a comprehension of the fundamental concepts, theories, language and historical context of the biological sciences.
- Demonstrate the ability to integrate the disciplines within the sciences and mathematics in order to critically approach and evaluate theories, quantitatively analyze data, and solve problems.
- Understand and apply scientific methodologies through the formulation of hypotheses, use of current research technologies and statistical applications, and the evaluation and presentation of results.
- Effectively communicate their approach to data analysis and problem solving in both written and oral form.
- Demonstrate the use of basic technical skills related to the practice of biology.
- Articulate their worldview of the integral relationship science and faith have in relation to the ethical, moral and spiritual issues of our society.

B.S. in KINESIOLOGY

This major supports a core of general science and human kinetics knowledge and skills and is designed to provide background necessary to facilitate careers in physical therapy or occupational therapy, and to prepare those who are seeking to pursue graduate school in exercise science, kinesiology, or related fields. It can also prepare students interested in K-12 physical education, if followed by the MAT 4.5.

BIO 420	Mammalian Physiology (4)	PSY 140	General Psychology (3)
CHEM 301	Organic Chemistry I (4)	PSY 314	Abnormal Psychology (3)

Upon successful completion of the major in Kinesiology, graduates will be able to:

- Demonstrate an awareness of the basic concepts, theories, models, language, issues, current trends and historical developments related to human health and kinesiology.
- Effectively communicate their approach to planning and problem solving both in written and oral form as it relates to kinesiology.
- Demonstrate the ability to integrate the disciplines within health and the sciences in order to critically approach and evaluate theories, create plans for and assess progress of clients, and solve problems.
- Critically evaluate and apply current research and data in the field of kinesiology.
- Identify and explore the moral and ethical challenges related to kinesiology.
- Demonstrate skills necessary for professional service in kinesiology.
- Develop an awareness of the value of membership and participation in professional organizations (certification).

B.S. in PHYSICAL SCIENCE

This degree supports a core of general knowledge and skills in the physical sciences. It is intended to support the needs of students who are seeking careers in chemistry, the physical sciences or secondary chemistry or physical science education.

42 credits: 15 credits in residence, 18 credits upper division. Required:

<input type="checkbox"/> CHEM 211 + 212	General Chemistry I + II	4+4
<input type="checkbox"/> PHY 221 +222	General Physics I + II	4+4
<input type="checkbox"/> MA 251 +252	Calculus I + II	4+4
<input type="checkbox"/> Upper division Chemistry, Physics, Physical Science or Math electives		18

Upon successful completion of the major in Physical Science, graduates will be able to:

- Demonstrate a comprehension of the fundamental concepts, theories and models necessary to the understanding of the physical sciences and mathematics.
- Demonstrate the ability to integrate the disciplines within the sciences and mathematics in order to critically approach and evaluate theories, analyze data, and solve problems.
- Understand and apply scientific methodologies through the formulation of hypotheses, use of current research technologies and statistical applications, and the evaluation and presentation of results.
- Effectively communicate their approach to data analysis and problem solving both in written and oral form.
- Demonstrate a comprehension of the historical context and development of the physical sciences over the years.
- Explore science, faith and their integral relationship with the ethical, moral and spiritual issues of our society.

B.S. in SPORTS MANAGEMENT: Administrative Emphasis

This degree provides students with the planning, administration, and leadership skills needed to contribute to the success of organizations that focus on sports activities, sports products, or sports services. Graduates will be prepared to work in interscholastic athletic departments, sports related companies, or fitness centers in the areas of administration, sales, marketing, or management.

49 credits: 24 credits in residence, 24 credits upper division.

Core Requirements:

<input type="checkbox"/> BUS 120	Intro to Business and Personal Finance	3
<input type="checkbox"/> KIN 230	Introduction to Kinesiology	3

<input type="checkbox"/> SRM 360	Sports Finance	3
<input type="checkbox"/> SRM 450	Sports Law	3
<input type="checkbox"/> SRM 460	Sports Marketing	3

Upon successful completion of the major in Sports Management with Administrative emphasis, graduates will be able to:

- Identify fundamental theories, concepts, and terminology relevant to the field of sports management.
- Understand and apply financial principles and accounting, finance, marketing and data analysis in the world of sport.
- Illustrate the diverse ethical and legal issues that are likely to be encountered in the sports industry.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how cultural traditions, social values, and lived experiences of society display themselves in sport.
- Demonstrate information literacy and oral, written, and group communication skills.
- Use organizational and administrative skills to plan a sporting event.
- Apply sports management concepts in a professional setting.

B.S. in SPORTS MANAGEMENT: Coaching Emphasis

This degree will provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary for careers in coaching, certified personal training, and K-12 physical education (if followed by the MAT 4.5). There is a strong emphasis in body mechanics and the physical aspects of coaching, as well as training for the psychological and social components. Graduates will be well prepared for lifetime careers in coaching at the recreational, high school, or college levels, as well as for careers working in fitness and athletic training.

50 credits: 24 in residence, 22 credits upper division

Core requirements:

<input type="checkbox"/> BUS 120	Intro to Business and Personal Finance	3

<input type="checkbox"/> SRM 340	Sports Psychology	3

Upon successful completion of the major in Sports Management with Coaching emphasis, graduates will be able to:

- Identify fundamental theories, concepts, and terminology relevant to the field of sports management.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how cultural traditions, social values, and lived experiences of society display themselves in sport.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how the human body functions and how to care for and prevent athletic injuries.
- Explain how athletes can learn, understand, and create functional and safe movement patterns.
- Design physical training, nutritional and mental training skills programs that can enhance athletic performance to help athletes reach their performance potential.

- Demonstrate information literacy and oral, written, and group communication skills.
- Use organizational and administrative skills to plan a sporting event.
- Apply sports management concepts in a professional setting.

To complete the A.S. Degree, students must also complete a total of 60 credits and all A.S. core requirements. This major includes 1 courses that will also apply to the A.S. core requirements: BIO 121 (Scientific Reasoning). There are also elective options that could apply to core: HE 210 (Holistic World View), SRM 250 (Ethics), SRM 260 (Diversity), SRM 340 (Urban Life).

Warner Pacific University's Nursing Programs exist to educate and prepare students with diverse backgrounds to flourish as professional nurses advocating for recipients of care. As offerings of a Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts university, the Nursing Programs engage diverse students in an innovative, formational learning community. Faculty and students co-develop and nurture self-aware and culturally intelligent nurses. Students demonstrate professional skill, ethical practice, compassionate care, a collaborative spirit, and a commitment to lifelong learning and nursing excellence.

Dean of Nursing: Dr. Linda Campbell

Prelicensure BSN Degree Program: For the traditional or transfer student who seeks a BSN Degree Program that prepares graduates to take the NCLEX-RN, obtain a State-issued license to practice, and pursue employment as an RN.

Initial Licensure: Generalist BSN-prepared graduates are eligible to take the NCLEX-RN. Upon passing, the selected State Board of Nursing reviews applications and issues licenses.

Major Course Statute of Limitations: Prerequisite science courses must have been completed within seven years. Courses in the upper division Nursing Cohort must be completed within five years of matriculation.

Location: Warner Pacific University (WPU) Centre 205 East Campus, one mile east of Mt. Tabor Campus near Division & I-205: 2600 SE 98th Ave., Suite 200, Portland, OR 97266. Clinical experiences are at a variety of facilities across the Portland metro area and some rural sites within driving distance.

ADMISSION TO THE NURSING PROGRAM

The prelicensure BSN Degree Program has established criteria for admission that it believes will best position students to be successful and in accordance with common academic nursing requirements.

Application to the BSN Degree Program

All required materials and verifications must be submitted to the Warner Pacific University Admissions Office by April 15 (Fall Cohort Applications) or by October 15 (Spring Cohort Applications). This secondary application and approval process includes:

1. Verification through transcript analysis by WPU's Records Office for completion of the following prerequisite courses:
 - a. Human Anatomy & Physiology series (not introductory), equivalent to two semesters, completed within the past seven years
 - b. 1 course in Microbiology with lab, completed within the past seven years
 - c. 1 course in Chemistry with lab (>100 level), completed within the past seven years
 - d. 1 college level Math course (>100 level)
 - e. 1 course in General Psychology
 - f. 1 course in General Sociology
 - g. 1 course in Life-Span Human Development
 - h. Junior standing with completion of WPU general education core requirements (refer to transcript evaluation from WPU Records)
2. Verification through transcript analysis by WPU's Records Office of a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 or higher from all previous college coursework.
3. Verification through transcript analysis by WPU's Records Office of a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher on all prerequisite science courses taken within the past seven years. Note: For science courses taken more than once in the past seven years, the Records Office will use the higher GPA of the first two attempts for this calculation.
4. Submission of your response to the following essay question: Diversity is a core theme of Warner Pacific University, and increasing diversity in nursing is a goal of the Department of Nursing. In 500 words or less (typed, double-spaced with one-inch margins, include your name), please discuss why you think it is important to have diverse persons in healthcare delivery and how in the future you will contribute to diversity in nursing.
5. Submission of your information regarding current or previous healthcare experience. You may upload a resume or short response that identifies any current or previous healthcare experience and any education, training, license, or certification you have had in a healthcare-related field (e.g., LPN, CNA, EMT, Military Medic, etc.).

Admission to the BSN Degree Program

1. Prospective students: Apply to Warner Pacific University, completing all elements (WPU essay, official transcripts, FAFSA if you are planning to file one, etc.).
2. When you have met prerequisite and general education core requirements (or are completing these in the current academic term), submit your completed BSN Degree Program application as follows:
 - a. Prospective WPU students: Complete the electronic BSN application when applying to WPU.
 - b. Current WPU students: Submit the completed BSN application packet at the Admissions Office. Students should apply by April 15 for Fall admission and by October 15 for Spring admission.
3. The Department of Nursing reserves the right to request an interview (virtual or face-to-face) to determine fit with the BSN Degree Program.
4. The Department of Nursing will make decisions and will notify accepted students by phone and/or email. Those accepted into the BSN Degree Program will submit a $200 tuition deposit to secure their spot.

MAINTAINING GOOD STANDING IN THE NURSING PROGRAM

In order to maintain good standing and eligibility to earn a BSN Degree, students who have been admitted to the Nursing Major must:

1. Maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher and a minimum GPA of 2.5 in Nursing courses. Each course in the major must be passed with a minimum grade of "C-".
2. Declare and document any subsequent reportable behavior (as gathered in a background check) after program admission.

COSTS

Tuition and Fees: See the Tuition and Fees section of this catalog.

Other First Semester Costs: Individual consumable supplies: Scrubs (two sets): Purchase from WPU-Medline Website, Stethoscope, Bandage scissors, Watch with second hand, Kaplan

SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

The mission of the Social Work Program is to “equip students for ethical and competent generalist practice based on a liberal arts education within the context of a Christ-centered, urban, and diverse community to positively impact the world”.

The WPU Social Work Program goals are to provide graduates to the community, region, and beyond who:

- 1. Demonstrate mastery of the knowledge, theory, and historical context of the profession of social work within a liberal arts base to be able to consider a myriad of social problems and act to prevent or intervene;*
- 2. Integrate this interdisciplinary knowledge with the values and ethics of social work to focus on promoting justice and common good;*
- 3. Consistently show strengths-based practice behaviors and skills that are congruent with ethical, competent, and creative practice; and*
- 4. Apply the knowledge values and skills of social work to multi-level systems to enhance quality of life and instill hope for the future.*

Dean of Social Work: Dr. Stephanie Mace

ADMISSION TO THE SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

The WPU Social Work Program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE), the national association representing social work education in the United States. The Social Work Program has established the criteria for admission that it believes will best position students to be successful in the field of social work and in accordance with common registration and/or licensing requirements. The Social Work Application Packet is available electronically and in print from the Social Work Program. It is also distributed and discussed during Social Work Information Meetings and as part of SW 200, Exploring Social Work. It articulates the time frame, academic and other requirements, and expectations for admission, and also includes the Social Work Student Handbook. The application packet contains all necessary forms and instructions. Prior to formal application, students are encouraged to discuss any concerns with their advisor or the Program Director. Students must be admitted to the Social Work Program prior to enrolling in the social work field education courses (SW 491, SW 492, SW 495, and SW 496).

The application approval process includes:

1. Completion of SW 200 Exploring Social Work and achievement of sophomore class standing.
2. A cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 or higher and a minimum of 2.5 GPA in Social Work courses. Coursework required for the Social Work Major must be completed with a grade of C- or higher. Warner Pacific does not grant Social Work course credit for life experience or previous work experience.
3. Completion of Social Work Program Application .
4. Disclosure of criminal history and/or pending charges. Formal verification may be required by the Social Work Program and/or the Field Practicum site.
5. Submission of two letters of reference: One reference should be from a non-social work WPU faculty or staff person, and one from non-relative source with personal knowledge of the student’s character, suitability for the social work profession, and experience.
6. A personal narrative of 750-1000 words in APA style that demonstrates competent and professional writing and communication skills is required of all applicants. It must include:
 - a. A summary of life experiences, perspectives, and motivation that brought the student to the point of application;
 - b. A discussion of personal values and ethics and degree of congruency with the NASW Code of Ethics and the overall purpose of the social work profession;
 - c. A personal assessment of strengths and challenges that may impact the student’s future career
 - d. A summary of knowledge and experience with diversity, human rights, and justice
 - e. A description of how the student intends to use the Social Work degree
7. Participation in a personal interview with the social work faculty and at least one other non-social work faculty member.

MAINTAINING GOOD STANDING IN THE SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM

In order to maintain good standing and eligibility to earn a Social Work degree, students who have been admitted to the Social Work program must:

1. Maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher and a minimum GPA of 2.5 in Social Work courses. Each course in the major must be passed with a minimum grade of “C-”.
2. Report and document any subsequent criminal behavior after program admission.

OFF-CAMPUS STUDY (OCS) PROGRAMS

Warner Pacific offers several opportunities for off-campus study through a partnership with the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU).

Application Eligibility

- Minimum of one semester full-time attendance at WPU before application to OCS
- Proof of a cumulative GPA of 2.75
- FAFSA/waiver on file with Student Financial Services (if applicable)
- Junior or Senior class standing during OCS term

Application Process

All students interested in any off-campus study program need to complete the WPU OCS Process before applying to an off-campus study program. The WPU OCS Process consists of the following:

1. Forms: Completion and submit the required forms to the Records Office, including the Standards Form, Application Form, and Reference Form. :
2. Go to <https://www.cccuglobaled.org/> to research chosen program and begin the CCCU GlobalEd application process (done concurrently with the WPU OCS process).
3. Interview: All applicants will be interviewed by the WPU OCS Selection Committee
4. Selection: Successful applicants will be notified of their eligibility to apply directly to their target OCS Programs with ample time to meet the individual application deadlines of their selected OCS Programs
 - Currently, a maximum of four (4) students per academic year are selected by the WPU OCS Selection Committee to represent WPU at Off-Campus Study Programs. These four students are eligible to have their WPU financial aid applied to the costs of their off-campus study term. Students participating in an off-campus study program may be subject to additional charges.
 - Students must be approved by both the WPU OCS Selection Committee and the CCCU Global Ed selection process to be eligible for full OCS benefits.
 - Students who participate in an OCS Program without being selected need to check with Student Financial Services as there is no guarantee of any WPU financial aid for the off-campus study term.

Contact the Records Office for information and forms about the WPU OCS Process.

CCCU OFF-CAMPUS STUDY SEMESTER PROGRAMS

The Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU), an association of 113 members and 73 affiliate institutions in 23 countries, offers the following semester and summer programs to students of its member institutions. The programs offer a unique opportunity for students to make the world their classroom, going beyond the confines of the traditional learning environment. These interdisciplinary learning opportunities are available to juniors and seniors, while some programs also accept second-semester sophomores. For further information, visit <https://www.cccuglobal.org/>

American Studies Program (ASP)

Since 1976, the American Studies Program has served as an experiential learning laboratory for students committed to connecting their faith to public affairs. Nearly 500 of ASP's 3,000+ alumni have returned to work in the DC metro area in a variety of professional fields—private and public, for-profit and non-profit. Each student enrolls in the program's two practicum courses: Internship and Professional Development Practicum. In addition, students apply to either the Public Policy track or the Strategic Communication track. The Public Policy track equips and supports students in their analysis of a pressing public policy issue. Each student produces original research by engaging area experts and practitioners off-site and in the classroom as they investigate the local, national and global factors that influence policy-making in Washington, D.C. The Strategic Communication track engages Washington, D.C.-based organizations and communication professionals to explore the role of strategic communication in achieving organizational goals. Field-work activities explore current best practices in communicating critical organizational messages to key internal and external constituents and stakeholders. Students compare how different types of organizations set strategic direction, develop and evaluate messages, choose appropriate communication channels and tactics, and measure output and impact outcomes. ASP students earn 15–16 semester credits.

Contemporary Music Center (CMC)

The Contemporary Music Center provides students with the opportunity to live and work in the refining context of community while seeking to understand how God will have them integrate music, faith and business. The CMC offers three tracks: Artist, Business and Technical. The Artist Track is tailored to students considering careers as vocalists, musicians, songwriters, recording artists, performers and producers. The Business Track is designed for business, arts management, marketing, communications and related majors interested in possible careers as artist managers, agents, record company executives, music publishers, concert promoters and entertainment industry entrepreneurs. The Technical Track prepares students for careers in live sound, concert lighting and studio recording. Students within each of the tracks receive instruction, experience, and a uniquely Christ-centered perspective on creativity and the marketplace, while working together to mount and execute a week-long tour at the end of the semester. Each track includes coursework, labs, directed study, and a practicum. CMC students earn 16 semester credits.

Middle East Studies Program (MESP)

Based in Amman, Jordan, this program offers students the unique opportunity to become immersed in the complex and strategically central modern Middle East. Under the guidance of a staff with over 30 years of experience living in the region, students live together in a close-knit community and explore the diverse religious, social, cultural and political traditions of Middle Eastern peoples through interdisciplinary seminars. Students also earn up to 6 credits of advanced Arabic language and serve at local organizations with the opportunity to earn intercultural internship/practicum credit throughout the semester. During the program's substantial travel components (recently including Israel/Palestine, Islamic Spain, Morocco, and Turkey), students participate in homestays and discover the diversity and dynamism of Middle Eastern cultures by experiencing their foods, customs, schools, neighborhoods, and places of worship. At a time of change in the Middle East, MESP empowers and equips students to relate to Muslim, Eastern Christian, and Jewish peoples in a guided and Christ-centered approach. MESP students earn 15-18 semester credits.

Oxford Summer Programme (OSP)

The Oxford Summer Programme pairs students with Oxford University professors to do intensive scholarship in the oldest university in the English-speaking world. During the four-week programme, students hone their research and writing skills and delve into their chosen disciplines, occasionally traveling the United Kingdom to explore the relationship between Christianity and the development of the British Isles. Seminars and tutorials (one-on-one mentorships sessions with expert Oxford scholars) feature specialized topics in the areas of English language and literature, history, art, science, philosophy, and theology. The programme is structured for rising college sophomores, juniors, and seniors, as well as graduate and seminary students, non-traditional students, teachers, and those enrolled in continuing education programs. OSP students earn 6 semester credits.

The Scholars' Semester in Oxford (SSO)

The Scholars' Semester in Oxford is specifically designed for students seeking an academically rigorous and robust experience. As official Registered Visiting Students of Oxford University, students study within Oxford's acclaimed tutorial pedagogy to receive weekly, one-on-one instruction from a faculty comprised of widely-published authors, historians, former international ambassadors, and other celebrated scholars. Students choose from hundreds of subjects within the disciplines of Classics, English Language and Literature, History, History of Art, Modern Languages (French, German, Italian, Portuguese, and Russian), Musicology, Philosophy, Psychology, or Theology, and earn access to Oxford's 119 libraries featuring 11 million books and outstanding electronic resources. SSO students enroll in a primary and secondary tutorial, an independent undergraduate research seminar, and a British core course featuring frequent travel around the British Isles. SSO also offers 18 thematic or integrative concentrations including Gender Studies, Film Studies, Philosophy of Science, and more. If choosing to return for a second term, students write a substantial thesis on a topic of their choice. Applicants are generally honors students and must have at minimum a 3.7 GPA to be considered for the programme. SSO students earn 17 semester credits for a semester and may complete two semesters of the programme.

Special Welcome to PGS Students

Welcome to the Warner Pacific community! We are so glad that you have chosen to join us as you pursue your educational goals. Our goal is to give you support and encouragement as you engage in an experience that will help you develop deeper understandings and stronger skills. We look forward to celebrating your growth and accomplishments with you when you graduate!

Traditionally, a university education is available only to those who have the time and resources to spend several years away from work and often away from home in order to pursue university studies. The Professional and Graduate Studies program (PGS) offers a distinctive alternative to a traditional university format. It is specifically designed for adult learners who:

1. Have significant professional or volunteer work experience.
2. Desire to take classes at times that allow employment or other activities during the day.
3. Have responsibilities that may require a non-traditional approach to continuing their education.

Through its Professional and Graduate Studies program, Warner Pacific University serves the needs of adult learners by helping them assess personal values, expand interpersonal skills, and enhance professional competencies. Instructional strategies are based on adult learning theory and honor the experience adults bring to the learning environment.

Our purpose as a university is to develop persons as change agents characterized by integrity and dedicated to personal and social transformation, a sense of mutual responsibility, and a pursuit of personal excellence. The Professional and Graduate Studies program at Warner Pacific University endeavors to ensure that the student's education has a positive impact on every aspect of life. Administration and faculty are at the center of a dedicated community whose focus is to help adult students achieve their personal and professional goals. Classes meet in a variety of formats, including one night per week, online, and hybrid, allowing the student to plan ahead and make education accessible in the midst of the demands of careers and families. A dedicated, professionally experienced faculty delivers a curriculum that, in every delivery format, integrates theory and practice to ensure that the student's education is relevant and has an immediate positive impact on every aspect of life – career, family, and community.

Should you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact PGS Records or your academic advisor. We want to make sure you have everything you need to succeed.

Again, welcome to Warner Pacific University! We're glad you're here!

Lori K. Jass, Ed.D.

Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs

Dean of Adult Education

PGS Admissions Policies and Procedures

ADMISSION

The Professional and Graduate Studies program at Warner Pacific University selects candidates for admission who value a Christ-centered liberal arts education, who have experience in a broad range of careers and disciplines, and who can benefit from, and contribute to, the opportunities offered at the university. The admission requirements for each program are outlined in detail in this section.

CAMPUS VISIT

The Professional and Graduate Studies approach allows students to work full-time and go to school full-time while providing the opportunity for each activity to complement the other. A student's work experience is utilized within the classroom environment and what is learned in the classroom can be applied in the workplace the next day. Prospective students may visit classes by special arrangement with Enrollment staff.

WHEN TO APPLY

Applications are accepted at any time, with cohort start dates projected throughout the calendar year. Students should apply at least two months from their expected start date (calendars are available from Enrollment Representatives).

HOW TO APPLY

To obtain application materials and information, contact the PGS Enrollment Office by phone, 503-517-1550. Completed materials may be mailed to:

Office of Admission
Warner Pacific University
2219 SE 68th Avenue
Portland, Oregon 97215-4026

Prospective students are encouraged to apply online at Warner Pacific University website at <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/admissions-aid/apply/>.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: UNDERGRADUATE

The following are required to complete the application process:

1. Completed Warner Pacific University application for admission
2. Signed Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) form
3. Application fee
4. Official transcripts from all higher education institutions attended.
 - o If transferring in fewer than six semester credits, official high school transcripts are required. Applicants who were home-schooled are required to provide a transcript or the equivalent, signed by the parent or guardian of a home-schooled student that lists the secondary school courses the student completed and documents the successful completion of a secondary school education in a home-school setting.
 - o Unofficial transcripts may be used for initial evaluation purposes; however, official transcripts must be received by the end of the second course. Students who fail to submit official transcripts will be administratively withdrawn.
5. Minimum GPA of 2.0 on previous college coursework
 - o Applicants who have a cumulative entering grade point average between 1.75 and 1.99, and who have not taken any college coursework for a period of at least three years, may be considered for admission on academic probation through the Academic Forgiveness Policy.
 - o Applicants who have a cumulative GPA below 2.0 but demonstrate ability and motivation to achieve academic success may be considered for admission on academic probation by action of the Admissions Review Committee.
6. Successful applicants entering the associate program will have at least one year of full-time work experience; successful applicants entering the bachelor programs will have at least two years of full-time work experience and be currently employed, or if temporarily unemployed, able to verify access to a work/organizational environment.
7. English proficiency: Students whose native language is not English may be required to demonstrate English proficiency. The TOEFL (70+), IELTS (6.0+), Duolingo English Test (95+) or other appropriate instruments may be used for this purpose. Students may also demonstrate proficiency by presenting one of the following: 1) Transcripts from an accredited US institution of higher education that demonstrate completion of at least 2 English composition courses completed with grades of C- or higher, or 2) Documentation that the student completed their entire secondary school education in the English language.
8. Any additional requirements for the student's selected program, as detailed in the following section.
9. Applicants who do not meet minimum admission requirements will be referred to the Admissions Review Committee for evaluation.

ADDITIONAL ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: UNDERGRADUATE

Listed below are additional requirements needed to enter specific programs:

All Associate degree programs

1. High School Graduation (Diploma or GED)

All Baccalaureate programs (Major cohort courses)

1. Minimum of 48 semester (72 quarter) college-level credits from an accredited college or university or from CLEP, ACE, or other standard evaluation. WPU limits non-traditional credits (CLEP, ACE, etc.) to a maximum of 30 credits.

Bachelor of Arts in Accounting, Bachelor of Arts in Finance, and Bachelor of Arts in Accounting and Finance programs

1. Successful completion of a first year accounting series or its equivalency, grades of C- or higher, within the five-year period prior to entering the bachelor program.
2. Successful completion of a Computer Applications course (including coverage of Excel spreadsheets) or equivalent demonstrated proficiency.
3. Successful completion of a college-level Business Mathematics or College Algebra course or equivalent demonstrated proficiency.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing (RN to BSN) program

1. Successful completion of an associate degree/diploma nursing program
 - o The previous coursework must include successful completion (grades of "C-" or higher) of a college-level, non-introductory sequence in Human Anatomy & Physiology. This requirement may be waived for students who demonstrate at least 5 years of continuous, current practice as a registered nurse.
 - o Successful completion of one course in Microbiology with lab is strongly recommended, though not required for admission.
2. Current unencumbered RN license

Paraprofessional Education Program

The Paraprofessional Education Program is for candidates currently employed by one of the six partnering school districts in Multnomah County: Centennial, David-Douglas, Gresham-Barlow, Parkrose, Reynolds, and Portland Public Schools. The PEP is designed to support para-educators in earning a Bachelor's of Science in Early Childhood/Elementary Education that will lead to a preliminary teaching license in elementary – multiple subjects.

Additional admission requirement include:

1. A personal narrative stating "Why I want to be a teacher" (to be completed during ED 250A)
2. Three recommendations (2 from school district, 1 from WPU faculty/staff)
3. A group interview during ED 250A
4. Fingerprinting and background clearance as a pre-service teacher as outlined by TSPC

The teacher education faculty will review your application materials during the semester you are taking ED 250A, and you will receive full admission, conditional admission, or denial of admission to the program. You will be given an opportunity to correct deficiencies and/or appeal an adverse decision, but you will not be allowed to continue taking education courses until you are fully admitted into the program.

Note that you must also earn a grade of C or better in ED 250A in order to continue taking education courses.

Warner Pacific University does not discriminate in its student admission and employment practices and provides equal opportunity for all student applicants and employees regardless of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, age, veteran status, and any other status protected by laws and regulations. The complete Equal Opportunity policy is included in Appendix D of the Undergraduate Teacher Education Handbook.

4. Official secondary school transcript sent directly from the school or test scores from the General Educational Development Test (GED) are required for all applicants to the freshman class and to transfer students who have earned fewer than 12 semester college credits.
5. Official transcript of all college and university grades and coursework. All coursework completed outside of the United States should be sent directly from the institution to a recognized credit evaluation service. Warner Pacific University recommends the following evaluation service providers for coursework completed outside the United States:
 - InCred International Credit Evaluations, Web: www.incredevals.org, Email: InCred@naia.org (Required for varsity athletes)
 - World Education Service (WES), Web: www.wes.org, Email: info@wes.org
6. Minimum GPA of 2.0 on previous college coursework.
 - o Applicants who have a cumulative entering grade point average between 1.75 and 1.99, and who have not taken any college coursework for a period of at least three years, may be considered for admission on academic probation through the Academic Forgiveness Policy.
 - o Applicants who have a cumulative GPA below 2.0 but demonstrate ability and motivation to achieve academic success may be considered for admission on academic probation by action of the Admissions Review Committee.
7. Successful applicants entering the associate program will have at least one year of full-time work experience; successful applicants entering the bachelor programs will have at least two years of full-time work experience and be currently employed, or if temporarily unemployed, able to verify access to a work/organizational environment.
8. English proficiency: Students whose native language is not English are required to demonstrate English proficiency. The TOEFL (70+), IELTS (6.0+), Duolingo English Test (95+) or other appropriate instruments may be used for this purpose. Students may also demonstrate proficiency by presenting one of the following: 1) Transcripts from an accredited US institution of higher education that demonstrate completion of at least 2 English composition courses completed with grades of C- or higher, or 2) Documentation that the student completed their entire secondary school education in the English language.
9. Evidence of adequate financial support by submission of official/notarized bank statements, demonstrating they have the funds to cover the cost of the program.

ADMISSION DECISION - UNDERGRADUATE

Each candidate for admission is reviewed individually with careful consideration given to academic records, and the ability to benefit from and contribute to the opportunities offered at the university. Warner Pacific University complies with federal and state requirements for non-discrimination on the basis of handicap, sex, race, color, national or ethnic origin in admission and access to its programs and activities. Warner Pacific University reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant when that decision is determined to be in the best interest of the applicant or the institution. When a candidate has completed the application process, one of the following decisions will be made::

1. Admission in Good Standing
Applicant met all criteria and was admitted in good standing.
2. Admission with Conditions
Applicant did not meet all criteria but will enter the program with clear understanding and deadlines to meet all criteria within a defined timeframe. The student is considered to be a degree-seeking student. Conditionally admitted students who do not meet all the criteria by the stated deadline will be administratively withdrawn from the University.
Common reasons for undergraduate students to be admitted conditionally include:
 - o Missing official transcripts
Once matriculated, students must submit official transcripts from all schools previously attended by the end of the second course, or risk administrative withdrawals from all remaining courses
 - o Low Admit GPA
Applicant did not meet required GPA requirement but will enter the university on academic probation for the first three courses. Students on academic probation must earn at least a "C-" in each of the first three courses in order to continue on into the next course. If successful in the first three courses, the student will be in good standing.
3. Denied Admission
Applicant is denied admission to Warner Pacific University by the Admissions Review Committee. An applicant denied admission has the right to appeal such a decision in writing to the Admissions Review Committee, provided the applicant can present relevant additional information indicating ability and motivation to achieve academic success.

 - World Education Service (WES), Web: www.wes.org, Email: info@wes.org
5. Minimum GPA of 3.0 on previous college coursework.
6. English proficiency: Students whose native language is not English are required to demonstrate English proficiency. The TOEFL (70+), IELTS (6.0+), Duolingo English Test (95+) or other appropriate instruments may be used for this purpose. Students may also demonstrate proficiency by presenting one of the following: 1) Transcripts from an accredited US institution of higher education that demonstrate completion of at least 2 English composition courses completed with grades of C- or higher, or 2) Documentation that the student completed their entire secondary school education in the English language.
7. Evidence of adequate financial support by submission of official/notarized bank statements, demonstrating they have the funds to cover the cost of the program.

ADMISSION DECISION - GRADUATE

Each candidate for admission is reviewed individually with careful consideration given to academic records, test scores, application essay(s), professional references and the ability to benefit from and contribute to the opportunities offered at the University. Warner Pacific University complies with federal and state requirements for non-discrimination on the basis of handicap, sex, race, color, national or ethnic origin in admission and access to its programs and activities. Warner Pacific University reserves the right to deny admission to any applicant when that decision is determined to be in the best interest of the applicant or the institution.

When a candidate has completed the application process, one of the following decisions will be made:

1. Admission in Good Standing
Applicant met all criteria and was admitted in good standing.

2. Admission with Conditions

Applicant did not meet all criteria, but will enter the program with clear understanding and deadlines to meet all criteria within a certain timeframe. The student is considered to be a degree-seeking student. Conditionally admitted students who do not meet all the criteria by the stated deadline will be administratively withdrawn from the University.

Common reasons for graduate students to be admitted conditionally include:

- o Missing official transcripts
Once matriculated, student must submit official transcripts from all schools previously attended by the end of the second course, or risk administrative withdrawal from all remaining courses
- o Low Admit GPA
Applicants who do not meet the minimum GPA requirement provide a written statement explaining the circumstances surrounding their undergraduate work. The Admission Review Committee along with the appropriate Division Dean reviews the applicant's file, and if appropriate, the student is admitted. The student will enter the university on academic probation for the first two courses. Students on academic probation must earn at least a "B-" in each of the first two courses in order to continue on into the next course. If successful in the first two courses, the student will be in good standing.
- o Missing admission documents
The appropriate Division Dean will approve the student to be admitted and will provide due dates for the respective missing documents.

3. Denied Admission

Applicant was denied admission by the appropriate graduate program director. An applicant denied admission has the right to appeal such a decision in writing to the Admissions Review Committee, provided the applicant can present relevant additional information indicating ability and motivation to achieve academic success.

STUDENT READMISSION

Former Warner Pacific University Students who have withdrawn from the university or have failed to maintain continuous enrollment (students who have not been enrolled for at least two consecutive terms) may apply for readmission.

Re-admitted students are required to complete the degree requirements specified in the current catalog at the time of re-entry. Any Core Studies requirements specific to class standing must be completed at the level at which they originally entered Warner Pacific.

The following are required to complete the application for the readmission process:

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES

In order to provide Professional & Graduate Studies (PGS) students with maximum dependability and affordable choices, WPU has chosen to partner with Slingshot. The partnership with Slingshot allows for two important things: (1) students receive the correct books, on time, automatically; and (2) students may select purchasing options that allow them to better manage their financial resources.

Students in the PGS programs are automatically shipped their course materials as part of the Slingshot program. Course material charges are added to the student's WPU Student Account when the materials are shipped (about two weeks before each course starts). Students have the option of choosing whether they receive New, Used, Rental, or Digital books. Students access their textbook information on the Slingshot website at <https://www.slingshotedu.com/>.

Students have the choice to opt out of this program by contacting their Academic Advisor who will work with them to submit an opt out request.

Frequently Asked Questions regarding buying and renting books may be found on the Slingshot website. To receive books in a timely fashion, students should be registered for classes three weeks before the course start. Books and materials are shipped about two weeks before each course start date and are delivered approximately one week before each course start date. In order to avoid book charges, students must return rental books and books for dropped classes as instructed. Direct questions to Slingshot at 1-888-392-2930 or support@slingshotedu.com. Students who believe they have extenuating circumstances that warrant an exception to the textbook policy should appeal to the Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Additional information regarding textbooks and Slingshot can be found in the following places: Student Dashboard, MyWP Classes, and MyWP.

STUDENT FINANCIAL OPTIONS

A student selects one Primary Payment Option. A Secondary Option is required if the Primary Option is not the Pay & Go Plan.

Pay and Go Plan

Payment course by course: If the Pay & Go Plan is the “Primary Option,” payment for courses are due in full by the first day each course starts. If the Pay & Go Plan is the “Secondary Option,” any outstanding charges not covered by the “Primary Option” are due by the first day the course starts.

Corporate Tuition Deferment Plan

Participation in this option requires that a copy of the company’s tuition reimbursement policy, on company letterhead, be on file and approved by the Office of Student Financial Services. The portion of company reimbursed tuition and/or books are deferred 30 days from the last day of each course. The student is responsible to pay in full any amount not paid by the company by the 31st day after the course ends. The student is expected to notify the Office of Student Financial Services of changes in employment status that affect payment.

Direct Bill Plan

Approved company tuition vouchers must be received two weeks prior to the start of each course. The student must pay tuition not covered by Direct Billing by the first day each course starts. One hundred percent (100%) must be paid directly to Warner Pacific University by the employer in order for this option to be considered a “Primary Option”.

Financial Aid Plan

Federal Grants and Stafford Loans are available for eligible students. One hundred percent (100%) of tuition is deferred with completed financial aid paperwork and a processed FAFSA on file. The student must pay tuition and fees not covered by financial aid on or before each payment due date in accordance with the terms under the Pay & Go Plan.

FINANCIAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Online Student Accounts

Student account information is available online to review tuition charges and make payments. Students may log in at mywp.warnerpacific.edu. For assistance with your Warner Pacific University User Account login and password, please contact the helpdesk at 503-517-1399.

Financing Options

The following alternatives require a student to file a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). The Office of Student Financial Services will provide detailed information concerning:

- GRANTS/LOANS
 - Federal Pell Grant
 - Federal TEACH Grant
 - Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants
 - Oregon Opportunity Grant
 - Federal Subsidized Stafford Loans
 - Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loans

The following alternatives are not based on need and do not require a FAFSA form, however they are considered a financial resource and the Office of Student Financial Services must be notified.

- PRIVATE LOANS
- PRIVATE SCHOLARSHIPS
- VETERANS BENEFITS
 - Please contact the Department of Veterans Affairs at 1-888-442-4551 for information regarding benefit eligibility.
- TRADE ACT
 - Please contact the Oregon Employment Department at 1-877-639-7700 for information regarding program eligibility.
- EMPLOYER-SPONSORED EDUCATION
 - Businesses with an employee educational benefit program may be set up on a direct bill basis. This is arranged with the Office of Student Financial Services. If the company does not elect a direct billing option, the tuition is the responsibility of the student.

Payment Information

To ensure accurate processing of payments, please include your seven-digit Student ID Number along with the applicable course number or course name. Payments may be made by:

1. Submitting an online payment on MyWP.warnerpacific.edu under Student Accounts, Pay on My Account. Payments can be made by e-check and all major credit cards.
2. Visiting the Cashier’s Desk in Egtvedt Hall on the Tabor Campus (cash, check, or credit cards accepted in person)
3. Phoning in a credit/debit card payment to 503-517-1091 (only VISA, MasterCard, & Discover)
4. Mailing checks to:
 - Warner Pacific University
 - Attn: Office of Student Financial Services
 - 2219 SE 68th Ave
 - Portland, OR 97215

Credit Cards Accepted

Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express are accepted online at mywp.warnerpacific.edu. Visa, MasterCard, and Discover are accepted for payments made by phone or in person.

Changing Payment Plan Options

The Primary Payment Plan Option may be changed while attending Warner Pacific University provided the student account is in good standing. In order to change plans, the student must contact the Office of Student Financial Services and complete the appropriate financial agreement. All changes must be approved by Warner Pacific University.

Late Fees

Unpaid balances are subject to a 1.5% service charge each month the balance remains unpaid. To avoid late fees, payments must be made by the first day each course starts. This applies to any balance not covered by Financial Aid, Tuition Deferment, or a Direct Billing Plan.

Returned Check/Credit Card Fees

All returned checks or credit cards are assessed an additional $25 processing fee. If the account is delinquent when the check or credit card is returned, service charges plus a declined credit card or returned check fee will be charged to the student account. Warner Pacific University reserves the right to charge returned check or credit card fees and service charges at any time.

Failure to Pay

Failure to complete payment of tuition and fees by the specified due date may result in administrative withdrawal from the program beginning with the student's next scheduled course. Students administratively withdrawn from the University for financial reasons are responsible for paying their account in full before they may be re-admitted.

Grade Release

Grades are released for paid courses only (exceptions may be made for Tuition Deferred Students), and only if an academic degree plan has been completed with an academic advisor before the end of the second course in the student's program. Transcripts are not issued until the student account is cleared by Student Financial Services.

Withdrawal

Withdrawing from a course may result in a student owed balance payable to Warner Pacific University. Please refer to the Attendance Policy in this catalog and in the course syllabus.

Note: Withdrawing from a course or changing the academic calendar may reduce or eliminate a financial aid award. Please consult with a Professional and Graduate Studies Academic Advisor and Financial Aid Counselor prior to withdrawing from courses.

PGS REFUND POLICY

The Refund Policy applies to tuition only. Textbook fees, application fees, and assessment fees are non-refundable. Textbooks received for a dropped course may be returned for a possible refund depending upon the timing of the drop and the condition of the book. Please visit the Slingshot website at www.slingshotedu.com for additional information. In order to withdraw from a course, a student must notify the university. Please see the sections on dropping courses and withdrawing from the university in this catalog.

Warner Pacific University recognizes the challenge students and their families face in financing the cost of attending college and is committed to making a personalized education of excellence affordable. Although the primary responsibility for financing an education lies with the students and their families, the university recognizes financial assistance as a partnership between the student, the student's family, the federal government, and the university.

SOURCES OF ASSISTANCE

Financial Aid through Warner Pacific University complies with all appropriate Department of Education rules and regulations as well as established institutional policies. There are many sources of financial aid for students. Students may contact the Office of Student Financial Services for information about any of the following:

- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant
- Federal TEACH Grant
- Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan
- Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan
- Federal PLUS Loan for Parents and Graduate students
- Oregon Opportunity Grant
- Private Education Loan
- Outside Scholarship or Grant Resources

Students interested in applying for aid must complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the process for admissions. All information contained in these documents is held in strict confidence through adherence to FERPA regulations by Warner Pacific University. The results of the FAFSA determine the eligibility for grants, including Federal Pell, Supplemental Educational Opportunity, TEACH, and Oregon Opportunity, as well as the Federal Direct Stafford Loan Program. Students ineligible to file the FAFSA in residence in Oregon may file the Oregon Student Aid Application (ORSAA) through the Office of Student Access and Completion in order to be considered for the Oregon Opportunity Grant and state scholarships.

Grant Programs

Federal Pell Grant: Federally funded grants awarded to financially needy students meeting the program-specific requirements as determined annually by the federal government.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG): Federally funded grants awarded to a limited number of students demonstrating exceptional financial need with priority given to Federal Pell Grant recipients. The amount of the grant varies depending on need and available funding.

Federal Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant: The Federal TEACH Grant Program provides grants to students completing or planning to complete course work needed to begin a career in teaching. As a condition for receiving a TEACH Grant, the student must sign a TEACH Grant Agreement to Serve in which the student agrees to teach in a high-need field; at an elementary school, secondary school, or educational service agency that serves students from low-income families; and for at least four complete academic years within eight years after ceasing attendance in the course of study for which the grant was received. If the student does not complete the service obligation, all TEACH Grant funds received are converted to a Direct Unsubsidized Loan that must be repaid to the US Department of Education. More details are available at <https://studentaid.gov/TEACH>

The Warner Pacific TEACH Grant is available to graduate students in the MAT and MEd programs and to undergraduate students in the B.S. in Early Childhood/Elementary Education program. Students may contact the Office of Student Financial Services for additional information and an application form.

Oregon Opportunity Grant: State-funded grant that requires filing a FAFSA or the alternative need based application provided by the state. More information is available at the state website www.oregonstudentaid.gov. The grant is administered by the Office of Student Access and Completion (OSAC).

Loan Programs

Federal Direct Stafford Loans are available for eligible students. All undergraduate and graduate Stafford Loans (Subsidized and Unsubsidized) have a fixed interest rate set by July 1st each year. Please refer to <https://studentaid.gov/interest> for the current rate. Federally mandated annual and aggregate student loan limits apply to both graduate and undergraduate students. In addition to the FAFSA, a Direct Loan Master Promissory note (MPN) and Direct Loan Entrance Counseling must be completed upon initial use of federal loans in order for a student to be eligible for Federal Direct Stafford Loans.

There are two forms of the Federal Direct Stafford Loan.

- The Federal Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan is based on a student's need. The government subsidizes/pays the interest while the student is in attendance of half-time or more.
- The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan is based on the university cost of attendance and remaining annual Stafford loan limit. The government does not pay interest on the loan. The student must be in attendance half-time or more to be eligible. The student can choose to pay interest quarterly or add it to the loan principal.

Direct PLUS Loans: The Federal Parent Loan for Dependent Undergraduate Students and the Graduate Loan (PLUS Loans) are different from other Federal Loan Programs. To receive a Direct PLUS Loan, a person must:

- Be a graduate student or be the parent of a dependent undergraduate student enrolled at least half-time;
- Not have an adverse credit history; and
- Meet the general requirements for federal student aid. If borrowing for a child, the child must also meet these requirements.

Family finances are not a determining factor for Direct PLUS loan eligibility, although there is an income to debt ratio component. The loan is administered by the Department of Education, and the amount of funding available is based upon other financial aid received by the student and the university program cost of attendance. Dependent students with little or no eligibility for the other federal aid programs may find the Direct PLUS loan very beneficial. The interest rate is set by July 1st of each year and is available for review at <https://studentaid.gov/interest>.

A Direct PLUS Loan may help a student pay the difference between the cost of attendance and other estimated financial aid resources. Repayment begins after the loan is fully disbursed, or repayments may be deferred by applying to the loan servicer.

Student Loan Advocate Disclosure for Washington State Students

For Washington State residents seeking information and resources about student loan repayment or seeking to submit a complaint relating to your student loans or student loan servicer, please visit www.wsac.wa.gov/loan-advocacy or contact the Student Loan Advocate at loanadvocate@wsac.wa.gov.

Veterans Affairs Benefits

Students eligible to receive Veterans Affairs (VA) educational benefits should first check with their Benefits Officer to determine the appropriate program (chapter) under which to apply. Additional information may be found at www.benefits.va.gov. To establish eligibility at Warner Pacific, the student should submit

- A copy of the Certificate of Eligibility awarded by the VA
- A signed VA Education Benefit Statement of Rights and Responsibilities form (available from the admission counselor)

If VA educational benefits have been received at another institution prior to attending Warner Pacific, the student must submit a VA Form 22-1995, Request for Change of Program or Place of Training.

Any student requesting certification for veteran's benefits while attending Warner Pacific University is required to submit transcripts from all previously attended institutions for review of prior credit. This must include the Joint Services transcript with a record of the student's military training so that it can be evaluated for possible university credit.

Once a student has submitted a Certificate of Eligibility (COE) for educational assistance under chapter 31 or chapter 33, Warner Pacific University will permit that student to participate in the course of education even if payment is pending from the Department of Veterans Affairs for up to 90 days. Warner Pacific University will not impose any penalty - including the assessment of late fees, the denial of access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities, or the requirement to borrow additional funds - due to the delayed disbursement of funding from the Department of Veterans Affairs under chapter 31 or 33. The student is still responsible for any additional payment that is required to account for any difference between the student's financial obligation to WPU and the VA education benefit disbursement.

General Eligibility Provisions

In order to receive a financial aid award, students must fulfill the following responsibilities:

- Admittance as a regular student to Warner Pacific University
- File a FAFSA every year if planning to use Federal Financial Aid
- Complete and submit requested paperwork to the Office of Student Financial Services, as required by the Department of Education. Failure to complete the required additional documents may result in a significant delay in the processing of Federal and State aid and may require cash payment towards tuition and books until the financial aid awarding process has been completed
- Students must maintain eligibility for future disbursements by complying with the Attendance Policy and the Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy as outlined in this catalog.

Important Facts

- Financial aid is intended for educational expenses.
- 'Double-up' or concurrent coursework results in additional tuition charges without additional financial aid in most cases.
- Breaks in attendance of more than 28 days may require an approved Leave of Absence (LOA) in accordance with WPU policy. Students without an approved LOA on file prior to the last attendance session of class are considered withdrawn and may have funds that were disbursed to their account returned to the Department of Education – per federal requirements.
- The academic year is divided between two semesters, Fall and Spring. Full time enrollment for undergraduate programs is 12 credits each semester. Full time enrollment for graduate programs is 6 credits each semester.
- Loan and grant funds are typically applied in two disbursements each academic year, once during the fall semester and once during the spring semester, after confirming attendance.
- Financial Aid may be applied toward successfully completed courses retaken one time only to improve the course grade.
- Any changes to the student's academic schedule may result in changes to eligibility and/or the timing of financial aid disbursements.
- In order to prevent delays in the processing of financial aid, it is recommended the student file a FAFSA as early as possible each year, beginning October 1st.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Warner Pacific University is mandated by the U.S. Department of Education per Federal regulations to qualitatively (grade-based) and quantitatively (time-related) monitor the academic progress of financial aid recipients. The standard is cumulative and includes all periods of enrollment, even those in which the student did not receive financial assistance.

The Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) calculation is performed for all matriculating students attempting credits within the term. This includes students that withdraw at any time during the term. The SAP status assigned is taken into consideration should a student re-enroll.

Standards-Undergraduate Students: Undergraduate students must maintain at least a 2.00 cumulative and term grade point average (GPA) and earn the minimum number of credits for their enrollment status:

- Full time – at least 12 credits
- Three-quarter time – at least nine credits
- Half time – at least six credits
- Less than half time – one to five credits

Standards-Graduate Students: Graduate students must maintain at least a 3.00 cumulative and term grade point average, and earn the minimum number of credits for the enrollment status:

- Full time – at least six credits
- ½ time – at least three credits
- Less than ½ time – one to two credits

In the event that a student's performance is found to be unsatisfactory, the university notifies the student of the current status and the impact of this unsatisfactory progress on financial aid eligibility. Financial assistance includes but is not limited to Federal, State, and institutional assistance including employee remit.

Note: The policies that govern financial assistance do not have any bearing on student academic standing monitored through the Office of Academic Affairs; they are separate policies.

Qualitative Standard

The GPA is computed by multiplying the credit hours by the quality points for each letter grade received; the quality points for all courses recorded are totaled and the number is divided by the total number of letter grade credits. For courses repeated by the student, all grades remain on the transcript, but only the highest grade is included in the GPA calculation. Financial aid can be applied toward successfully completed courses repeated raise the grade one time only.

Quantitative Standard

Full-time undergraduate students must complete at least 12 credits per semester while attending Warner Pacific University. Full-time graduate students must complete at least six credits per semester while attending the university. The quantitative measure for less than full-time attendance is calculated as a percentage of the full-time standard. Periodic evaluations monitor the student's pace of progression. No-credit designations such as "W" (withdrawal), "I" (Incomplete), or "IP" (In Progress) are considered unsatisfactory completion of a course.

Maximum Time Frame

Full-time matriculating students are eligible to receive financial aid for a maximum of 150 percent of the time required to complete a degree. In general, a baccalaureate degree program is 120 credits. The maximum number of credits for which a student may be eligible to receive federal financial aid is 180 (120 x 150%). All course work included in credits toward completion are considered in the calculation for time frame eligibility. Transfer credits accepted by Warner Pacific University toward the program are included in the calculation of attempted and completed credits in determining the total 150% time frame. Once it becomes apparent the student is unable to complete the program within the 150% credit limit, financial aid is suspended. Students with suspended financial aid may submit an appeal for reinstatement.

Unsatisfactory Academic Progress

Satisfactory academic progress, as indicated by semester and cumulative GPA, and number of credits earned, is monitored each semester by the Office of Student Financial Services. Students failing to meet satisfactory academic progress standards are placed on financial aid warning and issued a letter alerting the student of the need to correct the deficiency. The warning status allows the student to maintain financial aid for one additional semester. At the end of the additional semester, if the student achieves satisfactory academic progress standards, the status is lifted. If the student does not achieve satisfactory academic progress standards at the end of the warning period, the student is placed on financial aid suspension and is denied further financial aid from Warner Pacific University until the standard is met. Students whose financial aid has been suspended may appeal for reconsideration of financial aid eligibility (see appeals section).

Appeals

A student with suspended aid may appeal for reconsideration of financial aid eligibility by providing an email or physical letter in writing to the Director of Financial Aid. The appeal must include a statement regarding the reason the student failed to make satisfactory academic progress and changes made that will allow the student to achieve satisfactory academic progress during the next evaluation period. Appeals are adjudicated by the Financial Aid Advisory Committee (FAAC). An appeal may be approved if the FAAC determines the student has addressed the issues and has created systems and support to allow satisfactory academic progress during the subsequent evaluation period. Decisions by the FAAC are final. Students will be notified in writing (posted or email) of appeal decisions. If the FAAC approves an appeal, the student is placed on financial aid probation for one semester and is eligible to receive financial aid. At the end of the probation period, if the student achieves satisfactory academic progress standards by meeting the requirements that the FAAC set forth, the status is lifted. If the student does not achieve satisfactory academic progress standards at the end of the probation period, the financial aid is suspended. Students may appeal again if aid is suspended.

Circumstances under which a student is permitted to submit an appeal letter include, but are not limited to, death of a relative, injury or illness of the student, or other special circumstances.

Re-establishing Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress and Financial Aid

A student with suspended aid may re-establish financial aid eligibility if an appeal is approved by the FAAC or by completing credits without the benefit of financial aid from Warner Pacific. For the latter, an undergraduate student must complete 12 credits in a term with a term and cumulative GPA of 2.0. Graduate students must complete six credits in a term with a term and cumulative GPA of 3.0. Following the completion of the credits, the student may submit a written appeal to the FAAC for reinstatement of financial aid.

RETURN OF FINANCIAL AID FUNDS

Warner Pacific is mandated by the U.S. Department of Education per federal regulations to perform a Return to Title IV (R2T4) calculation for students who cease attendance during a payment period or period of enrollment and are not placed on an approved Leave of Absence (LOA).

A student is considered to be withdrawn at the point in time the student begins the official withdrawal process or provides official notification to the institution of intent to withdraw. The date of the institution's determination that the student withdrew is the earliest date of the following: the date the student began the official withdrawal process, the date of student notification, or 14 days from the last date of attendance (LDA). The Return of Title IV Aid calculation must be completed within 30 days of the institution's date of determination.

A student is not considered to be withdrawn if the student provides written confirmation of intent to begin another course (module) within 45 calendar days from the end of the module attendance ceased. Written confirmation of intent to return must be received at the time of withdrawal. The student may request in writing to change the original expected date of return (EDR) and not be considered withdrawn as long as the revised expected date of return is within the original 45 calendar day period and is made prior to the original expected date of return. A student is considered to be withdrawn if the student does not return as scheduled.

Warner Pacific Professional and Graduate Studies is considered a program that is required to take attendance and must use attendance records when performing the R2T4 calculation to determine the student's withdrawal date. The determination and documentation of attendance must be made by the school. Self-certification of attendance by the student is not acceptable. Academic attendance includes all days for which the student was scheduled to attend. A period of non-attendance begins the day after the student's last day of attendance.

There are situations when the school is required to perform an R2T4 calculation for students who receive Federal aid then withdraw from school. Warner Pacific University uses the federal R2T4 calculation for all students who withdraw from school to determine the amount of Federal and State aid that is earned and unearned for the awarding period.

A R2T4 calculation is required in the following scenarios:

- A student withdraws or is withdrawn by the school prior to the completion of a period of enrollment and does not return to class within 14 days of their last date of attendance (LDA)
- A student has a break in attendance of 28 days or more and is not on an approved Leave of Absence (LOA) for the break

The Office of Student Financial Services is notified of student withdrawals and breaks in attendance via system reports that document student attendance patterns and registration changes. Other sources of notification include academic advisors and the registrar.

Example of a R2T4 Calculation

Enrollment Period: Fall Semester (173 days)

Student received net federal award amounts of $3,463 direct unsubsidized loan, $2,721 direct subsidized loan, $2,960 Pell grant, and $50 Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG).

Title IV Funds Received	Amount
Title IV Loans	$6,184.00
Title IV Grants	$3,010.00
Total Title IV Aid	$9,194.00

Student withdrew on the 29th day of the enrollment period

Percent Earned: $29/173 = 16.80\%$

Percent Unearned: $100\% - 16.80\% = 83.20\%$

Amount of Title IV Aid Unearned: $$9,194 \times .832 = $7,649.40$

Unearned Title IV funds are returned in the following order:

1. Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans
2. Subsidized Federal Stafford Loans
3. Federal Parent PLUS Loan
4. Federal Pell Grants
5. Iraq and Afghanistan Grants
6. Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
7. Federal TEACH Grants

For this student example, the school would return all of the disbursed unsubsidized and subsidized loan funds, and $1,465.40 of the Pell grant for a total return of $7,649.40.

COMMUNICATION AND RESOURCES

Academic Advising

Each student is assigned an academic advisor, who has training in adult learning and is a member of the university faculty. The role of the academic advisor is to provide the student with an understanding of his or her academic status, the requirements needed for the completion of the degree program, and various methods by which the student may complete the requirements. While the academic advisor will make every effort to proactively advise the student, the final responsibility for meeting all academic and graduation requirements rests with the individual student.

Undergraduate students are required to develop an academic degree plan with their academic advisor prior to the end of the second course in their program. All PGS undergraduate students have opportunities to meet with their academic advisors after they are admitted to the university and throughout their program. Graduate students may also meet with their academic advisor as needed.

Information about Financial Aid, Student Accounts, Records, Academic Support Center, Career Counseling, Counseling Center, Disability Resources, and Learning Communities can be accessed via the PGS Student Dashboard (<https://www.warnerpacific.edu/resources/for-students/>).

MyWP

Student academic and financial information (financial aid and student account) may be accessed electronically through the student portal, MyWP (mywp.warnerpacific.edu). Students log in using their assigned Warner Pacific email account and password to access grades, course schedule, and other academic advising content, Warner Pacific email, blogs, other resources and frequently used websites.

PGS Offices and Faculty Communication

WPU students have access to the WPU computer network for both e-mail and research purposes. The student's e-mail account and password are established once the student is registered for classes. Professors communicate principally via e-mail through the WPU system; thus, students are asked to use their Warner Pacific email for all official communication.

Faculty office hours vary according to individual assignments. Not all faculty members are on campus or in offices each day. It is the goal of the Professional and Graduate Studies staff and faculty to respond to voice and e-mails as soon as possible but at least within 24 to 48 hours Monday through Friday. Problems in this regard can be addressed to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs.

All participants are expected to be present at the beginning of the workshop. In the rare instance when the instructor is not present at the start of the workshop students should use the time to work on team projects. If the instructor has not arrived or otherwise made contact with the students after 30 minutes, the students may assume that class is cancelled. Students who were present for the first 30 minutes of the workshop will be reported as being present for the entire workshop by e-mailing a roster with the course title and student signatures to the instructor and PGS Records (pgsrecords@warnerpacific.edu).

If a student encounters problems accessing the WPU network or university e-mail account from off-campus, the student may contact the WPU Helpdesk at 503-517-1399 or helpdesk@warnerpacific.edu.

Services on the Mt Tabor Campus

Community Life on the Tabor campus provides assistance in spiritual life, personal counseling, learning skills, student employment, and career guidance. All counseling and assistance is strictly confidential, and, in most cases, without charge. For more information regarding the services available on the Mt Tabor campus, please see the section of this catalog entitled "Traditional Community Life".

Knights Care

Warner Pacific University students have access to Knights Care, which provides 24 hours per day, 7 days per week medical and mental telehealth care for all students, at no cost per visit. For more information, please visit <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/student-life/knights-care/>.

Student Health Insurance and Immunizations

All students are encouraged to carry their own personal health insurance. Information on several good health insurance plans is available as needed from the Office of Student Financial Services.

Oregon State Law requires that all full-time students show proof of receiving a second dose of measles-containing vaccine. Students are also asked to provide record of receiving all immunizations mandated by the Oregon Department of Health Services for all public and private schools. International students have additional requirements. For more information, see: <http://oregon.gov/DHS/ph/imm/school/index.shtml>.

Weather Closures

In case of inclement weather and adverse road conditions, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will make a decision about closure. This decision is generally made by 4:00 PM for evening classes.

School closure information is available on the WPU website as well as on various local radio and TV stations: In addition, Warner Pacific University has implemented a messaging system to alert students, faculty and staff of closures due to inclement weather or other emergencies. To receive this notification, students must sign up at the link noted below, which will give the option of receiving this notification via a text message to a cellular phone, or by email. Please note that students will receive notification for emergencies and school closures only. <https://warnerpacific.omnilert.net/subscriber.php>

In the case of inclement weather, safety is a priority. Even though class may be in session, students should use discretion regarding weather concerns in their area and communicate with their instructors and academic advisors regarding any weather related absence. Whenever possible, course content will be posted on the course's MyWP Classes site to enable students to participate in class even if they are not able to travel.

ADA Policy

Warner Pacific University operates its academic programs in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Warner Pacific University makes reasonable accommodations for all individuals' documented disabilities, unless doing so would pose undue hardship for the institution. All new construction and purchased equipment meets current ADA requirements. Any student who has a documented disability that may require accommodation to fully participate in classes should contact Jann McCaul, Disabilities Services Coordinator at 503-517-1577 or jmccaul@warnerpacific.edu.

CAMPUS LIFE STANDARDS

Warner Pacific is a university sponsored by the Church of God. Its mission, programs, and campus life are all informed by four basic traditions: Christ-centered, urban, diversity, and liberal arts.

Campus standards have grown out of the following qualities of campus life valued at Warner Pacific University:

- Love of God, self and neighbor
- Respect for others
- Honesty and integrity
- Reconciliation
- Freedom within restraint
- Health and wellness
- Spiritual growth and maturity
- The joy and abundance of life

Students coming to this university agree to conduct themselves as responsible citizens and actively contribute to the quality of social, spiritual, intellectual life. Violation of university policies including the Community Agreement, subject the students to disciplinary action that could include warning, probation, or dismissal from the university.

One of the primary functions of this Catalog is to provide notice to each student of the expectations for being a member of our community. These standards are a key part of community life at Warner Pacific University.

PGS COMMUNITY AGREEMENT

Community can be achieved, but it requires open, honest, caring communication; sacrifice and loving adjustment in personal liberties; and a positive desire to help others develop their potential. To achieve community, Warner Pacific students willingly commit to the responsibilities and privileges of community life. Commitment is a two-way street. As students commit to the ideal of education within a Christian community, Warner Pacific University makes a commitment to provide a positive model of Christian living. The university makes a commitment within the spirit of Christian concern for others to fairness, justice and equitable treatment of all students. Warner Pacific University's goal is to help students live by biblical standards of moral integrity, social consciousness, and personal health, reflecting positive Christian values. As persons in process, not "finished products," and not desiring to disregard individual conscience or legislate moral behavior, responsible Christian choices are encouraged in all decisions as reflected in:

- upholding biblical standards of moral behavior in individual and public lives
- obeying local, state, and federal laws
- abstaining from use of illegal and non-prescription controlled substances
- being a positive representative of the Warner Pacific "community."

While on campus, involved in campus activities, or representing the university in any way, students are required to:

- abstain from the use of tobacco
- abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages
- refrain from gambling
- refrain from participation in any activity which would disrupt the educational process

Use of tobacco anywhere on the Mt. Tabor campus is prohibited as well as within Centre 205 and all other PGS off-site locations. Designated smoking areas at Centre 205 and other off-site locations will be identified during the cohort orientation. Smoking adjacent to the entrance to any PGS site is prohibited.

By enrolling in the Professional and Graduate Studies, students agree to live out this PGS Community Agreement during their tenure at Warner Pacific University. Students also understand they have a responsibility to their fellow students and to faculty to interact with them on a basis of mutual respect that emanates from a Christ-centered perspective of the worth and dignity of each person in the eyes of God. Students understand that they are expected to adhere to the highest standards of honorable conduct in matters both personal and academic while a student at Warner Pacific University.

Drug and Alcohol Policy

Purchase, possession, storage, distribution or use of tobacco, electronic cigarettes, alcohol, marijuana and illegal drugs is prohibited on any Warner Pacific campus and in campus housing. Smoking is not permitted on university property, in its vehicles, or at any university sponsored event.

The use of illegal drugs or non-prescribed controlled substances is strictly prohibited. No Warner Pacific students or employees are permitted on campus or at university events while impaired by alcohol, marijuana, or illegal or prescription drugs. Students and employees must be able to perform work duties and participate in classes and activities safely. Prescription drug use is permitted on campus under the care and supervision of a physician. Warner Pacific does not accommodate employee or student use of medical marijuana.

No Warner Pacific students or employees are permitted on campus or at university events while impaired by alcohol, marijuana, or illegal or prescription drugs. Students and employees must be able to perform work duties and participate in classes and activities safely. Prescription drug use is permitted on campus under the care and supervision of a physician. Warner Pacific does not accommodate employee or student use of medical marijuana.

Parking

All vehicles parked on campus must be registered with the Campus Safety department and display a valid permit. Vehicles parked in marked unauthorized areas or vehicles without permits will be ticketed. Students parked in "NO PARKING" zones and Fire Lanes may have their vehicles impounded at personal expense.

Weapons Policy

The presence of weapons on campus poses an unacceptable risk to the health and safety of all members and guests of the Warner Pacific University community. Therefore, the possession of dangerous weapons is prohibited on all sites where classes are held, including slingshots, firearms (including BB guns), knives, and explosives (firecrackers, fireworks, dangerous chemicals or propulsion devices) or:

- any item or instrument defined as a weapon by local, state, or federal law.
- any item designed to cause injury or incapacitate another person.
- any item used to harass, threaten, intimidate, assault, or batter another person.
- any item the University deems as dangerous.

Anyone who observes someone on the Warner Pacific University campus violating this policy should immediately report the incident to the Campus Safety at 503-250-1730 or 503-517-2127 (extension x2127 from any campus phone). Anyone who observes someone violating this policy on a satellite site should immediately call 911 for assistance. The complainant should be prepared to provide the Campus Safety Office (or 911) with any relevant information that caused them to observe the violation. Campus Safety officers have the right to secure weapons from persons in violation of this policy. These weapons will be secured in the Campus Safety Office.

Persons who possess a concealed weapons permit are NOT allowed to carry weapons on the private property of the Warner Pacific University campus (or any of the satellite sites). Possessing a weapon for the purpose of sport, hunting, personal protection, or any other reason does not exempt a person from this policy.

Civil Behavior and Consideration of Others in the Classroom

Most Warner Pacific courses include a considerable expectation of participation and active learning during the class period. Interruption caused by one student to the orderly flow of the class session may not only inhibit the learning process but also disrupt and distract others engaged in the class. Therefore, the following guidelines have been established for use during class sessions:

- All cell phones should be silenced during class time. Students may not text message, receive or make calls during class. If emergency circumstances require use of the phone during class, students should exit the room until the issue has been addressed.
- The use of electronic devices during class is intended to enhance the educational outcomes of the course. Out of respect for others in class, the use of electronic devices during class for work not related to the course is discouraged. Persistent violation of this guideline may result in corrective action.
- Individual use of earbuds and personal listening or viewing devices such as iPods, unless required for improving understanding of the course material, is not permitted during class.

In order to assure a safe and supportive environment for all students, the following behaviors are strictly prohibited in classes:

- Threats of physical harm directed towards professor and/or other students or physical violence or intimidation
- Aggressive taunts, threats or abusive language directed toward students or professors, which may include the use of profanities
- Showing up intoxicated/under the influence of alcohol or drugs
- Sleeping in class
- Disruptive and uncooperative behavior and actions that results in the breakdown of order in the classroom, or obstruction of class goals
- Defying specific instructions from the instructor pertaining to classroom conduct or behavior
- Being openly critical and negative towards the professor and other students
- Instigation/Provoking - The use of personally abusive epithets that, when addressed to any person, are inherently likely to provoke immediate violent reaction whether or not the reaction occurs
- Using hate speech including but not limited to racist, demeaning, inflammatory, and or vulgar language in classroom conversation, communication, blogs or assignments
- Participating in or promoting practices that are in direct contradiction to the Bible e.g., occult practices
- Inappropriate dress
- Inappropriate taking of photos/videos/audio recordings
- Excessive tardiness or leaving class early

Students who demonstrate any of these behaviors may be asked to cease the behavior or leave the classroom; in the case of repeat offenses, the student may face censure through the student judicial process.

Visitor Policy

After the last day to add classes, only students who are registered for a class may attend said class. Students may not bring family members, guests, or animals to class without prior consent of the instructor. Consent for children under the age of 12 to attend class will be granted only in extreme situations, and it should be understood that if the child(ren) are distracting to the professor or other students, they should be removed from the classroom. Children under the age of 12 may not be on campus unattended. Individuals who are approved for ADA accommodation (including service animals) are exempt from this policy.

Fraternization

Warner Pacific University strictly prohibits employees from engaging in fraternization and/or personal relationships with students. The definition of fraternizing as it applies to employees is to associate with students outside the scope of their employment. Likewise, students are prohibited from attempting to initiate a personal relationship with employees.

PGS STUDENT JUDICIAL PROCESS

The Warner Pacific University student conduct process exists to respond to alleged violations of the community agreement, campus policies, and/or federal and state laws by individuals or organizations. Although not a formal court of law it provides students due process in order to assure fundamental fairness in resolving allegations of behavioral misconduct. A full description of the student conduct process appears in The Squire, the student handbook. The Squire is accessible on the university's website at <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/resources/for-students/>.

STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

Warner Pacific University does not discriminate in its student admission and employment practices and provides equal opportunity for all student applicants and employees regardless of race, color, sex, national origin, disability, age, veteran status, and any other status protected by laws and regulations.

All employment decisions, including hiring, promotions, compensation, benefits, transfers, and terminations are made in a manner that does not discriminate against individuals in the categories discussed above. Because Warner Pacific is a Christian liberal arts university, the university exercises its legal right to hire Christian employees to fulfill its mission and purpose.

GRIEVANCE POLICY

The grievance process exists to provide students a process to resolve disputes between other students, staff, faculty and other members of the community, for example, disputes within learning teams or other conflicts of a personal nature between students or between students and staff or faculty. This process is not intended to apply to complaints or problems related to alleged sexual misconduct, relationship violence, stalking, discrimination and/or harassment that is prohibited by law, nor does it exist to resolve academic disputes.

Purpose

As stated in the Community Agreement, "As an expression of the university's urban mission and identity, students are expected to live out Christ's command to love their neighbors both on and off campus. Civility and love are to be demonstrated in personal interactions, campus and community life, and in service to others." Therefore, this grievance process provides an opportunity for students to work out their differences in a safe and structured manner.

Procedure

The specific steps of the grievance procedure are listed below.

When a student has a grievance with another member of the community, they may file a report with the Associate Vice President (AVP).

The AVP or a designee will review the report and determine one of the following actions:

- The student has a legitimate grievance against a member of our community and the student will be encouraged to attempt a resolution in a one on one meeting. The student bringing the grievance is responsible for providing a written summary of the meeting.
- The student has a legitimate grievance against a member of the community and the student will be provided an opportunity to resolve the issue with an advisor, another staff or faculty member, or a member of the Caldwell House counseling staff. In such cases, the mediator will meet with each individual or group involved prior to the mediation meeting. The mediator will also provide a written summary of the meeting.
- The student has not provided enough evidence to demonstrate a valid grievance.

If step (a) above fails to provide resolution it may be determined that step (b) is necessary for a healthy resolution. If step (a) and (b) fail to provide a resolution the case will be referred to neutral faculty or staff member, who will decide on a resolution. If either party is not satisfied with the resolution they may appeal the decision to the AVP.

STUDENT COMPLAINT PROCESS

Any student with a complaint who feels unfairly treated has the right to be heard fairly and promptly. The university recognizes that disputes may sometimes arise and expects the parties involved to resolve the conflict informally whenever possible. If resolution cannot be reached, a formal complaint process will be provided in order to assure impartial and equitable resolution for those conflicts. This complaint process may not be invoked for matters that have independent appeal processes established. Examples of these include, but are not limited to Academic Appeals, Course Policies, Campus Life Standards, FERPA, Financial Aid, Grades, Title IX, Discrimination, and Harassment.

The following matters are not grievable:

- Federal and State laws
- Administrative Procedures Act (ORS Chapter 183)
- Employment and personnel decisions
- Policies of the Board of Trustees
- Rules and procedures adopted by the State Board of Higher Education (Oregon Higher Education Coordinating Commission)

PGS Students who have a grievance with another member of the community may file a report with the Associate Vice President as described above.

Students should attempt to resolve any grievances they may have with their school first. Should attempts to resolve these problems with appropriate school officials fail, or should the student be dissatisfied with the final outcome of the college complaint process, then the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC), can respond to a formal complaint. Students may contact the Higher Education Coordinating Commission, 3225 25th St. SE, Salem, OR 97302 or by sending an email to complaints@hecc.oregon.gov. Students may also access our Complaints web page at <https://www.oregon.gov/highered/about/Pages/complaints.aspx> or visit the complaints page at NC-SARA's website: <https://nc-sara.org/student-complaints>.

Complaints about educational quality not satisfied by internal processes may be directed to the university's accrediting body, the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (<http://www.nwccu.org/Complaints/ComplaintProcess.htm>).

Consumer protection and other civil complaints can be filed with the Oregon Department of Justice Consumer Complaints (<http://www.doj.state.or.us/consumer/pages/index.aspx>).

The Washington Student Achievement Council (WSAC) has authority to investigate student complaints against specific schools. WSAC may not be able to investigate every student complaint. Visit <https://www.wsac.wa.gov/student-complaints> for information regarding the WSAC complaint process.

If you're in a dispute about your federal student aid, contact the Federal Student Aid Ombudsman Group as a last resort: <https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/repay-loans/disputes/prepare>. The Ombudsman Group is dedicated to helping resolve disputes related to the federal student aid programs, including Direct Loans, Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program loans, Perkins Loans, and grant programs.

TITLE IX COMPLIANCE

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 ("Title IX"), 20 U.S.C. Sec. 1681, et seq., and the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in any federally funded education program or activity. In compliance with this federal policy, Warner Pacific University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its education programs and activities and has designated the following individuals as Title IX compliance officers:

Title IX Coordinators

Office Location: Smith Hall 211, Office phone number: 503.517.1097, Email: fsingleton@warnerpacific.edu

Dr. Lori Jass, Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs, Interim Title IX Coordinator for Professional and Graduate Studies Students
Office Location: McGuire 170, Office phone number: 503.517.1320, Email: ljass@warnerpacific.edu

Rachel Lea, Executive Director of Human Resources, Interim Title IX Coordinator for Employees
Office Location: AF Gray 216, Office phone number 503.517.1092, Email: rlea@warnerpacific.edu

Title IX Officers

Kirby Gleason, Director of Academic Advising: kgleason@warnerpacific.edu, 503.517.1322
Vanessa Guerrero, Residence Life Coordinator: vguerrero@warnerpacific.edu, 503.517.1098

All inquiries concerning the application of Title IX including inquiries about the university's sex discrimination, sexual harassment, or sexual assault policies may be referred to the appropriate Title IX officer.

Named or confidential reports may also be filed via the campus' online reporting form at <https://wpulife.com/report>

Full information regarding the Title IX policy at Warner Pacific University can be reviewed online at <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/title-ix/>

Non Retaliation

The university's intent is to always be mindful of the complainant's well-being, and take ongoing steps to protect the complainant from retaliation or harm. Retaliation against the complainant or any person who makes a report or participates in a disciplinary proceeding or investigation of alleged Title IX or discriminatory harassment violations, whether by students or university employees, will not be tolerated. Students, who believe they are experiencing retaliation because of their involvement, should immediately report it to the university's Title IX Coordinator.

WASHINGTON STATE AUTHORIZATION

Warner Pacific University is authorized by the Washington Student Achievement Council and meets the requirements and minimum educational standards established for degree-granting institutions under the Degree-Granting Institutions Act. This authorization is subject to periodic review and authorizes Warner Pacific University to offer specific degree programs. The Council may be contacted for a list of currently authorized programs. Authorization by the Council does not carry with it an endorsement by the Council of the institution or its programs. Any person desiring information about the requirements of the act or the applicability of those requirements to the institution may contact the Council at PO Box 43430, Olympia, WA 98504-3430 or by email at degreeauthorization@wsac.wa.gov.

The transferability of credits earned at Warner Pacific University is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at Warner Pacific University will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at Warner Pacific University to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at Warner Pacific University will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas or certificates earned.

For Washington State residents seeking information and resources about student loan repayment or seeking to submit a complaint relating to your student loans or student loan servicer, please visit www.wsac.wa.gov/loan-advocacy or contact the Student Loan Advocate at loanadvocate@wsac.wa.gov.

Warner Pacific University abides by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Sec. 438, PUB. L90-247, as amended, which sets forth requirements for the protection of students' rights to privacy in their educational records and gives them the right to inspect such records to seek correction of errors. This statement serves as notice to all students of their rights under the law.

STUDENT RECORDS POLICY

Warner Pacific University adheres to a policy of protecting students' rights to restrict release of personal information within their university records. All student academic files, supporting documents, and other records shall be maintained by Warner Pacific University staff employed for that purpose. The Registrar maintains transcripts of educational records, containing information only about academic status, in the Records Office. Every student is guaranteed access to their own records. The Registrar or a designee will advise a student of procedures for handling a request for correcting errors in the records. Disclosure of a student's records to faculty and administrative officers shall be for internal educational purposes, routine administrative and statistical purposes or legitimate inquiries made by instructors to guide the student in a specific academic area.

In general, information from a student's record will not be released to anyone outside the institution except with the prior written consent of the student or upon presentation of a court order or subpoena. As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education's FERPA regulations expanded the circumstances under which academic records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records — including Social Security Numbers, grades, or other private information — may be accessed without student consent. First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities ("Federal and State Authorities") may allow access to individual records and PII without student consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to academic records and PII without student consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when the university objects to or does not request such research. In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without student consent PII from academic records, and they may track student participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about students that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

Students who have questions about their grade records or any of the registration procedures may inquire at the Records Office. To maintain confidentiality of student records, only authorized persons presenting identification may review students' files.

Directory Information

The university considers the following items to be student directory information and may be released to anyone upon request: name, mailing address, campus email address, date of birth, photograph, enrollment dates and status (full time, half time, etc), major field of study, participation in recognized activities and sports, degrees and awards received, educational institutions previously attended, and hometown. Height and weight of student athletes may be released for appropriate purposes.

Students who do not wish to have directory information released by the university must file that request in the Records Office and must re-file the request annually.

Student Records Retention Policy

The university is committed to student record management in accordance with applicable laws and regulations as well as established best practices, reasonable business judgment, and common sense. Management of records must meet legal standards, optimize the use of both electronic and physical space, preserve the university's history, and ensure that redundant, outdated and useless records are destroyed.

The Records Office is responsible for ensuring appropriate use, retention and destruction of the primary student record file by establishing and following record management practices consistent with this policy. Other campus departments (admissions, advising, student finance, academic divisions, etc) also create and maintain student records in the disposition of their duties. These departments and offices are expected to follow the standards for student record management as outlined in this policy.

All confidential records are stored in manner that prohibits access by unauthorized individuals. For physical records, this means storage in locked offices or cabinets in appropriate locations. Access to physical spaces is controlled by the Campus Safety Department. For electronic records, this means storage in the electronic database with access through means of a confidential login. Access to electronic records is controlled by the Information Technology Department.

Warner Pacific University contracts with an external partner for the secure shredding of confidential paper documents at the time of disposal.

Student transcripts, academic dismissal records, class rosters, final grade rosters, and graduation lists are maintained permanently by the institution. Other portions of the student record (registration forms, major changes, advising files, applications for graduation, etc.) are maintained for 5 years after the student's last date of enrollment and then destroyed.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

Because of the changing nature of certain areas of study, most academic divisions at Warner Pacific University have established specific statute limitations on courses applied toward major and minor requirements. Those statutes are specified in the individual academic division sections. All statutes of limitations are specific to the student's catalog of entry, so long as continuous enrollment is maintained.

CREDIT OPTIONS

The following will be reviewed for acceptability toward the 120 semester credits required for the bachelor degree:

- Coursework completed at a college or university with regional, national, professional, or specialized accreditation, or with candidacy status.
- Credits earned through credit by examination: CLEP, DSST, etc.
- AARTS and SMART transcribed credits.
- ACE-military credit recommendations.
- CCRS (formerly ACE/PONSI) professional credit recommendations.
- Documented learning (Certificate) that occurs outside the college classroom that has been evaluated by ACE, or has been evaluated by the Records Office and has been determined to be comparable to an ACE-evaluated course.
- Documented prior learning (PLE Essay) that meets Warner Pacific University documentation requirements and the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning's (CAEL's) ten qualitative standards.

Non-Academic Credit Limit

Students may receive limited credit for coursework in nonacademic areas, including vocational coursework, up to 40 semester credits, unless the courses are part of an approved two-year degree in which case more than 40 credits may be accepted.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Accredited Colleges and Universities- Undergraduate

Warner Pacific evaluates credits from regionally accredited colleges and universities for applicability toward General Education Core, major or elective requirements. In addition, Warner Pacific University evaluates coursework from schools and colleges which are accredited by other agencies, provided the institution is listed in Accredited Institutions of Postsecondary Education, published by the American Council on Education (ACE). No more than 40 semester credits may be accepted from vocational-technical fields of study, and these credits will be considered as electives. Credits from non-regionally accredited institutions will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for transfer. Courses completed with an earned grade of "C-" or higher, may be evaluated by faculty in the appropriate academic division for General Education Core application.

Lower division courses taken at four-year institutions and all courses taken at two-year colleges will be counted only as lower-division credit (i.e., 100 or 200 level). Upper division and graduate courses taken at four-year institutions may be used to satisfy upper division (i.e., 300 or 400 level) requirements. In all cases, courses must be transferred from an appropriately accredited institution. A grade of "D" cannot be transferred to satisfy any course in the major, minor or core. In the transcript evaluation process, quarter credits will be converted to semester credits. The formula used is: 1 quarter credit = .67 semester credit.

Credit for college-level work from accredited community, junior or vocational/technical colleges is allowed to a cumulative maximum of 82 semester credits. A maximum of 94 semester credits may accepted in total for transfer credit at Warner Pacific University.

Accredited Colleges and Universities- Graduate

Warner Pacific evaluates credits from regionally accredited colleges and universities for applicability toward graduate degree and program requirements. Courses from regionally accredited institutions in which the student earned a grade of "B" or higher, may be evaluated by faculty for use in graduate degree requirements. Students must also meet residency requirements within their chosen graduate program. The formula used is: 1 quarter credit = .67 semester credit.

Block Transfer

Warner Pacific accepts the completed Associate of Arts Transfer Degree from Oregon community colleges and the Associate of Arts D.T.A. degree from Washington community colleges as having fulfilled the General Education Core requirements except as described below. Other accredited college associate degrees are transferable and qualify a student for junior status; these will be evaluated for applicability toward General Education Core, major, or electives. The associate degree being transferred must be completed prior to entry at Warner Pacific. Students enter the university at junior status with a minimum of 60, but no more than 82 semester credits. If coursework in progress at another institution at the time of transfer would complete the associate degree and/or qualify for junior status at the end of that term, the student may request the Registrar in writing to postpone evaluation of the official transcript until the end of the current term, upon receipt of the official transcript. Student must present evidence that coursework is in progress and that satisfactory completion of those courses will result in completion of the Transfer Degree. Any academic advising provided by the university prior to official transcript evaluation is not official and may change based on the official evaluation.

Students with an acceptable transfer degree must complete the following additional General Education Core requirements:

- ILR 300A Advanced Information Literacy & Research (3)
- HUM 310A Faith, Living and Learning (3)
- REL 320A Spirituality, Character, and Service (3)

In addition, Warner Pacific University honors specific articulated agreements with Chemeketa Community College, Clackamas Community College, Clark College, Everest College, Mt. Hood Community College, Linfield College, Multnomah University, Pioneer Pacific College, Portland Bible College, Portland Community College, Portland State University, University of Portland and University of Western States. The university maintains a teacher education cooperative agreement with The University of Portland and cross-registration opportunities with members of the Oregon Alliance of Independent Colleges and Universities.

Unaccredited Institutions

Credit earned at an unaccredited college or university may be submitted for evaluation at the time of transfer. Credit which has been awarded a grade of "C-" or higher may be transferable upon appropriate faculty evaluation and recommendation, on a course-by-course basis. Credits receiving recommendation are provisionally accepted until the student has satisfactorily completed 15 semester credits at Warner Pacific.

Courses completed prior to High School Graduation

Foreign Institutions

Credit earned at a foreign institution may be submitted for evaluation at the time of transfer. If the institution is listed in the ACE-published Accredited Institutions of Postsecondary Education, the credits will be evaluated as the university evaluates similar U.S. institutions. If the institution is not listed in the ACE guide, the student must provide acceptable documentation of its academic equivalency in the United States. Warner Pacific University recommends the following evaluation service providers for coursework completed outside the United States:

InCred International Credit Evaluations, Web: www.incredevals.org, Email: InCred@naia.org (Required for varsity athletes)
World Education Service (WES), Web: www.wes.org, Email: info@wes.org

ALTERNATIVE CREDIT

Several alternative credit programs are available for undergraduate students. A maximum of 30 non-graded credits may be earned. A student wishing to take advantage of learning acquired through independent reading and study, job experience, or exams, should consult an academic advisor.

Prior Learning Experience

Prior Learning Experience (PLE) credit will be awarded for liberal arts college-level learning acquired from non-traditional sources, such as work experience, professional training, military training, etc.. There are three ways that students can demonstrate they have achieved college-level learning through prior experience: a) by successful completion of proficiency examinations, b) by submission of professional certification obtained through non-college instruction, and c) by writing papers, which document learning that has occurred through life experience. Such credit awards are made under protocol designed to ensure reliable and valid measures of learning outcomes are or have been applied. All policies and procedures will follow guidelines set by the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL) and the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Assessment of Documented Prior Learning

Documented prior learning through a prior learning experience (PLE) Essay is assessed after enrollment in the Professional and Graduate Studies. The PLE Essay option is available to students who successfully complete a college composition course, and a one-credit online course titled Exploring Prior Learning Experience (CLS 200A), to be scheduled outside of the cohort study. This course includes the opportunity to explore prior learning as well as learn about how to prepare, document, and write a PLE essay.

Before registering for CLS 200A, students should consult with their academic advisor to determine if PLE credit should be part of their academic degree plan. The PLE Essay is one of several non-traditional methods available to students who need elective credits outside of PGS cohort study, for graduation. PLE may not be used to satisfy any courses within the PGS cohort study.

Students are eligible to submit PLE essays after completing CLS 200A until five months prior to their intended commencement date. An evaluation fee (see tuition and fees) is due at the time the essay is submitted.

The student must write a narrative, which demonstrates learning outcomes equivalent to a college-level course through the application of Kolb's Model of Experiential Learning. The learning experience must also be verified through documentation, as specified in examples provided in CLS 200A. Credit may be awarded after the essay is evaluated by a trained faculty evaluator in the appropriate academic department. The Council for Adult and Experiential Learning's (CAEL) ten qualitative standards are followed. PLE credit will be transcribed when the evaluation of a PLE essay is completed and an award of credit is indicated by the faculty evaluator.

Prior Learning Experience credits are transcribed similar to the following examples:

REL 220	PLE: Spiritual Formation	3 credits
SS 350	PLE: Overseas Study	3 credits

Agency-Sponsored Learning (Certificates)

Transfer credit may be granted for professional training programs, courses, licenses, and certifications that have been evaluated by, or are comparable to, the American Council on Education's College Credit Recommendation Service (ACE/CCRS).

Students who have completed courses at organizations that are participating in the ACE/CCRS program may obtain a transcript from ACE's Registry of Credit Recommendations.

Credit may be granted if the subject matter meets the Professional and Graduate Studies' transfer policies, if the submitted documentation officially verifies successful course completion, and if the information matches, or is comparable to, the ACE Guide's course exhibit

Military

Credit may be awarded for some types of military services and certificated courses on the college level as listed in, or comparable to, guidelines provided by the American Council on Education (ACE). Transfer credit may be granted for ACE credit recommendations for basic military training, military schools and courses, occupations specialties (MOS – Army; NER – Navy), and Army, Navy, Air Force, Reserves, and National Guard commissioned officer training when appropriate documentation is presented and the general transfer policies are met. A summary assessment policy on ACE military credit recommendations follows:

The official Joint Services or CCAF transcript must be received before military training can be evaluated.

Military credits awarded by a transferring institution must be re-evaluated. If a student has less than an honorable discharge, no military credit may be awarded.

CREDIT BY EXAMINATION

Students may earn undergraduate credit by examination through tests developed and sponsored by Warner Pacific University or through standardized tests sponsored both by CLEP and DSST as described below. Students are eligible to take exams throughout their program until one month prior to their intended commencement ceremony

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)

Developed and administered by the College Entrance Examination Board, the CLEP evaluates what a person has learned through non-traditional or independent study. Warner Pacific considers the ACE (American Council on Education) recommended guidelines to determine passing scores and number of credits for CLEP exams.

Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Educational Support (DSST)

Originally developed for the voluntary education programs of the U.S. Armed Forces, the DSST standardized exams are now available for civilian use. The civilian tests are administered by the Chauncey Group International, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Educational Testing Service. Warner Pacific considers the ACE-recommended guidelines to determine passing scores and number of credits awarded for DSST exams. The university is registered as an official DSST test site.

Proficiency Examination

Students may earn undergraduate credit for a course by examination. The student must submit a Proficiency Examination form with the signatures of the faculty of the course for which the exam is being taken, and the Division Dean for the course, and pay a Proficiency Examination fee prior to taking the exam. A minimum score of 70% ("C" or better) is required to pass the exam. The fee is due regardless of the outcome of the exam (see the Fees section of this catalog). The Proficiency Examination form is available in the Records Office.

ADDRESS/PHONE/NAME CHANGE

Students making an address or phone change may do so using the MyWP portal (mywp.warnerpacific.edu) or by providing printed documentation to PGS Records. Name changes must be done through PGS Records and require appropriate documentation.

ENROLLMENT STATUS AND CLASS STANDING

Enrollment Status and Course Load

The following statuses apply to students enrolled in the Professional and Graduate Studies program:

- To be considered full-time: Undergraduate students must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 credits per semester. Graduate students must be enrolled in a minimum of six credits per semester.
- To be considered part-time: Undergraduate students must be enrolled as a degree-seeking student in a minimum of six credits and a maximum of 11 credits per semester. Graduate students must be enrolled as a degree-seeking student in a minimum of three credits and a maximum of five credits per semester.

Double-Up Enrollment

Doubling-up on classes (i.e. participating in multiple classes concurrently) is generally discouraged for PGS students due to the extensive time commitment required for each course. The following guidelines apply for students who wish to double-up on classes.

- Students who choose to double-up should do so for a limited period of time to achieve a specific goal (e.g., external funding requirements, graduation deadlines, etc.).
- Students who double-up must not exceed 18 credits in any given semester. Exceptions to this limit must be requested via petition to the Academic Policies Committee.
- Students must be in good academic standing to double-up.
- Students must have financial clearance to double-up. Students should be aware that double-up classes result in additional tuition charges without additional financial aid in most cases.
- All double-ups must be reviewed and approved by an academic advisor before registration.

Class Standing

All full and part-time students who have applied for admission to the college and are working on a degree program are assigned class standing:

- Freshman, students who have earned fewer than 30 semester credits
- Sophomore, students with 30 to 59.99 credits
- Junior, students with 60 to 89.99 credits, and at least 120 cumulative grade points
- Senior, those with 90 or more credits and at least 180 cumulative grade points
- Post-Baccalaureate, those who have earned a baccalaureate degree, and are pursuing a second degree, advanced licensure or certification
- Graduate, those who have earned a baccalaureate degree, and have been accepted into one of the graduate programs

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION

All change requests to a student's schedule (adding or dropping courses) must be submitted in writing to the Academic Advising Department. Adding or dropping a course may impact financial aid and should be done in consultation with a financial aid counselor.

Adding Courses

Students wishing to add courses to their schedule should contact their academic advisor. Classes should be added at least 25 days before the course begins to assure receipt of all course materials through normal channels. In most cases homework assignments are due in workshop one of each course and it is the student's responsibility to complete all assignments on time.

Dropping Courses

Students wishing to drop select courses from their registration should submit a drop form to their academic advisor. Drop forms are available on the university website, on the Student Resources tab in MyWP, or from the academic advisor.

Dropping an individual course may also be a part of an approved Leave of Absence. In order for a Leave of Absence to be valid, the request must be made prior to the last night of attendance and approved by a member of the financial aid department. Please see the Leave of Absence section in this catalog for more information.

The date of determination on the form is the date that the student provided written confirmation of the drop. This date is used in determining if any tuition refund is due. If the course is dropped before the course starts, then a full refund is earned. If a course is dropped after it begins, a refund may be received on a sliding scale. See the Professional and Graduate Studies Refund Policy for further information.

Students may withdraw from a course with no record on the transcript (called a “drop”) when they withdraw properly before the deadline (see table below). Once the initial “drop deadline” passes, a student may still withdraw from the course but a “W” will be entered on the student’s transcript.

Course Length	Drop Deadline – No “W” on Transcript	Withdrawal Deadline – “W” on Transcript
Two Weeks	Before Course Begins	Before Week 2 Begins
Four Weeks	Before Course Begins	Before Week 3 Begins
Five Weeks	Before Week 2 Begins	Before Week 4 Begins
Six Weeks	Before Week 3 Begins	Before Week 4 Begins
Seven Weeks	Before Week 3 Begins	Before Week 5 Begins
Eight Weeks	Before Week 3 Begins	Before Week 6 Begins

Course Cancellation

Warner Pacific University is committed to providing each student with a healthy learning environment in the classroom. Class sizes are carefully monitored to ensure each student has the opportunity for active engagement and interaction. Should it become necessary to cancel a course due to low enrollment, an academic advisor will notify the affected students to identify acceptable alternatives.

“No Show” Policy

Students who fail to begin a course for which they are registered will be withdrawn from that course and charged a “No Show” fee. Students who miss the first workshop but follow established processes to drop the course before the second workshop will be charged a $50 “No Show” fee. Students who miss workshops one and two will be automatically dropped from the course and charged a $100 “No Show” fee. In online courses, students are considered to have “attended” class if they posted in the course site at any point after the start date of the course.

If the student does not return for the next registered course and does not have contact with the academic advisor, the student will be withdrawn from the university under the Vanished Student Policy.

Approved Leave of Absence (LOA)

A Leave of Absence is a planned temporary break in attendance, and therefore must meet certain conditions. If the conditions are not met, the student is considered withdrawn and a Return to Title IV (financial aid funds) calculation must be performed. Students may begin the process to request a Leave of Absence by contacting an academic advisor or financial aid counselor.

In order to qualify for an approved LOA, the student must meet with a financial aid counselor, and adhere to the following requirements:

- Requests for a LOA must be submitted in writing, signed and dated by the student, specify the reason for the leave request, and signed for approval by a representative of the financial aid department
- Requests for a LOA must be made prior to the final session of attendance, unless unforeseen circumstances prevent the student from doing so
- There must be reasonable expectation the student will return from the LOA
- Students in the Non-Standard Term format must be expected to return within the same semester
- The LOA together with any additional LOAs must not exceed a total of 150 days including weekends and scheduled breaks within the LOA in any 12-month period
- Prior to granting the LOA, the school must explain to a Title IV loan recipient student, the effects a failure to return to enrollment may have on the student’s loan grace period and repayment terms. The leave is not considered approved until after counseling has been completed and the student has submitted a signed and dated “Request for Leave of Absence” form

If a LOA does not meet the conditions listed above, and the student is not in attendance for more than 28 days, the student is considered withdrawn from the school, and the school is required to perform a return of funds calculation to the federal government.

Program Withdrawal

A student who finds it necessary to withdraw from the program must contact the assigned academic advisor in writing. The date of written notification will determine the exit date. See section on PGS Refund Policy to understand the financial impact of withdrawal.

In addition to the federal requirements published in the Warner Pacific catalog, the following procedures apply in the case of a student withdrawing from a PGS course and/or the Program:

- Students who drop or withdraw from a class after it has begun must submit a drop form. Failure to do so may result in a Return to Title IV calculation.
- Students who are out of attendance for more than 28 days, based on the last attendance date, will have a Return to Title IV calculation performed.
- Any unearned funds will be returned to the lender, or in the case of grant money, to the government.
- Any earned funds that remain as a credit on the student account, may be paid to the student directly or returned to the lender.

Administrative Program Withdrawal

Students may be administratively withdrawn from the program for the following reasons:

- Academic misconduct
- Student misconduct
- Non-attendance
- Persistent absences in multiple courses

- Non-payment of tuition or fees
- Failure to remove a condition of exception for regular admission
- Failure to return from a leave of absence
- Failure to return from an individual course withdrawal
- Student misconduct within collegial relationships (e.g.: in class, with other students, with faculty, in online forums)

Warner Pacific University reserves the right to deny admission, continued enrollment, or readmission to any applicant or student whose personal history and background indicate that his or her presence at Warner Pacific would endanger the health, safety, welfare, or property of the members of the academic community or interfere with the orderly and effective performance of the university's functions. Appeals should be addressed to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs.

When a student stops attending classes, fails to complete a withdrawal form, and fails to communicate or respond to communication from academic advisors, faculty, and/or staff, the student is considered to be vanished and will be administratively withdrawn from the program. The administrative withdrawal will take place after the student has been out of attendance for 28 days or if the student does not return to class on the expected date of return and does not make contact with the academic advisor, whichever occurs first. The student's grade and tuition charges will be calculated appropriately, per the date of the administrative withdrawal.

Program Re-Entry

Students wishing to return to Warner Pacific after an absence will work with an academic advisor or enrollment representative who will guide them through the re-entry process (audit, readmission, petition, degree planning, etc.). Students must be in good standing academically and financially at Warner Pacific University and cleared of any registration holds prior to re-entry.

Re-entry into a cohort will be based, in part, on available space in the appropriate class. Readmitted students are required to complete the degree requirements specified in the current catalog at the time of re-entry. Any Core Studies requirements specific to class standing must be completed to the level in which the student originally entered Warner Pacific.

Students wishing to re-enter the program are assessed any tuition and fees in effect at the time of re-entry. Students who retake a class, for which they have previously received textbooks, are responsible for any curricular changes made during their absence, including new textbooks and materials. Re-entering students will be advised concerning any curriculum changes and recency issues and will be enrolled in the appropriate course sequence. Prior to re-entry, all official transcripts from other institutions attended must be on file with PGS Records.

Previously returned federal student aid funds may not be immediately available upon re-entry. Please see the financial aid department for details. Any charges not covered by financial aid must be paid according to Student Financial Services policies.

Program Re-Entry after Active Duty/Reservist Training

A student at Warner Pacific University who is a member of the military may experience an interruption in their program attendance due to service obligations. Such a student has a right to be readmitted and reenrolled at the university within one year after release from active duty/reservist training. The student should present a request for readmission along with verification of active duty/reservist training and official transcripts from any other institutions attended in the interim. Upon receipt of this request and documentation, the student will be promptly readmitted to the same academic status they had when last attending and no readmission fee will be required.

ATTENDANCE POLICY AND PARTICIPATION GUIDELINES

Weekly Schedule

On-Ground Courses: Courses meet weekly, with preparation required to the first session of each course. (Preparation may involve reading and writing assignments due at the start of the first session.) The course ends immediately following the final session.

Online Courses: The online class week begins on Monday (Day 1, 12:01 a.m.) and ends on Sunday (Day 7, 11:59 p.m.). Therefore, if an assignment is due on Day 4, it must be posted no later than 11:59 p.m. on Thursday of that week.

Attendance Policy

Faithful attendance in an accelerated degree program is integral to student success. This educational model includes much more than just an expert or academician distributing his/her knowledge to a class of students. Learning happens through collaboration and engagement, with the instructor serving as a facilitator of that learning. In the classroom, small group relationships are developed to ensure that collaboration, participation, and teamwork are key ingredients in the learning process. In other words, attendance is required in order to participate in the full learning experience. Unless the course syllabi indicate otherwise, the following attendance policies are in effect.

Attendance for In-Person Courses: Attendance at class meetings and participation in learning team meetings is required. However, since occasional absences may be necessary, students may miss up to one class session (four hours) of a five- or six-week course. Such students will be expected to work with their instructor to make up any missed work for that week, but there will be no additional negative impact on their final grade. Absences beyond one class session will result in an automatic 20% reduction in the course grade for each additional missed session. If the course duration is four weeks or less, students may miss only an equivalent of half a class session before course grade reductions are enforced. (See also the No Show Policy).

Attendance for Online Courses: To be considered in attendance in an online course, a student must be actively engaged in the course content throughout each week of the online course. Engagement is measured by participation in the online discussion forums, posting course assignments, or completing online quizzes or activities. Students who do not submit any work during an online week (Monday through Sunday) will be considered absent during that week and will be expected to work with their instructor to make up any missed work for that week. Students are allowed one absence during a five- or six-week session with no additional negative impact on their final grade. Absences beyond one class session will result in an automatic 20% reduction in the course grade for each additional missed week. (See also the No Show Policy).

Leave of Absence: In extreme circumstances (extended illness, surgery, family crisis, etc.), a leave of absence or an exception to the attendance policy may be granted (see Leave of Absence Policy and Petitions Regarding Application of Academic Policy). The student should contact the academic advisor as soon as he or she becomes aware of a potential need for a leave of absence or request for exception.

Participation Guidelines

Participation in In-Person Courses: Participation is assessed by the instructor and may be a factor in assigning a student's final grade. Participation typically requires active engagement in weekly classroom and learning team activities and discussions. Note that attendance and participation are measured differently. Excessive absences will negatively impact the course grade. However, mere attendance in class does not by itself ensure full credit for course participation.

Participation in Online Courses: Full participation in an online course requires regular engagement with the course, and typically requires the student to log in to the course site several times each week. Full participation also typically includes completion of all required discussion forum questions, or submission of all assignments if no discussion questions are required. Note that attendance and participation are measured differently. Excessive absences will negatively impact the course grade. However, mere attendance in class does not by itself ensure full credit for course participation.

Religious Accommodation Policy

Warner Pacific University will make good faith efforts to provide reasonable religious accommodations to students who have sincerely held religious practices or beliefs that conflict with a scheduled course or program requirement. Students requesting religious accommodation should submit a written request to their instructor with as much advance notice as possible. Any absence resulting from a religious accommodation does not excuse students from course requirements or information reviewed during missed classes. Students are responsible for obtaining materials and information provided during any missed class. The student must work with the instructor to determine a schedule for making up missed work.

Grading

Absences from class or Learning Team meetings will be considered by the instructor in grading. Grade points may also be reduced for students who exhibit a pattern of excessive tardiness or are non-participative in class or in Learning Teams. The percentage deducted is either notated in the syllabus or is at the discretion of the instructor. Participation points for in-class activities are deducted for ALL absences and tardiness. Participation standards are set by the faculty member for the course. There may be an assigned percentage of the total grade for participation depending upon the design of the course and the need for active classroom discussion.

LEARNING TEAMS

Foundational to the educational philosophy and practice of the Professional and Graduate Studies at Warner Pacific University is the acknowledgement that there is a difference between traditional-age college students and those students who have been in the workforce for a time before attending college. Adult students are self-directed, often financially independent, and typically oriented toward professional development. Warner Pacific is committed to providing adult learners with an education that is both philosophically and theoretically challenging and transformative while being practically/professionally useful and engaging. Toward that end, Warner Pacific has made a deliberate choice to make learning within community a centerpiece of the educational process.

There are two primary ways that the Professional and Graduate Studies nurtures community learning: through program cohorts and, within courses, through projects built around team interaction. Students who enter a degree program will take most of their courses with the same group of students. This provides students with an opportunity to connect deeply to others who share their vocational aspirations, and to learn from others who bring their diverse knowledge and skills into the classroom. Graduates report that their cohort colleagues were instrumental in both their success in and their enjoyment of the educational process.

In addition to program cohorts, many courses within the curriculum have projects that are assigned to learning teams. Learning teams are usually comprised of 3-5 students and are specifically focused on the completion of a project that addresses one or more course outcomes. Project learning teams are provided with guiding documents that help them with project planning, self-evaluation, and team evaluation. Evaluation of learning team projects is based upon both the quality of the project itself as well as the teamwork and collaboration used in the production of the project. Students are invited to grade both themselves and their teammates at the end of each project, both for purposes of accountability, and also to help students focus on developing teamwork skills that will greatly enhance their work in professional settings.

Learning teams are assigned at the beginning of each course and are expected to connect during Week One of every course. The means of contact throughout the course may vary, but ongoing contact with the learning team should be considered an extension of the classroom experience. Therefore, outside of designated class time, learning teams are expected to connect based on their team's preference. Some examples include:

- Meeting before or after class or during breaks on class nights (for face-to-face classes)
- Meeting at a separate place and time during the week
- Communicating via telephone conference, email exchanges, or group forums on MyWP classes
- Meeting virtually using Zoom, Teams, or a similar technology platform

Learning teams may use facilities on campus, at remote campuses, in the library, or in the coffee shop.

The Professional and Graduate Studies realizes that students have different learning styles and time schedules, and that it is sometimes challenging to adapt to the needs of team members. In these challenges, students are asked to work together to positively engage and encourage each other to achieve both successful completion of team assignments, as well as to develop negotiation and problem-solving skills. Students who fully engage with their program cohort and learning teams often report deep satisfaction with both their skill development and the professional and personal network that develops through learning community engagement.

COURSE INFORMATION

Credit Hour Definition

The term "credit hour" represents an amount of work corresponding to the learning outcomes of a course rather than a specific amount of time. Given this explanation, there is recognition of a relationship between time spent on task and measurable student achievement. In the traditional 15 week semester program, a credit hour is generally represented by one hour each week of classroom instruction or direct faculty interaction and two hours of outside course work (representing 45 hours spent on course work per credit). In courses that are shorter in duration, similar or equivalent student learning outcomes must be achieved regardless of length of course or actual direct contact hours. This applies to accelerated courses, online courses, internships, practica, and laboratory work.

Academic expectations to ensure satisfactory learning outcomes in the Professional and Graduate Studies include:

1. Course content - Each course syllabus is created by a qualified faculty member with appropriate academic credentials and expertise in the course content area. The syllabus must include the following components:
 - a. Course description
 - b. Course outcomes
 - c. Learning activities and assignments
 - d. Objectives
 - e. Grading rubrics
 - f. Critical PGS policies
 - g. Materials inventory
 - h. ADA statement
 - i. Introductory note to students
 - j. Individual workshop expectations
2. Course length and expectations - Typically each course meets for 5 to 8 weeks depending on the course content and level (undergraduate vs. graduate) from 6:00 to 10:00 pm, one night per week for the duration of the course. Schedules for weekend, online, and hybrid courses vary. Students are expected to come to class prepared; required preparation is outlined in the syllabus (available on the course site prior to the first night of the course). Professors are expected to use the class time to build on the preparation done by students. Students should expect to spend 10-20 hours outside of class each week preparing for class and completing required course assignments. This includes work with Learning Teams.
3. Assessment - Assessing student learning and program outcomes is essential to the academic quality and integrity of any program. Assessment should occur at multiple levels.
 - a. Student assignments - included in the course syllabus are student assignments and grading rubrics for those assignments. Through the use of these grading rubrics faculty should be able to adequately assess the learning of individual students in relationship to the expected learning outcomes.
 - b. Program outcomes - each program has stated program outcomes that are assessed through the institution's annual assessment process. These assessments might include external assessment measures such as standardized testing which allows the institution to evaluate the learning of students based on nationally normed data.
 - c. Core Studies assessment - for undergraduate programs, students will also be assessed based on the development that has occurred through the general education core. These assessments relate directly to the Core Themes identified as the essential components of the mission of the institution. Assessment at this level will be conducted through the curriculum committee and the office of institutional research.

Course Numbering System

Courses numbered 1-99 are preparatory courses. A maximum of six credits at the 90-level taken at Warner Pacific may be applied toward the graduation total of 120 credits. No 90-level credits may be used to satisfy requirements in the major or minor.

100A - 199A	Lower-division courses, primarily for freshmen
200A - 299A	Lower-division courses, primarily for sophomores
300A - 399A	Upper-division courses, primarily for juniors
400A - 499A	Upper-division courses, primarily for seniors
500A - 699A	Graduate-level courses

Courses which are identified by an "X" after the course number are classified as experimental courses. They may be used to satisfy requirements in appropriate categories.

INTERNSHIPS, FIELD EXPERIENCES, AND STUDENT TEACHING

University sponsored on-site coursework is supervised by site personnel identified by the university supervisor, site supervisor and student prior to commencement of the experience. International students are required by law to notify the Designated School Official (DSO) and receive clearance for Curricular Practical Training (CPT) prior to beginning an internship, student teaching, or field experience.

Internships are courses having number, title, units and outcomes stated in filed syllabi. Credit is assigned prior to the internship with regard to the length and breadth of exposure necessary to successfully accomplish stated outcomes.

A Field Experience or Practicum is an introductory exposure to a professional environment for a few hours per week. Student involvement may range from observation to directed participation in assigned components of the working environment.

Student Teaching is the final stage of the Preliminary Teaching Licensure program, leading to entry level competencies as a classroom teacher. Consent of the Dean of Education is required. See the Teacher Education Handbook for further information.

INDEPENDENT AND DIRECTED STUDIES

An Independent Study is a particular course that is designed specifically for an individual student to explore academic areas of special interest not ordinarily provided by the existing curriculum. It is carried out under the guidance of a qualified member of the faculty and must include regular contact with the faculty member. There is limited availability for Independent Study, and it must have prior approval of the Division Dean and the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. A per credit fee will be assessed for Independent Studies. The fee is in addition to tuition and any applicable class fees.

A Directed Study is an existing course. Students may register for an approved Warner Pacific course either at a time other than normally scheduled or when fewer than the minimum number of required students have enrolled for a regularly scheduled course. Directed Study will be approved only in instances where the course is required for student's degree program, and circumstances prevent the student from enrolling in the course at the next regularly scheduled time. There is limited availability for Directed Study, and it must have prior approval of the Division Dean and the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. A per credit fee will be assessed for Directed Studies. The fee is in addition to tuition and any applicable class fees.

GRADING EXPECTATIONS AND RUBRICS

Assessment Criteria

Letter grades are assigned in courses based on the student's percentage of points earned.

Grade	Percentage	Grade	Percentage	Grade	Percentage
A	94-100%	B-	80-83%	D+	67-69%
A-	90-93%	C+	77-79%	D	64-66%
B+	87-89%	C	74-76%	D-	60-63%
B	84-86%	C-	70-73%	F	59% or below

Grade Points

Letter grades are translated into numerical grade points according to the following chart.

Grade	Grade Point Value	Grade	Grade Point Value	Grade	Grade Point Value
A	4.0	B-	2.7	D+	1.3
A-	3.7	C+	2.3	D	1.0
B+	3.3	C	2.0	D-	0.7
B	3.0	C-	1.7	F	0.0

This grading scale was implemented on July 1, 2021. Prior to July 1, 2021, plus or minus grades were specified on the transcript but did not affect calculation of the grade point average.

Grades with No Point Value

P	Pass	W	Withdraw	R	Registrar received no grade
NP	No Pass	AU	Audit	X	No Basis for Grade

Criteria Considered in Final Grading

The faculty member will take into consideration the following criteria when assigning a letter grade for the course:

- Individual homework
- Learning Team homework
- Individual presentation(s)
- Learning Team presentation(s)
- Quizzes and examinations
- Learning Team evaluation(s)
- Other stated requirements, such as reports, term papers, book reports, and notebooks, as assigned by the faculty member

These factors represent the degree of mastery of the course. The specific course requirements are established by the faculty member, along with the weights of each factor for the course. These will be distributed in class session one. Student must earn a C- or higher in required courses within their major and minor and in the general education core.

Late Work Policy

The Professional and Graduate Studies at Warner Pacific University is an accelerated program, built upon adult-learning principles. Due to the accelerated and elevated nature of the work, it is critically important that students maintain pace with course assignments. For that reason, late work is typically not accepted. Students are expected to complete all assignments as scheduled, as detailed in the syllabus and/or course site.

- Under special circumstances, an instructor may determine that late work for the course will be accepted and will appropriately communicate that to the students.
- An assignment is deemed late if submitted after the deadline for that assignment as specified in the syllabus or course site (as applicable).
- Late work, if allowed, will only be accepted for up to one week following the due date of the assignment and will be reduced by at least 20%.

Course Assignments

The instructor reserves the right to change an assignment or assignment due date if doing so contributes to the achievement of course objectives and outcomes. Students will be notified in advance of any such changes.

Pass / No Pass Grades

Courses at Warner Pacific University may be taken for a Pass/No Pass (P/NP) under the following stipulations:

- To earn a "P" the student must complete the requirements of the course with at least the equivalent of a "C" letter grade ("B" letter grade for graduate students).
- Courses in the student's major or minor may not be P/NP
- Students may elect to take a maximum of 12 credits P/NP to apply toward the bachelor degree (a maximum of 6 credits may be applied toward the associate degree).
- Students choosing to exercise the P/NP option in a course must process a P/NP form. This form must be completed and on file in PGS Records before the withdrawal deadline of the course to exercise this option. (Form is available online, through the academic advisor, or in PGS Records).
- Once the P/NP option has been elected, it is not possible to request a letter grade at a later date.

Any exceptions to the above policy must be approved by the Academic Policies Committee. Students may elect the P/NP option up until the withdrawal deadline of the course.

Submission of Grades and Grade Reports

Instructors are required to submit final course grades for each course no later than two weeks after the last class of the course. Students will be able to access their grades through MyWP immediately after submission by the instructor. Once recorded, grades can be changed by the instructor only in the case of clerical or computational error. It is the student's responsibility to bring to the attention of the instructor any error in grades received within one semester following the issued grade.

Auditing a Course

The purpose of an audit is to allow the student an opportunity to experience a particular discipline in an effort to make future degree/program decisions. Audited courses do not satisfy prerequisites for other courses. Only earned credits may count toward degree / program requirements or prerequisite fulfillment. A student may register for any course without credit by declaring that intention at the time of registration. A student may change a credit class to an audit no later than the last day to add classes. Admittance is contingent upon available space in the class. Audits may change to regular registration by paying the regular tuition, using the standard registration change procedures, and meeting the deadline of the last day to add classes.

Students electing to audit a Warner Pacific course must attend/participate (in) 75% of the classes for the audit to appear on the transcript; if the required attendance/participation level is not reached, the audit will be removed from the transcript, but no fees will be refunded.

Repetition of Courses

When a course is repeated, only the highest grade is included in the computation of the total number of credits and GPA required for graduation. All courses will remain on the student's permanent record.

HONORS

Dean's Lists are published each semester in recognition of undergraduate students enrolled for 12 or more letter grade credits and receiving a minimum grade point average of 3.5 in all courses attempted that semester. Credits taken P/NP are eliminated from this calculation. Thus, a person taking 12 credits of which three are P/NP, would not be eligible for Dean's List consideration. Master degree candidates are not considered for the Dean's List.

Baccalaureate degree candidates with qualifying GPAs who have completed at least 43 semester credits at Warner Pacific receive confirmation of honors at graduation. The "career" (cumulative) GPA appears on the student's transcript and is used to calculate the minimum GPA for graduation and qualification for honors at graduation. The career GPA is based on all courses attempted (both in residence and transfer) which are applicable toward graduation with the baccalaureate degree at Warner Pacific. Undergraduate honors at graduation are determined solely on the cumulative GPA earned:

Cum Laude	3.50-3.74
Magna Cum Laude	3.75-3.84
Summa Cum Laude	3.85-4.00

Associate degree candidates and Master degree candidates are not eligible for academic honors at graduation.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students are expected to adhere to the highest standards of honorable conduct in academic matters. If students and faculty are to build a learning community, it is essential that students present their own work in their classes. The following situations constitute a breach in academic integrity:

1. Cheating (the use or attempted use of unauthorized materials, information, or study aids)
2. Fabrication/falsification (intentional falsification or invention of information, including false sign-in)
3. Plagiarism (the use of another's ideas, words, data, or product, including tables and figures, without proper acknowledgment)
4. Identical work (submitting work for multiple purposes without permission or submitting work that closely parallels another student's submission when collaboration is not allowed)
5. Assisting in dishonesty (helping or attempting to help another commit an act of academic dishonesty, tampering with evaluation materials, distributing unauthorized questions or answers related to an examination/test)
6. Misuse of electronic resources (the use of unauthorized electronic resources to complete an assignment)

All incidents of willful dishonesty or plagiarism will be reported in writing to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs (AVP). Possible actions that may be taken by a faculty member who suspects a student of academic dishonesty (after conversation with the student in order to determine the student's awareness of the problem) are listed below. In order to protect both student and faculty involved, the AVP must be present during any action taken beyond the oral reprimand/ counseling stage:

1. Oral reprimand (by faculty member)
2. Requirement to resubmit work or retake an examination/test (by faculty member)
3. Reduction of grade or failing grade on assignment/exam (by faculty member with Division Dean or AVP)
4. Reduction of grade for the course (by faculty member with Division Dean or AVP)
5. Failing grade for the course (by faculty member with Division Dean or AVP)

If a satisfactory resolution is not reached after these actions have been taken, either faculty or student may refer the matter to the Academic Policies Committee for resolution, which will address the issue using the regularly established procedures for academic appeals.

At the discretion of the AVP, repeat offenses may result in suspension or administrative dismissal from the university.

All of the above procedures must be carried out in accordance with the Warner Pacific University Education Records Policy in compliance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (Public Law 93-380).

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Failure to maintain satisfactory progress may affect a student's eligibility for financial aid and continuance in the program.

Academic Standing- Undergraduate

An undergraduate student is expected to make satisfactory progress toward a degree by maintaining a minimum 2.0 GPA in WPU program coursework and by earning a C- or higher in all major and minor requirements leading toward an undergraduate degree.

An undergraduate student will be placed on Academic Warning when a grade lower than C- is earned and/or when a student's WPU cumulative GPA falls below 2.0. It is suggested that a student on Academic Warning meet with the academic advisor within one week of the warning to formulate a plan for improving academic performance.

Students on Academic Warning and Academic Probation are limited to taking only one course at a time. If a student in a bachelor degree program earns below a C- grade in a major upper division course requirement or in ILR 300A, the course must be repeated. Students who need to repeat a course should consult with a financial aid counselor, since financial aid may be impacted.

At the end of the next WPU course, the Records Office will conduct a status review. If the undergraduate student's cumulative GPA is above 2.0 and the course has been successfully completed with a C- or higher, the student's Academic Warning will be dropped. However, if the cumulative GPA remains below 2.0 or if the student has failed to earn at least a C- in the course, the student will be placed on Academic Probation.

At the end of the next WPU course, the Records Office will conduct a status review. If the undergraduate student's cumulative GPA is above 2.0 and the course has been successfully completed with a C- or higher, the student's Academic Probation will be dropped. However, if the cumulative GPA remains below 2.0 or if the student has failed to earn at least a C- in the course, the student will be placed on Academic Dismissal.

Admission on Probation- Undergraduate

An undergraduate student may be admitted to Warner Pacific University on Academic Probation and will be on this status for the first three WPU courses. The student must earn at least a C- for each of these first three courses and will be limited to taking only one course at a time while on Academic Probation.

At the end of each of the first three WPU courses, the Records Office will conduct a status review. If the course has been successfully completed with a C- or higher, the student may continue to the next course. However, if the student has failed to earn at least a C- in the course, the student will be placed on Academic Dismissal.

This status review process will be completed for each of the first three courses at WPU. Once the first three courses have been completed with at least a C- in each course, the student's Academic Probation will be dropped.

Academic Standing- Graduate

An graduate student is expected to make satisfactory progress toward a degree by maintaining a minimum 3.0 GPA in WPU program coursework and by earning a B- or higher in all courses leading toward a graduate degree.

A student in a graduate program will be placed on Academic Warning when a grade lower than B- is earned and/or when a student's cumulative GPA falls below 3.0. It is suggested that a student on Academic Warning meet with the academic advisor within one week of the warning to formulate a plan for improving academic performance.

Students on Academic Warning and Academic Probation are limited to taking only one PGS course at a time.

At the end of the next WPU course, the Records Office will conduct a status review. If the student's cumulative GPA is above 3.0 and the course has been successfully completed with a B- or higher, the student's Academic Warning will be dropped. However, if the cumulative GPA remains below 3.0 or if the student has failed to earn at least a B- in the course, the student will be placed on Academic Probation.

At the end of the next WPU course, the Records Office will conduct a status review. If the student's cumulative GPA is above 3.0 and the course has been successfully completed with a B- or higher, the student's Academic Probation will be dropped. However, if the cumulative GPA remains below 3.0 or if the student has failed to earn at least a B- in the next course, the student will be placed on Academic Dismissal.

Admission on Probation- Graduate

A graduate student may be admitted to Warner Pacific University on Academic Probation and will be on this status for the first three WPU courses. The student must earn at least a B- for each of these first three courses and will be limited to taking only one course at a time while on Academic Probation.

At the end of each of the first three WPU courses, the Records Office will conduct a status review. If the course has been successfully completed with a B- or higher, the student may continue to the next course. However, if the student has failed to earn at least a B- in the course, the student will be placed on Academic Dismissal.

This status review process will be completed for each of the first three courses at WPU. Once the first three courses have been completed with at least a B- in each course, the student's Academic Probation will be dropped.

Academic Dismissal

As described in the preceding sections, Academic Dismissal at the undergraduate level occurs in the following circumstances:

- an undergraduate student on Academic Probation fails to earn at least a C- and a 2.0 minimum GPA in a third consecutive WPU course.
- an undergraduate student admitted on Academic Probation fails to earn at least a C- in any of the first three courses in the program.

As described in the preceding sections, Academic Dismissal at the graduate level occurs in the following circumstances:

- a graduate student on Academic Probation fails to earn at least a B- and a 3.0 minimum GPA in a third consecutive WPU course.
- a graduate student admitted on Academic Probation fails to earn at least a B- in any of the first three courses in the program.

Academically dismissed students will be notified in writing after course grades have been submitted by the instructor. Should the student wish to request reconsideration of the dismissal, a written petition must be submitted to the student's academic advisor within one week of the date on the letter of dismissal. The petition will be reviewed by the PGS Academic Policies Committee, and a written decision will be sent to the student. Petition forms may be obtained from the academic advising department.

Appeals for Readmission

Those academically dismissed students who do not petition for reconsideration, or whose petitions are denied may appeal for readmission after a period of three months from the date of disqualification. At that time, a petition should be submitted to the Professional and Graduate Studies Academic Policies Committee explaining:

- the reasons for the academic deficiencies
- the manner in which the intervening time has been spent
- how the student intends to improve academic performance if readmitted
- why the student should be given favorable consideration for readmission

Readmission candidates must be in good financial standing at Warner Pacific University and must be clear of any Warner Pacific University registration holds. Petition forms may be obtained from the academic advising department.

Returning from Academic Dismissal

Students returning from academic dismissal will be readmitted on probation and must meet all academic standards and adhere to all limitations and requirements for academic probation status as described above.

ADDITIONAL ACADEMIC RESOURCES

Academic Success Resources

Online resources can be found at <https://www.warnerpacific.edu/academics/support-services/academic-success-center/>

Academic Success provides academic support to students from diverse backgrounds who are majoring in a wide array of liberal arts disciplines by helping them engage in their studies through various tutoring and mentoring services, including the following:

- Academic Tutoring – Tutoring at the Academic Success Center provides assistance in the mastery of new material and study techniques for different courses. Tutors are recommended by professors based on their understanding of the subject and hired because they are eager to support the academic needs of their peers. All tutoring sessions are now booked through the Academic Success Center's new online platform, Picktime. Picktime can be easily located and accessed on the Academic Success page of the Warner Pacific University website.
- Writing Resources – Because good writing skills are a key component of success in almost every job, the Academic Success Center staff and tutors provide support in the areas of: paper organization, APA formatting, paper review, and grammar assistance. Please note that our staff will work alongside students with their writing, but students must make their own edits and corrections. Students should provide their work to tutors in order to maximize the time spent in the tutoring session.
- Academic Assistance – Individual meetings are available to help students strategize ways to achieve their academic goals (setting academic goals, establishing good study habits, developing time management strategies, and test taking, note taking, and other academic skills). Academic Success also provides resources to support classroom success in addition to tools for students to immediately use in their daily courses.

Institutional Review Board (IRB)

The Institutional Review Board at Warner Pacific University ensures that all research involving human subjects conforms to standards committed to the ethical treatment and adequate protection of the rights and welfare of all human subjects. Prior to the implementation of any studies involving human subjects, including recruitment and screening activities, research projects must be reviewed and approved by the WPU Institutional Review Board. More information regarding WPU policies can be requested at irb@warnerpacific.edu.

Otto F. Linn Library

The Otto F. Linn Library is the center of research for Warner Pacific University. The Library offers key learning and research resources, providing information literacy instructions and best practices for information harvesting, searching, sharing and copyright oversight.

The Library holds physical collections of over 60,000 items including periodicals, DVDs, and CDs. The Library has licensed many research and course-related databases including EBSCOhost and eBooks. A long index of free, Open Educational Resource (OER) textbooks and related digital materials are also available. As a member of the Orbis Cascade Alliance, a consortium of 39 libraries in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, the Library has access to over 30,000,000 additional items listed in the Alliance's Summit Catalog. Stakeholders can check out items from any participating libraries in person or order them online. Items requested online are delivered via courier to the home library of the requester within a couple of days.

ONLINE CONSORTIUM COURSES

Warner Pacific University participates in Acadeum, a consortium of like-minded accredited colleges and universities that share online course offerings. A student must be admitted and enrolled in a PGS degree program in order to be eligible for Online Consortium course enrollment through PGS. Online Consortium courses are considered to be "in residence" at Warner Pacific University. The course is recorded on the student's Warner Pacific University transcript and the grade is factored into the institutional GPA.

Enrollment

Online Consortium course enrollment must be approved by the student's Academic Advisor and the Records Office. A PGS student must be in good academic standing to enroll in an Online Consortium course and a maximum of one Online Consortium course may be taken while the student is enrolled in another PGS course. If a student has completed the cohort and needs additional coursework for other degree requirements, they may take more than one Online Consortium course during the term, in consultation with an advisor. Students will pay the standard per-credit tuition rate to enroll in an Online Consortium course.

Books

Students are responsible for obtaining their own books and materials for Online Consortium courses. The Online Consortium will provide information directly to the student regarding the required books and materials. Many of the online consortium courses have the materials included in the online course. If a physical book is required, the Library is available to assist students in finding affordable book options.

ACADEMIC CLEMENCY POLICIES

Warner Pacific University recognizes that a student's academic record may not be representative of their current academic ability and level of performance. The academic clemency policies offer options for students to renew their academic record, depending on their particular circumstances.

NOTE: Determining the method of computing the GPA is the prerogative of each institution. Although Warner Pacific University makes provision for academic clemency, students should not assume that schools to which they may transfer will accept the academic clemency in the GPA calculations

Academic Forgiveness

Academic Forgiveness is a special admission option for PGS undergraduate applicants who have a cumulative GPA of 1.75-1.99 and who have not taken any college coursework for a period of at least three years. For these students, the Records Office may disregard up to 24 credits of D and F grades when calculating the admission GPA. The use of Academic Forgiveness is limited to the calculation of the admission GPA; the cumulative GPA on the student's academic record is not changed. Students admitted by use of Academic Forgiveness enter the university on Academic Probation.

Setting Aside Past Record

Warner Pacific University transfer students may petition only one time to have their entire transfer academic record prior to a specified date, including earned credits and GPA, set aside and to start a new baseline. Petitions are submitted in writing to the Registrar and may be submitted either at the time of transfer or after the student has enrolled at Warner Pacific University. The set aside credits may not be applied toward graduation requirements nor will they be applied in calculating academic standing or honors. Thus, a student setting aside 12 credits of "C" and "D" grades, for example, needs to take 12 credits to replace those since the set aside credits may not be counted toward the required 120 credits. Qualification for federal financial aid may be affected.

NOTE: Determining the method of computing the GPA is the prerogative of each institution. Although Warner Pacific makes provision for setting aside past records, students should not assume that schools to which they may transfer will compute their GPA using only the new record. (See also "Repetition of Courses")

Academic Renewal Policy

If a student has previous substandard performance at Warner Pacific University, Academic Renewal offers a one-time opportunity to renew the academic record. When academic renewal is granted, the substandard Warner Pacific University terms are disregarded from the GPA and from all considerations associated with degree requirements. Under academic renewal, the permanent Warner Pacific University transcript is annotated so that it is readily evident to all users of the record that no work taken during the disregarded terms, even if satisfactory, may apply towards degree requirements. All work will remain legible on the record, ensuring a true and complete academic history. Academic renewal does not change academic standing. Once applied, academic renewal is irreversible.

A student may petition for up to two semesters of Warner Pacific University coursework to be disregarded when at least two years have elapsed since the most recent work to be disregarded was completed. Alternately, a student may petition for up to four semesters of previous Warner Pacific University coursework to be disregarded when at least five years have elapsed since the most recent work to be disregarded was completed. To petition for academic renewal, the student needs to demonstrate that the work completed in the selected term(s) is not representative of their current academic ability and level of performance. The GPA for the terms of consideration should be considerably lower than the GPA for the student's most recent terms. Additionally, the student must demonstrate their current academic performance through at least one of the following:

1. At least a 3.0 GPA on the most recent 15 semester units at Warner Pacific University.
2. At least a 3.0 GPA on the most recent 30 semester units of transferrable coursework at another accredited college or university.

The petition should be submitted to the Records Office. The evaluation of criteria and the final decision regarding academic renewal is made by the registrar and the Academic Policies Committee.

ACADEMIC APPEALS AND PETITIONS

Appeals and petitions fall into three general categories: 1) appeals of grades; 2) petitions regarding application of general academic policies; and 3) petitions regarding application of PGS policies. Depending upon the nature of the appeal, it may be reviewed by the university's Academic Policies Committee, the PGS Academic Policies Committee, or the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. In all cases, the appeals process begins with the student contacting his or her academic advisor, who will direct the student to the appropriate procedure. See section on Grade Appeals for additional information on the grade appeals process.

Grade Appeals

Resolution of grade appeals should be handled at the lowest possible level. When disputing a grade, the student must first discuss the situation with the faculty member involved. This discussion must be initiated within 30 days of the posting of the disputed grade. Should discussion with the faculty member not resolve the issue and the student desires to appeal, the following procedure must be followed:

1. The student should consult with his/her academic advisor who can assist with the formal appeal. To proceed with an appeal, the student must submit a written statement describing the situation to the Division Dean in which the course is housed. The statement must include specific information regarding the dispute, a description of the student's attempt to resolve the dispute with the faculty member, and the desired outcome. In the event that the grade dispute is with a Division Dean, the written statement is addressed directly to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs (AVP), as described in Step 3 below. This step must be taken within 30 days of the conversation with the faculty member noted above.

2. The Division Dean will consult with the student and the faculty member in an effort to clarify and resolve the issue to the mutual satisfaction of both. The faculty member may be asked to submit documentation for the assignment of the disputed grade to the Division Dean. If the dispute is not resolved to the mutual satisfaction of the student and the faculty member, the Division Dean will issue a decision within two weeks of the meeting(s). Appeals arising between May 15th and August 15th may take longer to be addressed.
3. The student or the faculty member may appeal the Division Dean's decision to the AVP. A formal written appeal must be given to the AVP within two weeks of the issuance of the Division Dean's decision. The AVP will consult with the Division Dean, who will submit all information collected in the previous steps. The AVP may make a judgment at that point or request additional consultations with the student, faculty member and the Division Dean in order to further clarify and seek a mutually agreeable solution. Within two weeks of receiving the formal appeal, the AVP will communicate a decision to the student, the faculty member and the Division Dean.
4. Either the student or the faculty member may appeal the AVP's decision. Further appeal goes to the Academic Policies Committee of the university. The committee will review all of the material collected in each step, as well as the decisions rendered by the Division Dean and the AVP. The committee will hold a hearing on the appeal in which parties to the dispute will be granted an opportunity to present their cases and answer questions from the committee. After deliberation, the committee will render a decision within two weeks. The decision of the committee is final. No further appeal is available. The committee's decision will be conveyed in writing to the student, the faculty member, the Division Dean, and the AVP. Copies of the decision will also be on file in the Office of Academic Affairs and in the student's official academic record.

Petitions Regarding Application of Academic Policy

Petitions relating to academic concerns must be in writing. All petitions must include the signature of the student's advisor. This signature does not necessarily mean that the advisor agrees with or supports the petition, but that the advisor is aware of the petitioner's request. Petitions are submitted to the student's advisor, who will process the petition and forward it to the appropriate office for review. Typical petitions deal with retroactive withdrawals, attendance issues, concurrent enrollment, waiver of requirements, etc.

GRADUATION PROCEDURES

Application for Graduation

When students are approximately one semester from graduation they begin the application for graduation process with the assistance of the faculty advisor. The student will receive an email from the Registrar with a link to complete the Application for Graduation. The Registrar and Academic Advisor will review the Application for Graduation to ensure that all requirements for graduation will be met and to notify students in writing of deficiencies. Students may track their progress toward degree completion through My Progress on MyWP, and should discuss any questions or discrepancies with the Academic Advisor.

The student will graduate under the requirements listed in the catalog in effect at the time of first enrollment at Warner Pacific University. Students who do not maintain continuous enrollment will graduate under the requirements listed in the catalog in effect at the time of re-entry. Students must complete their degree requirements within five years of exiting the university. If the requirements are not completed within that period of time, the student must re-apply for admission, and complete the catalog requirements in effect at the time of readmission.

Students may elect to graduate under a more recent catalog than the one in effect at the time of their entry but they must declare the new catalog in writing to the academic advisor. The student is subject to all requirements of the catalog listed (major/minor as well as General Education Core).

Two commencement ceremonies are held each year: Spring (May) and Mid-Winter (December). In order to be eligible to participate in a commencement ceremony, graduates must have completed or be enrolled in all remaining academic coursework in the semester during which the ceremony takes place. Any alternate credit options (credit by examination testing, certificates) must be completed at least 30 days prior to the intended commencement ceremony date.

Students wishing to participate in a ceremony prior to completing degree requirements may petition the Academic Policies Committee in writing at least one month prior to that ceremony. In the petition, the student must demonstrate the extenuating circumstances (upcoming military deployment, significant personal health event, etc) that necessitates the request. Additionally, the student must present a specific plan and timeline to complete all remaining degree requirements within three months of the ceremony. The committee will review the petition but approval is not guaranteed.

All graduation requirements must be completed before the degree will be posted, and financial obligations to the university must be met before the diploma will be awarded to the student.

Commencement Ceremonies

Because graduation is the culmination of one's academic career and provides an opportunity for the recognition of academic achievement, all graduating students are encouraged to plan their schedules in order to participate in commencement ceremonies. Diplomas are not provided prior to the commencement ceremonies.

TRANSFERRING TO OTHER INSTITUTIONS

Warner Pacific transcripts may be requested by supplying specific personally-identifying information and a signed release to the Records Office.

The transferability of credits earned at Warner Pacific University is at the discretion of the receiving college, university, or other educational institution. Students considering transferring to any institution should not assume that credits earned in any program of study at Warner Pacific University will be accepted by the receiving institution. Similarly, the ability of a degree, certificate, diploma, or other academic credential earned at Warner Pacific University to satisfy an admission requirement of another institution is at the discretion of the receiving institution. Accreditation does not guarantee credentials or credits earned at Warner Pacific University will be accepted by or transferred to another institution. To minimize the risk of having to repeat coursework, students should contact the receiving institution in advance for evaluation and determination of transferability of credits and/or acceptability of degrees, diplomas, or certificates earned. .

At Warner Pacific University, students' progress toward meeting their academic goals has the highest priority. The policies, procedures, and standards described in this catalog provide the guidelines for achieving those goals. The university makes every effort to assist students in planning course schedules in order to meet academic and graduation requirements. However, the final responsibility for meeting the requirements rests with the individual student.

Students can track progress toward their degree requirements by accessing Program Evaluation through MyWP (<http://warnerpacific.edu>).

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT

Satisfactory completion of the Professional and Graduate Studies coursework will meet Warner Pacific residency requirements. Residency requirements vary, depending upon program length. The residency requirement for an associate degree is 30 credits. For baccalaureate and master degree programs, 75% of the major/cohort course work must be completed in residence.

Students may transfer in identical courses within the program, but will be required to work with their academic advisors to identify and complete additional courses at Warner Pacific to meet the residency requirements of their intended degree program.

CATALOG YEAR

Students will graduate under the requirements listed in the Catalog in effect at the time of program matriculation. Students, who move from one-degree program to another, will be subject to the requirements in the Catalog in effect at the time the new program begins. Similarly, students who have an enrollment break of at least two consecutive terms but subsequently return to the program and complete study, will graduate under the Catalog in effect at the time of re-entry.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE ASSOCIATE DEGREE

A student seeking to earn an associate degree from the Professional and Graduate Studies must complete the required cohort study as prescribed in the program. Identical courses completed within the past five years will count toward the cohort program; the student still needs to fulfill the residency requirements of their individual program. The individual student's schedule and financial aid packaging must be factored into the approval process for substituted coursework.

Students completing an associate degree must have met the following requirements.

- Minimum of 60 semester credits; 30 credits must be completed in residence, including REL/PHIL 291A.
- Completion of core requirements and major requirement as listed in this catalog.
- Cumulative grade point average (GPA) at graduation of at least 2.0.
- A grade of "C-" is required for all courses counting towards the general education core

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACCALAUREATE DEGREE

A student seeking to earn a bachelor degree from the Professional and Graduate Studies must complete the required cohort study as prescribed in the program. Identical courses completed within the past five years will count toward the cohort program; the student still needs to fulfill the residency requirements of their individual program. The individual student's schedule and financial aid packaging must be factored into the approval process for substituted coursework. The first course in the sequence, HUM 310A and REL 320A must be taken in residence at Warner Pacific.

Students completing the baccalaureate degree must have met the following requirements.

- Minimum of 120 semester credits
- Minimum of 40 semester credits of upper division (300-400) level study (satisfied through PGS cohort coursework)
- Completion of core requirements, major requirements, and residency requirements as listed in this catalog.
- Cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 2.0
- A grade of "C-" or higher in all required courses in the major and general education core
- If a minor is declared, a grade of "C-" or higher in all courses required for the declared minor.

Minors

Minors offer students an opportunity to focus their electives on an academic area of study, but without the depth and breadth of a major. Current Warner Pacific students may choose to declare a minor as part of their baccalaureate degree programs, although it is not required for graduation. All requirements for the minor must be completed in residence and a grade of "C-" or higher must be achieved in all courses required for the minor.

Requirements for the Second Baccalaureate Degree

Students holding a bachelor degree from a regionally accredited college or university may earn a second degree at Warner Pacific upon completing an additional minimum of 30 semester credits, subject to these conditions:

- All credit must be earned subsequent to the granting of the first degree.
- For the former Warner Pacific University student who has completed at least 30 semester credits in residence, at least 20 of the 30 credits must be earned at Warner Pacific University. For the new student, all 30 semester credits must be in residence.
- At least 15 of the 30 semester credits must be upper division courses.
- Satisfy all specific requirements for the second major.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE GRADUATE DEGREE

A student seeking to earn a graduate degree from Professional and Graduate Studies must complete the required cohort study as prescribed in the program. Identical courses completed within the correct time frame may count toward the cohort program; but the student still needs to fulfill the residency requirements of their individual program. The individual student's schedule and financial aid packaging must be factored into the approval process for substituted coursework.

Master of Arts in Human Services

Students must meet the following requirements to earn a Master of Arts in Human Services through the Professional and Graduate Studies:

- Complete a minimum of 39 credits, 30 credits in residence. For students admitted into the Advanced Placement program, up to 6 credits may be satisfied through proficiency essay assessment
- Complete the approved Master of Arts in Human Services program coursework
- Achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 with no individual course grade lower than "C-"
- Successfully complete the field practicum or master thesis

Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership

Students must meet the following requirements to earn a Master of Arts degree in Organizational Leadership through the Professional and Graduate Studies:

- Complete the approved Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership program course work (36 credits, 27 credits in residence)
- Achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 with no individual course grade lower than "C-"

Master of Arts in Teaching

Students must meet the following requirements to earn a Master of Arts in Teaching degree through the Professional and Graduate Studies:

- Complete a minimum of 35 credits, 27 credits in residence
- Complete the approved Master of Arts in Teaching program coursework
- Achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 with no individual course grade lower than "C-"
- Successfully complete a minimum of 15 weeks of student teaching and submit an edTPA to Pearson for evaluation

Master of Business Administration

Students must meet the following requirements to earn a Master of Business Administration through the Professional and Graduate Studies:

- Complete the approved Master of Business Administration program course work: 42 credits, 32 credits in residence. For students admitted into the Advanced Placement program, up to 15 credits may be satisfied through proficiency essay assessment
- Achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 with no individual course grade lower than a "C-"

Master of Education

Students must meet the following requirements to earn a Master of Education through the Professional and Graduate Studies:

- Complete a minimum of 31 credits, 24 credits in residence
- Achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 with no individual course grade lower than "C-"
- Successful presentation of Capstone project
- Submit a copy of the Capstone Presentation to the Director of the MED Program

GENERAL EDUCATION CORE

According to its Mission Statement, Warner Pacific University is a Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts university dedicated to providing students from diverse backgrounds an education that prepares them to engage actively in a constantly changing world. The General Education Core Curriculum at Warner Pacific University supports this Mission Statement by providing students with a broad-based education in an urban Christian context. Below are definitions of the challenges students face and the objectives that students will be able to achieve upon completing the General Education Core Curriculum at Warner Pacific University.

CORE THEMES

In order to gain a foundation that will encourage them to address General Education Core expectations, students at Warner Pacific University will take required courses which will give them the opportunity to demonstrate the following Core Theme areas.

Christ-Centered: This Core Theme demonstrates an intentional movement from a religion-driven approach to the more active commitment to “be Christ” to those around us. Christ demonstrates what it means to love one another (Luke 10:25-37), how to truly serve others (Matthew 25:35-45), and the importance of reaching out with His message of truth (Matthew 28:19-20). It is this model that Warner Pacific strives to emulate.

Diverse: Rather than focusing on just one marker, diversity at Warner Pacific encompasses several areas, including Multicultural Programs, Social Justice and Activism, Community Collaborations, Multicultural Education, and creating an Equitable Campus Culture.

Urban: The geographic location of Warner Pacific University provides a unique opportunity to embrace, engage, and study the urban environment of a major metropolitan area in the Pacific Northwest. This opportunity has informed Warner Pacific’s intention to be “in the city, for the city” by preparing students to be leaders in business, education, social services, politics, religion, the arts, science, and all manner of related vocations. This core theme calls the Warner Pacific community to apply talents, not for personal gratification, but for the improvement of life in the city.

Liberal Arts: Warner Pacific identifies closely with a study conducted by the American Association of Colleges and Universities (“College Learning for the New Global Century,” AACU, 2007), which described the critical role of American colleges in meeting the world’s “very high expectations for knowledge and skill.” These areas of skill and knowledge include technology, economic development, environmental concerns, urban growth, scientific and medical innovation, global interdependence, cross-cultural encounters, “waves of dislocating change,” and the expected volatility in the public and private lives of citizens. Warner Pacific graduates gain those skills, knowledge, positive behaviors, and attitudes needed to equip them for success in future education, life-long learning, employment, citizenship, community involvement, and family life.

STUDENT OUTCOMES

Cultivating a Christ-Centered Learning Community

- C1. Articulate their own spiritual journey as related to an understanding of God and a connection with others.
- C2. Explain foundational beliefs and practices of Christian faith.
- C3. Articulate and apply the holistic benefits of a healthy lifestyle.
- C4. Demonstrate an ethical and respectful worldview that promotes stewardship and care for others.

Investing in the Formation and Success of Students from Diverse Backgrounds

- D1. Articulate the value of diverse voices and perspectives.
- D2. Explain the impact of global interdependency on social and cultural systems.

Collaborating With and For Our Urban Environment

- U1. Articulate how human behavior interacts with social organizations and cultural patterns.
- U2. Identify the opportunities and challenges of urban life.

Fostering a Liberal Arts Education

- L1. Produce written communication relevant to specific audiences.
- L2. Access, analyze, and synthesize academic information relevant to a particular field of study.
- L3. Articulate connections among multiple academic disciplines.
- L4. Use current technology relevant to a particular field of study.
- L5. Utilize scientific knowledge to understand and explain the natural world.
- L6. Demonstrate quantitative and analytic reasoning.
- L7. Articulate the historical and/or cultural context of a particular art form.
- L8. Express oneself through one or more artistic medium.
- L9. Explain the value of historical context.
- L10. Model civil discourse through purposeful dialogue and/or presentations.
- L11. Apply problem-solving techniques.
- L12. Utilize critical thinking to assess information.
- L13. Demonstrate strategies required to create and execute a plan.

The General Education Core Outcomes are designed to be demonstrated by students completing their entire program at Warner Pacific University; students that transfer a significant amount of coursework from other accredited institutions may not demonstrate these competencies to the same degree.

GENERAL EDUCATION CORE REQUIREMENTS FOR BACCALAUREATE DEGREE

The General Education Core consists of four themes and 13 clusters as outlined below; students must complete a minimum of one course/2 credits per cluster (except for the Written Communication cluster, which requires 2 courses). Transfer courses and DSST/CLEP Examinations that are determined to be comparable and parallel to Warner Pacific courses will be applied toward General Education Core requirements.

All courses used to satisfy general education core must be completed with a “C-” or higher.

Total Credits for Core

Courses in the major or minor may be used to meet cluster requirements. However, each student must complete a total of 30 credits of General Education Core applicable coursework that is separate from coursework for the major or minor. Students who have completed all 13 clusters but lack the 30 overall credits of non-duplicated General Education Core coursework may select additional Core course options from any of the 13 clusters. To encourage students to experience a range of courses, there is a maximum number of participatory classes that will count for Core Credits (Physical Education: 2 credits; Participatory Art and Music: 3 credits).

GENERAL EDUCATION CORE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE ASSOCIATE DEGREE

The Associate General Education Core consists of four themes and 10 clusters; students must complete a minimum of one course/2 credits per cluster (except for the Written Communication cluster, which requires 2 courses). Transfer courses that are determined to be comparable and parallel to Warner Pacific courses will be applied toward General Education Core requirements.

All courses used to satisfy general education core must be completed with a “C-” or higher.

Total Credits for Core

Courses in the major or minor may be used to meet cluster requirements. However, each student must complete a total of 21 credits of General Education Core applicable coursework that is separate from coursework for the associate degree major. Students who have completed all 10 clusters but lack the 21 overall credits of non-duplicated General Education Core coursework may select additional Core course options from any of the clusters. To encourage students to experience a range of courses, there is a maximum number of participatory classes that will count for Core Credits (Physical Education: 2 credits; Participatory Art and Music: 3 credits).

A student seeking to earn the Master of Arts in Human Services must complete the required cohort study as prescribed in the program. In cases where identical courses were completed in the past five years, the substitution of up to two courses may be requested. The request to substitute/transfer coursework must be made in writing prior to beginning the program. The individual student's schedule and financial aid packaging must be factored into the approval process for substituted coursework. Students must complete the capstone course (either HS 605A and HS 606A) in residence at Warner Pacific.

Extension Process for Master Thesis and/or Practicum

Students who need more time to complete their final project (HS 606A) or their practicum (HS 605A) may request one additional eight week extension from the appropriate instructor. The ex-tension request must be approved before the course ends. Appropriate fees apply.

Advanced Placement

Students who earn a BS in Human Development degree at the undergraduate level at Warner Pacific University are eligible for Advanced Placement. Students must apply and be accepted into the MAHS program within 1 year of graduating. Students will be required to maintain an overall 3.00 GPA and submit a proficiency essay as part of their graduate school application, demonstrating their knowledge in the two core areas eligible for advanced placement: Lifespan Human Development (HS 509A) and Sexuality for Human Services (HS 603A). Up to 6 credits of advanced placement can be earned based on the proficiency essay assessment.

Statute of Limitation for Degree Completion

All academic work for the Master of Arts degree must be completed within five years from the student's program start date. If the student is unable to finish the degree program in the time allotted, the student must reapply for admission, at which time all previously earned credits will be re-evaluated for current relevance. The student will also be subject to any degree requirement changes that apply to the catalog in effect at the time of re-admittance.

Upon successful completion of the Master of Arts in Human Services graduates will be able to:

1. Exhibit knowledge of the historical, philosophical, and theoretical underpinnings of the human services professions.

Masters: Master of Arts in Teaching, Master of Education

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Teacher Education at Warner Pacific University provides a Christian liberal arts education along with preparation in a teaching specialty. Faculty members will assist and guide the student to attain each individual's educational career goals. The Teacher Education Program is approved by the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission. Warner Pacific graduates have established an excellent reputation in the education community and are employed both nationally and internationally. The Teacher Education Handbook guides students who are preparing for a career in education. This handbook is posted on the Education News & Resources page in MyWP classes.

Students are responsible for all fees associated with licensure including ORELA, edTPA, licensure fees, fingerprinting, and licensure assessments as determined by TSPC. Additional information regarding the most up-to-date estimate of fees related to assessment and licensure can be found at <http://www.oregon.gov/tspc/Pages/Testing.aspx> and <http://www.oregon.gov/tspc/Pages/Fees.aspx>.

TESTING REQUIRED FOR PROGRAM COMPLETION

In Oregon, a system of multiple measures is used to determine the status of "program completer." One component of this system requires the candidate to pass a battery of subject matter exams, and the Civil Rights and Equity in the Educational Environment Examination. In the undergraduate program, the subject matter exams and the Civil Rights Exam must be passed prior to Student Teaching I.

COMPLIANCE INFORMATION

Test Pass Rates

Because the passage of subject matter tests is required for program completion in Oregon, the state pass rate is 100%. Individuals who do not pass the required tests are not considered to be program completers and are not eligible for Preliminary Teaching Licenses. Warner Pacific University is not classified as a low-performing institution.

edTPA

For Oregon licensure, Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) requires that candidates' evidence is nationally evaluated and scored within five dimensions of teaching: planning instruction, and assessment; instructing and engaging student in learning; assessing student learning; analysis of teaching effectiveness; and academic language development. To meet TSPC licensure requirements, successful completion of edTPA and student teaching is required of all teacher candidates in the State of Oregon. Additional information regarding TSPC licensure requirements can be located at www.oregon.gov/tspc/pages/index.asp

Program Information

During the 2016-2017 academic year, 74 students were enrolled in the Teacher Education program. A minimum of 600 hours (40 hours per week for 15 weeks) was required to complete supervised practice teaching; the student to faculty ratio in supervised practice teaching was 3:1.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EARLY CHILDHOOD/ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

The Education Program at Warner Pacific University is Christ-centered and dedicated to serving and learning in the urban context by preparing highly effective, culturally competent, professional educators from diverse backgrounds who think critically, act with integrity, work collaboratively, and serve with passion and purpose.

A Bachelor of Science in Early Childhood/Elementary Education prepares candidates to obtain an Oregon Preliminary Teaching License in Elementary – Multiple Subjects, which is issued by the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) upon successful completion of all program requirements.

<input type="checkbox"/> ED 577A	Educational Trends in Middle and High School	2 credits / 5 weeks

A student seeking to earn the Master of Arts in Teaching must complete the required cohort study as prescribed in the program. In cases where identical courses were completed in the past five years, the substitution of up to two courses may be requested. The request to substitute/transfer coursework must be made in writing prior to beginning the program. The individual student's schedule and financial aid packaging must be factored into the approval process for substituted coursework. Students must complete ED 551A, ED 515A, ED 690A, ED 691A, and ED 692A in residence at Warner Pacific.

Student Teaching

Students must have completed all other MAT coursework with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 before student teaching. Assignments and supervision will be coordinated by the Warner Pacific Education Department. The Placement Coordinator will attempt to accommodate student needs and preferences, but the availability of placements in any given school or semester cannot be guaranteed.

Teacher Licensure

At the time of licensure, MAT students must meet all requirements and regulations of the Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) in order to be licensed to teach in Oregon.

Students are responsible for fees associated with licensure including ORELA, edTPA, licensure fees, fingerprinting, and licensure assessments as determined by TSPC. Additional information regarding the most up-to-date estimate of fees related to assessment and licensure can be found at <http://www.oregon.gov/tspc/Pages/Testing.aspx> and <http://www.oregon.gov/tspc/Pages/Fees.aspx>.

Statute of Limitation for Degree Completion

All academic work for the MAT degree must be completed within 30 months from the student's program start date. If the student is unable to finish the degree program in the time allotted, the student must reapply for admission, at which time all previously earned credits will be re-evaluated for current relevance. The student will also be subject to any degree requirement changes that apply to the catalog in effect at the time of re-admittance. Additional coursework may be required when the student is re-admitted to assure that the student's program meets current TSPC requirements.

Upon successful completion of the Master of Arts in Teaching, graduates will demonstrate:

1. Candidates are effective practitioners, exhibiting the knowledge, skills, ability, and professional dispositions required for the Oregon Preliminary Teaching License, as provided in Oregon Administrative Rule 584-200-0005, and the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) standards.
2. Candidates model the values, ethics and character of a Christian educator in a diverse and changing world.
3. Candidates meet the high standards of the Warner Pacific University teacher preparation program in coursework, clinical experiences, and work products, leading to the cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical achievement of the students they will teach.

MASTER OF EDUCATION

The Master of Education (ME) is designed for licensed teachers who are seeking training for professional growth and/or credits for continued renewal of their licenses. Program topics and activities are planned to guide students from where they are currently toward where they want to be professionally. The coursework is a mixture of teaching pedagogy, research, reflection about classroom practice, and current topics in education.

Cohort Study Curriculum

Students complete a 15-credit core of coursework that addresses current issues in the P-12 classroom, and then elects one of three emphases that result in a new endorsement to complement their current license:

- M.Ed. with ESOL Endorsement Emphasis: 30 semester credits
- M.Ed. with Reading Interventionist Endorsement Emphasis: 31 semester credits
- M.Ed. with SPED Endorsement Emphasis: 37 semester credits

Program Core

<input type="checkbox"/> ED 510A	Teaching to Diversity in Today's Classrooms	3 credits	6 weeks
<input type="checkbox"/> ED 540A	Utilizing Instructional Media	3 credits	6 weeks
<input type="checkbox"/> ED 560A	Research for Teachers	2 credits	6 weeks

A student seeking to earn the Master of Education must complete the required cohort study as prescribed in the program. In cases where identical coursework was completed in the past five years, a substitution of up to two courses may be requested. The request to substitute/transfer coursework must be made in writing prior to beginning the program. The individual student's schedule and financial aid packaging must be factored into the approval process for substituted coursework. Students must complete ED 595A in residence at Warner Pacific.

Extension Process for Master Thesis

Students who need more time to complete their final project may request one additional six-week extension from their ED 595A instructor. The extension request must be approved before ED 595A ends. Appropriate fees apply.

Statute of Limitation for Degree Completion

All academic work for the MED degree must be completed within six years from the student's program start date. If the student is unable to finish the degree program in the time allotted, the student must reapply for admission, at which time all previously earned credits will be re-evaluated for current relevance. The student will also be subject to any degree requirement changes that apply to the catalog in effect at the time of re-admittance.

Warner Pacific University's Nursing Programs exist to educate and prepare students with diverse backgrounds to flourish as professional nurses advocating for recipients of care. As offerings of a Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts university, the Nursing Programs engage diverse students in an innovative, formational learning community. Faculty and students co-develop and nurture self-aware and culturally intelligent nurses. Students demonstrate professional skill, ethical practice, compassionate care, a collaborative spirit, and a commitment to lifelong learning and nursing excellence.

Postlicensure BSN Degree Program: The RN to BSN program provides upper division coursework leading to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree to students who already hold RN licensure and an Associate degree from an accredited institution. The program will prepare nurses for positions of leadership, and will provide education and training in person-centered care beyond a patient's immediate physical needs. Care management, transitions of care, organizational leadership and communication, culturally competent care, and nursing at the levels of family, community and population are considered through a lens of Christ-centered social justice.

Dean of Nursing: Dr. Linda Campbell

Physical Location: Warner Pacific University (WPU) Centre 205 East Campus, one mile east of Mt. Tabor Campus near Division & I-205: 2600 SE 98th Ave., Suite 200, Portland, OR 97266. Clinical experiences are at a variety of facilities across the Portland metro area and some rural sites within driving distance.

BIO 490	Senior Seminar in Biology	1 credit
Course encompasses a survey of research, literature, bioethical considerations and career opportunities in biological areas. Students will complete professional development activities such as writing a resume, preparing a research poster and presentation. Prerequisites: EN 111+112, senior standing.
BIO 491, BIO 492	Senior Thesis	2, 2 credits

BUSINESS

BUS 100A	Team Dynamics	3 credits
Also listed as SOC 100A. This course examines the principles and practices of effective team dynamics, as well as the individual qualities that contribute to optimal teamwork. Through team experiences, both inside and outside of class, students have multiple opportunities to apply course concepts. Students are encouraged to find application opportunities outside of assignments and integrate concepts in all applicable areas of life. Students are encouraged to focus on and utilize individual team member strengths to enhance team dynamics. Topics include communication, ethics, diversity, decision-making, conflict styles, conflict resolution, leadership, critical thinking, and personalities. Emphasis is placed on creating optimal team experiences—inside and outside of the classroom—regardless of one's role within the team.
BUS 107A	Business Mathematics	3 credits
A survey course which introduces the basic mathematical skills needed to understand, analyze, and solve mathematical problems encountered in business and finance, and in investment decision making. There are no prerequisites for this course; however, students are expected to be able to perform the basic arithmetic operations—addition, subtraction, multiplication and division—with ease, and to have some familiarity with fractions, with algebraic operations, and with some basic mathematical principles.
BUS 112A	Principles of Budgeting and Accounting	3 credits
The course focus is on the basic principles of the accounting cycle for service and merchandising companies/organizations including budgeting vocabulary, finance, record keeping, cash management, cash budgeting, capital budgeting and financial statements.

- BUS 120 Introduction to Business and Personal Finance 3 credits
This is an introductory course, which offers students the opportunity to explore the world of business. The course is divided into content areas, which introduce basic concepts in marketing, economics, personal money management, business law, accounting, international business, management, and entrepreneurship. The course also includes basic information on personal finance as well as applied budgeting. Students build a basic personal budget as part of this class.
- BUS 120A Introduction to Business & Personal Finance 3 credits
A survey course which introduces concepts of productivity, the business cycle, market functioning, and achieving maximum well-being from the marginal social benefits and cost perspectives. An overview of the business world as it permeates all aspects of our lives is part of the course. The Christian perspective and responsibility toward others in the business world is discussed throughout the course.
- BUS 150A Management Fundamentals 3 credits
Also listed as PS 150A. This is an introductory course that covers the fundamental concepts of management. By investigating these essential principles, the student will begin to build a solid foundation for understanding management theory. Major topics will include the evolution and scope of business management, planning, decision-making, organizing, leading, and controlling.
- BUS 195 Internship Preparation 2 credits
This course will provide support for students as they prepare for entering an internship in any major. Students will investigate potential internship prospects and professional associations within their field, create job descriptions and electronic portfolios, update resumes, practice interviewing skills, practice presentation skills, practice networking, and practice working in a “cube” environment, by completing activities in the workplace lab. By the completion of the course, students will have determined an internship placement as well as developed an understanding of skills needed for a successful internship experience.
- BUS 206A Accounting Mechanics 1 credit
A review of the basic concepts of beginning accounting principles. It reviews the accounting cycle from analyzing and recording transactions to the preparation of financial statements.
- BUS 210A Accounting Fundamentals 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the basic concepts and standards underlying financial accounting systems. Several important concepts will be studied in detail, including: revenue recognition, inventory, long-lived assets, present value, and long term liabilities. The course emphasizes the construction of the basic financial accounting statements - the income statement, balance sheet, and cash flow statement - as well as their interpretation.
- BUS 211 Financial Accounting 3 credits
This course gives an overview of financial accounting. Various topics, such as recording business transactions, completing the accounting cycle, accounting information systems, and partnerships will be discussed during this course. In addition, the ability to interpret and communicate financial statement information, as related to a business entity, is another important aspect that will be covered. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) will be applied to various events to help the student understand accounting systems and their subsequent results presented through the use of formal financial statements presented fairly and accurately. Prerequisite: MA 95 or placement in MA 111.
- BUS 211A Financial Accounting 3 credits
This course revisits topics covered in Introductory Financial Accounting (Accounting 210), with a focus on the asset side of the balance sheet: Cash, accounts and notes receivable, inventory, marketable securities, equity investments, PPE, and intangibles. The course also covers revenue and expense recognition issues, and generally accepted accounting principles that affect the format and presentation of the financial statements. Concepts covered also includes liabilities and equities, especially long-term debt, convertible securities, equity issuance, dividends, share repurchases, employee stock options, pensions, leases, deferred tax, and derivative securities. Related topics covered include computation of diluted earnings per share, disclosure issues, earnings management, and basic financial statement analysis of cash flows. Prerequisite: BUS 210A.
- BUS 212 Managerial Accounting 3 credits
This course provides a review of managerial accounting and continues financial accounting topics reviewed in BUS 211. Topics discussed will be: an introduction to management accounting, job order and process costing, activity based costing, cost-volume-profit analysis, short-term business decisions, capital investment decisions and the time value of money. Management tools such as the master budget, cost allocation and responsibility accounting, flexible budgets, standard costing, performance evaluation and the balanced scorecard are also studied. Prerequisite: BUS 211.
- BUS 212A Managerial Accounting 3 credits
The first part of the course presents alternative methods of preparing managerial accounting information, and the remainder of the course examines how these methods are used by companies. Managerial accounting is a company's internal language, and is used for decision-making, production management, product design and pricing and for motivating and evaluating employees. Unless you understand managerial accounting, you cannot have a thorough understanding of a company's internal operations. What you learn in this course will help you understand the operations of your future employer (and enable you to be more successful at your job), and help you understand other companies you encounter in your role as competitor, consultant, or investor. Prerequisites: BUS 211A; BUS 107A or MA 111 (transfer) or equivalent; BUS 223A or equivalent.
- BUS 220A Human Resource Development 3 credits
Also listed as SS 220A. This course provides perspectives on important traditional, current, and emerging practices to help the student develop a practical, realistic, and modern view of human resource development and management. Students study the functions of the line executive or supervisor as well as human resource director functions in today's business or human services environment.

- BUS 223, BUS 223A Introduction to Microsoft Office 3 credits
This course focuses on Microsoft Office Suite capabilities and concepts with a special emphasis on Excel. The course will use the version of Office currently most prevalent in business environments including Word, PowerPoint, Excel and Access. Topics will include design, construction and documentation of research papers, presentations, and spreadsheets including citations, tables, charts, and external data references. Basic database topics will include fields, records and tables, queries, reporting, and accessing large data sources.
- BUS 224A Computer Accounting Applications 3 credits
This course introduces processing accounting transactions using Intuit QuickBooks. QuickBooks is one of the most popular accounting packages used today by smaller businesses. Although the focus of this course is learning to apply QuickBooks, students are expected to apply the principles of accounting learned in BUS 210A and BUS 211A. Throughout this course basic accounting terms, concepts, and principles will be reviewed. Prerequisite: BUS 212A; BUS 223A or equivalent.
- BUS 225A Payroll Accounting 3 credits
This course covers federal and state laws pertaining to wages, payroll taxes, payroll tax forms and journal and general ledger transactions. Topics include the structure, bonding and reactivity of organic compounds with special emphasis given to the mechanisms of organic chemistry. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, 212. Lab fee required.
- CHEM 302 Organic Chemistry II 4 credits
Topics include organic spectroscopic techniques as well as the structure, bonding and reactivity of alcohols, amines, and carbonyl compounds. The laboratory includes the synthesis, purification and identification of such compounds. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisite: CHEM 301. Lab fee required.
- CHEM 310 Elements of Physical Chemistry 3 credits
Examines the three traditional areas of physical chemistry. First, modern thermodynamics is developed from "first principles." Second, transport processes and kinetics are examined. Third, quantum chemistry is developed and applied to simple chemical systems. Finally, these ideas are tied together with a discussion of statistical thermochemistry. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, 212. (As Needed)
- CHEM 321 Analytical Chemistry 4 credits
Current analytical techniques are examined. Lectures are strongly tied to laboratory techniques involving quantitative chemical analysis. Traditional "wet" chemical techniques as well as the theory and practice of modern instrumental methods are examined. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, 212. Lab fee required. (As Needed)
- CHEM 412 Biochemistry I 4 credits
This course examines the structure and function of proteins, carbohydrates and lipids. Enzyme kinetics and structure are studied and metabolic pathways are examined. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 212, CHEM 301, 302. Lab fee required. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- CHEM 413 Biochemistry II 4 credits
CHEM 413 examines the structure and function of proteins, carbohydrates and lipids. Enzyme kinetics and structure are studied and metabolic pathways are examined. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: CHEM 301, 302, 412. Lab fee required. (As Needed)
- CHEM 491, 492 Senior Thesis I, II 2,2 credits

CHRISTIAN MINISTRIES

- CM 140 Ministry Practice: Exploring Vocation and Call 3 credits
This course offers students the opportunity to explore their emerging sense of calling or vocation- their meaning and purpose in the world. As such, this course will focus on the student's story, character, and spiritual path as well as introduce stories of how others have explored and lived into their callings or vocational paths. In community, students will identify their gifts, passions, and emerging directions of calling and consider how they connect with the needs and opportunities in the world today.
- CM 260 Ministry Field Ed.: Ministry of Care 3 credits
In this course, students will learn basic skills for listening deeply to others with particular attention to those whose lives are impacted by trauma and/or significant transition. The course will introduce frameworks, skills, and tools for understanding trauma, engaging secondary trauma, and administering self-care in the life of ministry. Students should not expect to become proficient with providing trauma informed care as a result of this course. (Alternate years 2022-2023)

- CM 311 Ministry Field Ed.: Community Development & Organizing 3 credits
In this course, students will learn and practice basic frameworks, skills, and tools for practicing Asset Based Community Development (ABCD) and community organizing in their neighborhoods. This includes assessing community resources and experiences, organizing community members around topics that deeply impact them, creative problem-solving, and moving toward collective action. Throughout the course, students will also reflect on the role of faith communities in the health of neighborhoods. This course is one of a series that include practical field education/internship experiences. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- CM 312 Design Thinking and Entrepreneurship 3 credits
Also listed as COMM 312. In this course, students will learn basic frameworks, skills, and tools of design thinking and entrepreneurship. This includes working collaboratively, empathetic listening, defining questions and problems, ideating for solutions, creating prototypes, testing with community groups, communicating via pitches and other forms, and the processes of observation and reflection. Throughout the course, students will also reflect on the role of faith communities in the collaborative creation of sustainable and equitable change. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- CM 345 Methods and Practice of Public Communication for Ministry 3 credits
This is a laboratory style course providing methods, introductory techniques, and opportunities to practice public speaking/presenting in and for ministry contexts. A variety of public communication methods will be engaged looking towards a variety of current public ministry settings. Special attention will be given to connecting biblical narratives with the students' stories and the stories of others. Students will have opportunities to practice these communication techniques regularly throughout the course with peer and instructor feedback. Prerequisite: Sophomore class standing. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- CM 370 Ministry Preparation Internship 3 credits
This is an internship class designed to help students preparing for Christian ministry to practice, describe, and assess their callings in and to the world. Each student will participate in a twelve week internship experience connected with their vocational interests and the goals and student learning outcomes of the Religion and Christian Ministries Department. This course will engage each student's particular vocational questions and calling as well as the broader and shared call to spiritual engagement, leadership, and love through ministry in the world today. Prerequisites: CM 140, CM 211, CM 212 or instructor consent.
- CM 400 Ministry Integrative Capstone 3 credits
This is a capstone class for Christian Ministries majors. It consists of collaborative presentations and public speaking opportunities that will articulate the student's integrative educational journey and an emerging value of a contextual approach to ministry. This course is designed for reflection on each student's particular vocational call as well as how that connects to the broader vision and work of participating in the love of God, self, neighbor, enemy, stranger, and the world today. Prerequisites: CM 140, CM 211, CM 212, CM 370 or instructor consent.
- CM 545 Methods and Practice of Public Communication for Ministry 3 credits
This is a laboratory style course providing methods, introductory techniques, and opportunities to practice public speaking/presenting in and for ministry contexts. A variety of public communication methods will be engaged looking towards a variety of current public ministry settings. Special attention will be given to connecting biblical narratives with the students' stories and the stories of others. Students will have opportunities to practice these communication techniques regularly throughout the course with peer and instructor feedback. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- CM 570 Graduate Integrative Experience in Christian Ministries 1-3 credits
An integrative internship experience in a local church or church agency, in which the student will be expected to express the Biblical, theological, and pastoral insights gained at Warner Pacific in relevant and practical ways. With departmental supervision, the intern will write their emerging approach to Christian ministry. (As Needed)
- CM 571 Master Thesis or Project 3 credits
The Master of Religion student may elect one of the following options: 1) a formal researched thesis; or 2) a religious or ministry project that offers the student a significant educational experience. The course will be individually tailored for the student in consultation with the Director of the M.Rel. program and the student's thesis advisor. Any project must be reasonably equivalent in workload to the formal research thesis. If the student is unable to complete the course within one semester, an "In Progress" contract will be developed and the student must register for CM 572 the following semester. The thesis or project will be graded on a Pass/No Pass basis. (As Needed)
- CM 572 Master Thesis Extension 1 credit
This course is designed to offer the Master of Religion student an extension to complete the thesis project initiated in CM 571, with only minimal faculty guidance. Students who have received an "In Progress" in CM 571 must register for this course to remain in the M.Rel. program. Students must continue the extension sequence until successful completion of the thesis or project (CM 571). These courses are eligible for an "In Progress" contract; however, the student must register for the next extension the following semester. On successful completion of CM 571, all courses listed as "In Progress" will revert to "Pass". If the student is unsuccessful in defending their thesis, the policy for "In Progress" will be invoked for all CM 571 and CM 572 courses one year after the last CM 572 course is listed as "In Progress." May be repeated a total of five times. (As Needed)

COMPUTERS

CMPT 100, CMPT 100A Computer/Information Literacy3 credits

This entry level computer course provides a basic understanding of and proficiency in Microsoft Office. In addition, students demonstrate basic working knowledge of personal computer devices and the Windows operating system. Students also investigate online research methods, browser usage, and the impact of current and emerging technology on our society and culture.

CMPT 155 Introduction to Electronics & Programming3 credits

Introduction to electronic programming. Students will learn basic principles of electric circuits and computer programming, and will write a simple program to control an electronic device using a mini-processor. Prerequisite: MA 95 or equivalent. (Alternate years 2022-2023)

COLLEGE STUDIES

CLS 100, 100BStrategies for College Success Skills(1 credit each)

This series of courses is designed to provide first year Community Builders students with a basic understanding of college culture, terminology, assessment practices, structure, and student support services. Students successfully completing the courses will see themselves as life-long learners, gain self-confidence, improve human relations and a sense of campus community, and learn effective critical thinking, communication, and study skills.

CLS 110 Critical Thinking and Study Skills3 credits

Course examines critical thinking techniques, theories and approaches to knowledge, and strategies for studying in and across academic disciplines. Within this theoretical context, students explore and assess methods to improve their own thinking, reading, writing, studying, and test taking skills. Emphasis is on thematic study and on moving students from rote learning to understanding and application of course content across the curriculum.

CLS 111 Critical Thinking: Designing Your Life1 credit

Critical Thinking: Designing Your Life is a habit-building course. It enlists the work of Stephen Covey's third habit of highly successful people for building good habits of leveraging memory for increased classroom success. It also focuses on identifying pathways to university graduation and career success.

CLS 200A Exploring Prior Learning Experience1 credit

This course presents an overview of alternative credit systems available at Warner Pacific, with emphasis on introducing students to the prior learning experience (PLE) essay, and reviewing other alternative credit systems, including CLEP and DSST tests, WP Proficiency Exams, and agency-sponsored learning. Prerequisite: college composition and recommendation by academic advisor.

CLS 278 Crossing Cultures: Immersion3 credits

This interdisciplinary course foregrounds cross-cultural learning experiences and service opportunities in order to form students as more engaged members of the Warner Pacific University community, the wider body of Christ and the peoples of the world. Recognizing that diverse experiences and disorienting environments are catalysts for lifelong learning and growth, the course will help students develop a framework for understanding the complexity and variety of cultural contexts in which we find ourselves. Students will be on site for a minimum of 21 days. Additional fees required.

COMMUNICATIONS

COMM 150 Creative Writing: Poetry and Fiction3 credits

See EN 150.

COMM 151 Creative Writing: Creative Nonfiction3 credits

See EN 151.

COMM 200 Interpersonal Communications2 credits

Also listed as SS 200. This course will focus on methods for improving speaking, listening, and conflict management skills in personal and professional relationships. The class begins with a self-assessment of personal communication patterns and provides options and exercises for enhancing interpersonal competence.

COMM 200A Interpersonal Communications3 credits

This course will focus on methods for improving speaking, listening, and conflict management skills in personal and professional relationships. The class begins with a self-assessment of personal communication patterns and provides options and exercises for enhancing interpersonal competence.

COMM 220 Public Speaking3 credits

Examination of the art of rhetoric with emphasis on ethics of public speaking, types of speeches, organization, language, and delivery. Through study and practice of methods for writing and speaking effectively, students can improve their listening, reading, writing, analytical, critical thinking, and communication skills.

COMM 230 Intercultural Communication3 credits

Students will be introduced to the process of communication between and among individuals from different cultures or subcultures. They will learn the dynamic elements of intercultural communication in order to understand their own and others' cultures more effectively and thereby become more effective and ethical communicators.

COMM 250	Introduction to Digital Media	3 credits
Students will receive a general introduction to the different forms of digital media including text, graphics, photographs, sound, motion, and video. Students will learn how these different media types integrate with one another as well as with social media, websites, and different software applications. Students will learn how technical considerations, aesthetics, storytelling, and culture affect the perception and communication through digital media. Additional fees required.
COMM 255	Introduction to Audio Recording	2 credits
Study of and experience in basic skills related to the art of recording sound.
COMM 261	Organizational Writing and Presentations	3 credits
See BUS 261.
COMM 265	Introduction to Web Design	3 credits
Students will learn how to design for web and mobile platforms through an understanding of user experience, user interface design, accessibility, content strategy, design systems, cross-browser implementation, and technical tools. Students will be introduced to prototyping and design software (Adobe XD CC) and how it guides the modern front-end development process (HTML, CSS, JavaScript). Students will learn the difference between common project management methodologies including waterfall and agile. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
COMM 266	Web Design and Implementation	3 credits
Building upon the tools, technologies, and techniques learned in COMM 265: Intro to Web Design, students will go deeper in front-end web development tools, learn back-end web technologies, and work as teams to create a website project for a community-based project. Prerequisite: COMM 265 or instructor consent. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
COMM 300	Communication Theory: Models and Messages	3 credits
An overview of communication theories—the ethnography of communication, classical and modern rhetorical theory, and theories of how we make meaning, drawn from social psychology. Each class may also choose a set of applications for these theories appropriate to student interests—applications in cross-cultural communication, mass media, professional/organizational communication, etc. Prerequisites: EN 111+112 and six credits of additional courses listed in the Communications Minor. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
COMM 310	Writing Across Media	3 credits
Students will learn how to write effectively for a variety of communications platforms including print, verbal broadcasts (such as scripting for videos and podcasts) and digital spaces that intersect with print and script. Students will engage in exercises that will help build a solid understanding of how a variety of media introduce opportunities for dynamic storytelling and multi-directional communication. Students will not only create content, but will also learn best practices for becoming careful, creative managers of that content. Prerequisite: EN 111+112. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
COMM 312	Design Thinking and Entrepreneurship	3 credits
See CM 312..
COMM 350	Creative Writing: Poetry and Fiction	3 credits
See EN 350.
COMM 351	Creative Writing: Creative Nonfiction	3 credits
See EN 351.
COMM 360	Video Production and Editing	3 credits
Students will learn the process of producing video and the technology utilized in every step from concept to completion. Students will learn to tell stories and understand the different production considerations for experimental, narrative, and documentary films. Students will learn to communicate their vision as individual creators and as teams. Additional fees required.
COMM 380	Motion Graphics and Animation	3 credits
Students will learn how to tell stories and present information with animation and motion design principles. Students will learn the different forms of animation (hand-drawn, stop motion, 2D-motion graphics, 3D animation, and web-based animation with CSS), the software used to produce animation, and how animation informs the types of stories told. Students will understand the different sub-elements of animation including color, typography, and design. Additional fees required.
COMM 381	Social Media and Analytics	3 credits
This course will provide students with an understanding of social media, marketing plans, and social media analytics. Students will study social media strategies to build client profiles on the top social networks. They will engage with audiences and communities and utilize analytical tools to track success. Finally, they will practice communicating strategy and recommendations based on their analytic tools in written and oral form.
COMM 385	Introduction to Critical Strategies	3 credits
Also listed as EN 385. This introductory course acquaints students with critical lenses through which we perceive various “texts” in our world. Students will learn about critical approaches used prior to the post-modern movement, but the majority of the class time will be spent applying critical strategies promoted within the last fifty years to films and texts—both literary and non-literary. The strategies are broken into three main categories: emphasis on the text, emphasis on the source, and emphasis on the receiver. Prerequisite: EN 111+112. (Alternate years 2022-2023)

- COMM 390 Visual Communication 3 credits
Also listed as EN 390. This course begins by introducing basic principles of perception and visual interpretation, then moves into study of the dependent processes of visual communication and rhetoric in media and film studies, cultural studies, art, literature, electronic media, and the public spectacle. Some study will also be dedicated to the design of visual form and visual communication both in traditional and electronic formats. Prerequisites: EN 111+112, two COMM courses. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- COMM 400 Digital Media Capstone 2 credits
 Students create a digital portfolio consisting of at least three digital media forms. They apply knowledge and skills obtained in the major to design a significant project in a collaborative environment. At the end of the semester, they make a formal oral and visual presentation of their project to an audience of faculty, peers, and professionals. Prerequisite: At least two upper-division Digital Media and Communications courses.
- COMM 450 Communication Ethics 3 credits
Also listed as EN 450. This course emphasizes the philosophical roots of theories for reading texts from an ethical perspective, and applies those theories to the issues raised in media communications today. Students will read primary texts of literary critical theory and ethical theory and apply those readings to literary texts. The course also treats issues involved in the ethics of journalistic writing. Grounded in the critical and ethical theory, students will explore questions media professionals confront when writing for publication, such as: What does freedom of the press mean? What is the fourth estate? What constitutes “news” and, once that definition is agreed on, is it ever ethical to withhold news from the public? Students will confront these questions through comprehensive reading, case studies, their own writing, and the sharing of their thoughts through discussion. Prerequisite: Two lower or one upper-division communication classes.
- COMM 490 Digital Media Internship 3 credits
 Student works and learns under supervision in an approved internship with an agency, program, or institution. Application and integration of interdisciplinary knowledge, theory, and understanding. Prerequisites: Junior class standing, 2.8 GPA, consent of instructor and Division Dean. Pass/No Pass grade. (Generally, students need to plan schedules so as to spend a concentrated amount of time [at least six hours/week, preferably 10-15 weeks] in a semester or summer placement. [45 hours of consultation, travel, and internship activities = one credit.]). Must be prearranged one term in advance of placement.

ECONOMICS

- EC 203 Economics 3 credits
 If economics is the study of scarcity; then one must know how to properly allocate scarce resources. In this course students will explore Microeconomics how individuals, households, and firms make allocation decisions associated with these resources. The student will also learn about Macroeconomics and the philosophical reasons for choosing the above allocations. In this course we will study supply and demand, equilibrium, as well as many other economic theories. Prerequisite or corequisite: EN 111.

EDUCATION

- ED 240, ED 240A Integrating Educational Technology in the Classroom 3 credits
 This course addresses the application of learning technologies in the K-12 classroom, focusing on new media and technology to foster creative and divergent thinking. Emphasis will be on the incorporation of technologies in the teaching and learning process.
- ED 250, ED 250A Introduction to Education with Practicum (30 hours) 2 credits
 Taken prior to admission into the Teacher Education Program, this course explores teaching as a career choice and includes an examination of the historical, theoretical, philosophical, and sociological foundations of education. It includes current issues, practices, roles of school personnel, and federal and state laws related to education. A concurrent 30-hour practicum is required.
- ED 260, ED 260A Human Development and Learning Theory Implications for P-12 4 credits
 The course is an integrated approach to foundational work in learning theory and human development and their application in educational settings. The course approaches the study of the mental, physical, emotional, interpersonal, and spiritual development of a person from birth to death. Understanding and addressing learner similarities and differences is a recurrent issue throughout this course. Classical and contemporary theories of learning and instruction shall be applied to a variety of classroom situations. Self-concept, cognitive and affective potential, lesson planning, and learning hierarchies shall be addressed. While issues across the life span will be addressed, the school-age years (early childhood, elementary, middle school, and high school) will be emphasized.
- ED 281, ED 281A Curriculum Planning and the Role of the Teacher 3 credits
 This is a course that assists students in writing and developing lesson plans and designing individualized and group curricula through application of developmentally appropriate practices for standards based learning in the early childhood and elementary classroom. This course is required for Teacher Education program admission. Prerequisite: Sophomore class standing or consent of the instructor.
- ED 305 Independent Study 1-3 credits
 Independent Study involves original research and writing in an area agreed upon by the professor and the student. Consent of the instructor and Junior class standing is required for Independent Study in education.
- ED 334, ED 334A Teacher as Manager with Practicum (30 hours) 2 credits
 This course guides students in understanding the need for and developing the skills of management of various classroom, building, community, and parental issues and activities. Areas covered include classroom management, communication skills with community and parents, public policy and school law, classroom diversity issues, and community influences and resources. This course is required for Teacher Education program admission. Prerequisite: Sophomore class standing, or consent of the instructor.

- ED 341, ED 341A Literature for Children 3 credits
Also listed as EN 341, EN 341A. This course is an introduction to literature for children. It is designed to develop an understanding of genre, literacy characteristics, evaluation techniques, and selection guidelines for literature. Prerequisites: EN 111+112, or EN 111A+112A, Sophomore class standing.
- ED 343 Literature for Adolescents and Young Adults 3 credits
Also listed as EN 343. This course is an introduction to literature for adolescents and young adults. It is designed to develop an understanding of genre, literacy characteristics, evaluation techniques, and selection guidelines for literature. Prerequisites: EN 111+112, Sophomore class standing.
- ED 353, ED 353A Cultural Diversity 3 credits
Also listed as SS 353A. This course will assist the pre-service teacher in preparation of a culturally mediated learning environment. The course content will facilitate learning in a culturally responsive classroom through experiences in valuing a climate of inclusion, engaging in cultural self-reflection, facilitating the dynamics of difference, acquiring cultural knowledge, adapting to the diversity and the cultural contexts of the students, families, and communities served, and supporting actions which foster equity of opportunity. Prerequisite: Sophomore class standing.
- ED 370, ED 370A Art and Music Methods in the Classroom 2 credits
 This is a survey course that will investigate the curriculum and instruction of art and music in the K-8 Classroom. Particular emphasis will be given to current literature and research. Topics to be covered include: lesson planning, scope and sequence, grade level content appropriate for art and music, time management, technology, state and national standards. Prerequisites: Sophomore class standing and Education major declaration.
- ED 371, ED 371A Physical Education Methods in the Classroom 2 credits
 This is a seminar and laboratory course that offers basic content, methods, and materials for teaching health and physical education. The focus will include developmentally appropriate practices at the early childhood and elementary levels. Students will learn to assess, plan and implement activities for learner centered classrooms. Prerequisites: Sophomore class standing and Education major declaration. Prerequisite: EN 111+112 or EN 111A+112A.
- ED 372, ED 372A Literacy Methods in the Classroom with Practicum (50 hours) 4 credits
 This course with practicum prepares students to develop reading and language arts skill, including speaking, listening and writing for age three through grade eight. It includes an emphasis on reading readiness, emergent literacy, assessment, methods, materials, recent research, and theoretical sound practices for improvement and instruction of reading and language arts skills. Students are responsible for fees associated with licensure including ORELA and any additional licensure assessment fees required by TSPC. Prerequisites: ED 260 or ED 260A, ED 281 or ED 281A, and admission to the Teacher Education program.
- ED 373, ED 373A Math Methods in the Classroom 2 credits
 This course will enable students to master developmentally appropriate, differentiated teaching techniques with the PK-8 mathematics curriculum and to correlate lessons to the national and the Common Core State Standards. Attention is also focused on the process of developing a Mathematical Mindset. This course meets requirements for ECE/ELE licensure authorizations. Prerequisites: ED 260 or ED 260A, ED 281 or ED 281A, and admission to the Teacher Education program.
- ED 374, ED 374A Science Methods in the Classroom 2 credits
 This course will enable students to master developmentally appropriate, differentiated teaching techniques in the PK-8 science curriculum and to correlate lessons to the national and the Common Core State Standards. Prerequisites: ED 260 or ED 260A, ED 281 or ED 281A, and admission to the Teacher Education program.
- ED 375, ED 375A Social Studies Methods in the Classroom 2 credits
 This course is an introduction to curriculum development, standards, learning outcomes, materials, resources, instructional strategies, and assessments for PK-8 social studies instruction. An emphasis is placed on concept development through scope and sequence planning and integration with other content areas. Prerequisites: ED 260 or ED 260A, ED 281 or ED 281A, and admission to the Teacher Education program.
- ED 376, ED 376A ESOL Methods in the Classroom 2 credits
 This course examines current curriculum models, materials, teaching approaches, assessment techniques, and cultural factors that maximize the academic achievement of English language learners. It emphasizes strategies related to planning, implementing, and managing instruction that enable students in different proficiency levels to access the core curriculum and develop language skills. Prerequisites: ED 260 or ED 260A, ED 281 or ED 281A, and admission to the Teacher Education program.
- ED 405 Independent Study 1-3 credits
 Independent Study involves original research and writing in an area agreed upon by the professor and the student. Consent of the instructor and Junior class standing is required for Independent Study in education.
- ED 430 Development and Administration of Early Childhood Programs 3 credits
 This course emphasizes the functions of programs for young children. Content focuses on philosophy, policy and ethics, parent involvement, fiscal management, staffing issues, health and safety and program evaluation. Advocacy issues are included. The course requires off campus visitations and/or field experience. Prerequisite: Valid first aid card or consent of instructor. (As Needed).

- ED 481, ED 481A Professional Development Seminar 2 credits
The course supports the pre-service teacher in learning and refining professional expertise while student teaching. Course content includes the role of the teacher as a member of a learning community, classroom management, professional responsibilities, presentation, accountabilities, and commitment to lifelong learning and professional development. This course is taken in conjunction with ED 495 Student Teaching II in the final semester of the student's program. Prerequisite: Full admission to the Teacher Education program, ED 250 or 250A, ED 281 or 281A, ED 334 or 334A, ED 491 or 491A.
- ED 489 Administration and Implementation of Reading Programs 3 credits
This course is required for a reading interventionist endorsement. Knowledge of the administration and implementation of classroom and school-wide reading is included. Emphasis will include theory of instruction; materials for the reading curriculum; environments of reading instruction; personnel; evaluation of students and the program; and prevention, correction and remediation of reading difficulties. A major emphasis is upon research and current trends and practices. This course is taken in conjunction with a 100-hour practicum (ED 493). Prerequisites: ED 281 and ED 372, or consent of instructor.
- ED 491, ED 491A Student Teaching I (100 hours) 2 credits
This clinical experience meets requirements for hours in the classroom and the initial work of edTPA. The configuration of this experience may vary to accommodate the schedule and requirements of both the cooperating school site and the student. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis. Prerequisite: Full admission to the Teacher Education program, ED 250A, ED 281A and ED 334A. Students are responsible for fees associated with licensure and any additional licensure assessment fees required by TSPC. Additional fees for fingerprinting and the state Civil Rights exam are required.
- ED 492 Endorsement Practicum 2 credits
This practicum experience meets requirements for demonstration of authorization and content competence in an endorsement. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis. Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program. Additional fees required.
- ED 493 Practicum for ED 489 (100 hours) 2 credits
This practicum experience meets requirements for demonstration of authorization and content competence in the reading interventionist endorsement. It is taken concurrently with ED 489 Administration and Implementation of Reading Programs. The practicum will include observation, interviewing and participation in several existing public school reading programs. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis. Additional fees required.
- ED 495, ED 495A Student Teaching II 14 credits
This clinical experience includes full-time student teaching for the entire 15-week semester at the teacher candidate's primary authorization level. It is taken concurrently with ED 481. Each candidate will produce an edTPA and integrated unit. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis. Students are responsible for fees associated with licensure including edTPA and any additional licensure assessment fees required by TSPC. Prerequisites: ED 491 or ED 491A and full admission to the Teacher Education Program.
- ED 510A Teaching to Diversity in Today's Classroom 3 credits
This course is designed to teach educators how to promote all learners' intellectual, social, emotional and moral growth within a classroom that respects, appreciates, and celebrates humanity in all of its diversity. Students will learn to select, modify and evaluate curricular materials for individual and groups to include gender, race, class, and at-risk populations. This course will address the skills needed to manage various classroom settings, handle student behaviors, and communicate with families. It will promote the development of a theoretical framework for educational practices that encourage all classroom students' intellectual, personal and moral development, develop processes for research-based effective classroom procedures and routines, and organize and manage all aspects of a classroom. Prerequisite for ED 515(U): Intention to pursue the MAT 4.5 degree and department consent.
- ED 535(U), ED 535A Curriculum Planning and Instruction with Practicum (50 hours) 3 credits
This course engages students in the design, development and presentation of effective learning experiences in the classroom. Students will learn and practice research-based, differentiated curriculum design, strategies for instruction, and assessment of learning. Attention is given to Oregon standards and curriculum. Prerequisite for ED 535(U): Intention to pursue the MAT 4.5 degree and department consent.
- ED 540A Utilizing Instructional Media 3 credits
Materials, devices, techniques and settings are presented in an overview of the field of instructional technology. Lab experiences are provided in the operation of instructional hardware.
- ED 551, 551A Foundations of Education 1 credit
This course explores teaching as a career choice and includes an overview of the historical, philosophical, and sociological foundations of education. It includes current issues, practices, roles of school personnel and federal and state laws related to education.
- ED 555, 555A Urban Education and Diverse/Exceptional Learners 3 credits
This course is designed to celebrate a variety of learner characteristics, backgrounds, values, and contributions to the educational environment and to develop models and teaching methods to increase achievement of all students. This course will also address the challenges of and teacher responsibilities toward students with special needs, English language difficulty, and other barriers to school success.
- ED 560A Research for Teachers 2 credits
Students will complete an action research project with a professional literature review. The course will focus on the foundations of research design, research methods, research questions, hypotheses, and data interpretation. Students will conduct research, collect data, and interpret the data. The action research project will provide an opportunity for students to make decisions and solve problems based on theory and research.

- ED 564A Ethics in Education 2 credits
In 21st century learning, to meet the ever-changing needs of our students, educators require a strong understanding regarding ethics in education. The course is designed to understand the journey of ethics in education, current issues, resolutions, and strategies to ensure improved practice. Students will analyze, collaborate, and discuss cases regarding educational ethical issues educators are facing.
- ED 571A Art/PE/Music Methods in the PK-8 Classroom 2 credits
This is a survey course that will investigate the curriculum and instruction of art, music, and physical education in the PK-8 Classroom. Particular emphasis will be given to current literature and research. Topics to be covered include: lesson planning, scope and sequence, grade level content appropriate for art, music and physical education, time management, technology, state and national standards.
- ED 572A Teaching Math and Science Methods in the PK-8 Classroom 3 credits
This course will investigate the curriculum and instruction of math and science in the PK-8 classroom. Particular emphasis will be given to current literature and research. Topics to be covered include lesson planning, scope and sequence, grade level math and science content, time management, technology, and state/national content standards.
- ED 573, ED 573A ESOL and Literacy Instruction Methods for Classroom Teachers 2 credits
This course examines current curriculum models, materials, teaching approaches, assessment techniques, and cultural factors that maximize the academic achievement of English language learners. It emphasizes strategies related to planning, implementing, and managing instruction that enable students in different proficiency levels to access the core curriculum and develop language skills.
- ED 574A Teaching Literacy and Social Studies Methods in the PK-8 Classroom 3 credits
This course will investigate the curriculum and instruction of literacy in the PK-8 classroom. Particular emphasis will be given to current literature and research. Topics to be covered include: lesson planning, scope and sequence, grade level literacy content, time management, technology, state and national content standards. The course will also investigate the curriculum and instruction of social studies PK – 8 classrooms.
- ED 575, ED 575A Literacy Methods in the Content Area 3 credits
This course will review current theory and teaching practices on reading and written communication for students in middle and high school classrooms. This course will integrate pedagogical knowledge with literacy development theory for secondary, K-12 physical education (PE), and K-12 music education majors. It will include presentations of effective literacy descriptions, research, and application strategies for integrating literacy throughout the curriculum and for diverse learners.
- ED 576, ED 576A Instructional Methods for the Middle and High School 3 credits
This class concentrates on curriculum design, strategies for instruction, methods and materials and assessment of learning in middle and high school content area classes and K-12 PE and K-12 music classes. Attention is given to curriculum as it relates to the Oregon Core Curriculum State Standards. Writing of a unit work sample, teaching one lesson from the unit, and evaluating the teaching are included. Working with students in content classes will be discussed. Evaluation and classroom management strategies will be explored.
- ED 577, 577A Educational Trends in Middle and High School 2 credits
This class will look at the history, theory, and philosophy of the middle and high school learning environment, as well as the changes that are taking place in both middle and high school. Current status of, in the field, literature sources, and work of leading scholars will be examined.
- ED 592A Reading/Literacy Practicum 2 credits
This course provides the opportunity to observe master teachers and practice delivering literacy instruction, administering assessments and interpreting the results, planning interventions and developmentally/proficiency appropriate curriculum and materials, delivering differentiated and engaging instruction, supervising others in reading instructional activities, and evaluating the results of chosen methods and tools.
- ED 595A Capstone Experience 2 credits
Activities in this course are for closure to a student's graduate course work. Participants will create artifacts that indicate growth in areas of dispositions, knowledge and skills over the master degree courses completed.
- ED 596, ED 596A Assessment and Evaluation 3 credits
This course presents the current methods of assessment and evaluating. During this course the learner will develop attitudes and skills necessary to provide sound classroom assessment experiences that yield accurate, usable information for students, parents, and school personnel. Topics will include: summative and formative evaluation, validity, reliability, legal issues, techniques of data gathering and the Oregon Common Core Curriculum. Students will learn how to evaluate data results. There will be ten hours of observation relating to the content of this class.
- ED 620A Principles of Reading Assessment, Diagnosis, and Intervention 2 credits
This course provides practice in using a variety of assessment tools and techniques to collect data to identify student proficiencies and deficiencies in reading and writing and plan effective instruction. Reporting practices and communications will also be examined.
- ED 621A Assessment Practices for English Language Learners 2 credits
This course focuses on the legally mandated language proficiency tests and placement procedures for English Language Learners, performance expectations for students at different levels of language proficiency, classroom tools for assessing content knowledge in a student's first language, and strategies for preparing English Language Learners for standardized and criterion-referenced tests.

ED 631A	Cross Cultural Foundations	3 credits
This course addresses the legal, ethical, and moral issues related to teaching ELL students, including beliefs and values related to diversity on learning and communication, the development of cross-cultural awareness, strategies for teaching and testing cultural knowledge and skills, and methods and means of involving families and communities with limited English proficiency in the education of their children.
ED 651A	Best Practices in Literacy Instruction and Curriculum	3 credits
This course provides opportunities to select, design, and evaluate a variety of research-based instructional practices, methods, and materials to meet identified deficiencies in student literacy. Curriculum units will be developed based on proficiency levels, learning styles, and interests, with sensitivity to cultural and ethnic issues.
ED 652A	Curriculum and Instruction for English Language Learners	3 credits
The course will focus on locating, designing, and evaluating age and proficiency appropriate materials, lessons and activities for each of the skill areas of language acquisition, individual and group learning strategies, and standards-based delivery models identified in the literature and best practices.
ED 660A	Research Design	3 credits
This class will assist students in developing the disposition and ability to engage in teacher research as a way to develop their own practice. It builds upon learning in Research for Teachers such as knowing how to search professional research libraries. Teacher inquiry can help teachers improve instruction and gain insight into their profession and the nature of learning. Data gathering instruments and procedures will be created and piloted. Process for reflecting on research study results, concluding and tying results to existing professional literature will be practiced. The research proposal written in this course is a systematic plan to improve instinctive reflection teachers already engage in as they strive to improve their impact on student learning.
ED 661, ED 661A	Educational Research	3 credits
This course is designed to introduce students to the basic techniques of conducting and analyzing educational research. Emphasis will be given to concepts, procedures, vocabulary of quantitative research and the involvement of the PK-12 learner. Students will develop and plan an action research project.
ED 670A	Foundations of Language and Literacy	3 credits
This course addresses the history, research, and theory related to language development and literacy, including cultural differences, the components of reading, the skills needed for reading readiness, and the sequence of skills toward becoming a proficient reader.
ED 671A	Literacy Instruction for Special Needs Students	2 credits
This course provides an overview of issues, characteristics, and definitions of special needs children. This course examines planning instruction, providing services, developing community relations, and utilizing resources.
ED 672A	Linguistics for ESOL Educators	3 credits
This course focuses on phonetics, phonology, morphology, semantics, syntax, pragmatics, language variation, and language acquisition will be examined as well as stages of the learning process, environmental influences, verbal and nonverbal modes of communication, and the development of other academic skills.
ED 676A	Literacy Instruction for ELL Students	2 credits
This course provides opportunities to use research-based procedures to select, design, and evaluate a variety of instructional materials in all content areas, for students at different reading, writing, and speaking levels and from different cultural and linguistic backgrounds. High interest, high quality literature and other reading selections for students and their teachers will be explored, in order to foster love of reading for education and pleasure.
ED 688A	Leadership in ESOL Programs and Models	2 credits
This course compares various ESOL programs and models, focusing on the foundation of research, the achievement of goals and standards, and the satisfaction of students, educators, and communities. Emerging issues, influences, and reform efforts will be examined, and opportunities for advocacy will be developed.
ED 689A	Leadership in Literacy Programs	2 credits
This course provides opportunities to compare existing reading programs and systems, and then to initiate, implement, and evaluate individually or collaboratively developed programs relevant to the teacher's professional setting and identified student needs. The teacher will establish a philosophy based on research and standards related to the teaching of all components of literacy, and will work with colleagues to improve own and others' practice.
ED 690, 690A	Student Teaching I with Seminar	3 credits
Student teaching is a clinical experience in a supervised setting. The learner must be in the classroom. Assignments and supervision will be coordinated by the Education Department. This course requires the development of an edTPA and integrated unit. This is a supervised practicum (observation). The seminar will meet weekly to debrief and help with the development of the edTPA. Students must have completed all other M.A.T. coursework with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 before student teaching. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis. Students are responsible for fees associated with licensure including edTPA and any additional licensure assessment fees required by TSPC.
ED 691, 691A	Student Teaching IIa with Seminar	3 credits
Student teaching is a clinical experience in a supervised setting. The assignment will be in the candidate's primary level of endorsement. The edTPA will be developed with the guidance of the mentor teacher and the university supervisor. The seminar will meet weekly to debrief and help with the development of the edTPA. Assignments and supervision will be coordinated by the Education Department. Students must have completed all other M.A.T. coursework with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 before student teaching. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis. Prerequisite: ED 690 or ED 690A.

- ED 692, 692A Student Teaching IIb with Seminar 4 credits
The assignment for this clinical experience will be a continuation of the previous five week placement. Candidates will be in the same classroom and complete all requirements for their primary level of authorization. The candidate will complete the edTPA, following the directions in the edTPA Manual. The edTPA will be developed with the guidance of the mentor teacher and the university supervisor. The seminar will meet weekly to debrief and help with the development of the edTPA. Student teacher placements and supervision will be coordinated by the main campus Education Department. Offered on a Pass- No Pass basis. Prerequisite: ED 691 or ED 691A.
- ED 693A ESOL Practicum 2 credits
This course provides the opportunity to observe master teachers and practice delivering ESOL instruction, administering assessments and interpreting the results, planning developmentally and proficiency appropriate curriculum and materials, delivering differentiated and engaging instruction, and evaluating the results of chosen methods and tools

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

- EDPSY 320 Family Life Education Methodology 2 credits

HE 210	Stress Management	2 credits
This course exposes students to a holistic approach to stress management. It treats both cognitive skills and relaxation techniques with the intention of preventing and/or alleviating the physical symptoms of stress. The learning activities of the course are both theoretical and experiential. This course partially fulfills General Education Core Studies outcome C3; the student must take a PE activity course to complete fulfillment of C3. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
HE 240	Nutrition	3 credits
Study of foods as related to health and nutritional diseases. Prerequisite: EN 111.
HE 310	Fitness Prescription	2 credits
This course is designed to provide students with the knowledge, skills, and abilities in formulating exercise prescriptions and designing safe and effective exercise programming for diverse populations. This includes understanding the benefits and risks associated with physical activity, assessment of health, exercise testing and exercise prescription in preparation for managing exercise professionals in a variety of settings. Prerequisite: EN 111. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
HE 330	Sports Nutrition	3 credits
The purpose of this course is to provide the student with an understanding of nutrition as it pertains to training and performance of athletic activities. Within the course, students will learn basic concepts of exercise physiology and energy metabolism, as well as nutrient requirements for a variety of physical activities including endurance, strength, speed and weight management. Evaluation of dietary supplements and ergogenic aids will also be discussed as well as current controversies within the field. Prerequisite: HE 150. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
HE 340	Current Health Issues	3 credits
Investigation of a variety of current health issues leading the student to intelligent decisions in the purchase and use of health products and services. Meets General Education Core Studies outcome D2. Prerequisite: Sophomore class standing. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
HE 370	Essentials of Strength and Conditioning	3 credits
This course will introduce theories and principles of strength and conditioning to improve fitness, health and athletic performance. It will provide the knowledge and skills needed to create and implement safe and effective strength and conditioning workouts for different patient populations. This course will also explore basic principles of anatomy, physiology, strength training techniques, exercise modifications and current exercise trends. The course will assist students in preparation for national certification in either Certified Strength and Conditioning or Personal Training by the National Strength and Conditioning Association. Prerequisites: BIO 121 or 221, EN 112. (Alternate years 2021-2022)

HE 410 Fitness and Chronic Disease 3 credits
 Study of how physical fitness influences long-term health, especially with regards to chronic diseases common in Western culture. Physiology of conditions including obesity, diabetes, hypertension, coronary heart disease, osteoporosis, arthritis, cancer chronic lung disease, and pregnancy will be considered. The course will examine modifications to exercise necessary for individuals with these conditions, as well as how fitness routines can be used to manage these conditions. Prerequisites: BIO 121 or BIO 221, HE 310. (Alternate years 2021-2022)

HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATION

HCA 272, HCA 272A Cultural Competency in Health Care Organizations 3 credits
 “Cultural competency” is one of public health’s primary tools to closing the disparities gap in health care. It encompasses behaviors, attitudes, and policies that are integrated in a system, agency, or group of professionals that enables effective work in cross-cultural settings and situations. While “culture” is commonly associated with race/ethnicity, it encompasses the language, thoughts, communications, actions, customs, beliefs, and values of any social group. This course will examine both analytical and practical approaches to cultural competency in public health. Concepts, models, frameworks, and communication that occur in cross-cultural health situations will be discussed, but also the application of these concepts in real interventions and programs.

HCA 300, HCA 300A Health Care Leadership 3 credits
 The health care field is continually evolving. The health care industry requires leaders who have the human skills related to diversity and cultural etiquette, but also are adaptable, proactive, and innovative. This course is a comprehensive view of leadership competencies necessary for today’s health care organizations that is designed to empower students to prepare for leadership and supervisory positions, regardless of their health care industry.

HCA 302, HCA 302A Principles of Patient Care 3 credits
 This course provides both an overview of the evolution of patient care in the US and a description of current practices. The fundamental components of all patient needs are examined. Infrastructures are studied and the roles of the various participants are explained.

HCA 303, HCA 303A The Future of Health Care: Alternative Methods and Public Policy 3 credits
 This course provides an overview of major Complementary and Alternative Medical (CAM) care resources and their management systems, as well as community and public health services used for the well-being of a population. This course will explore the future of Health Care Administration.

HCA 306, HCA 306A The Economics of Health Care and Policy 3 credits
 Healthcare is changing, as are the rules that govern its practices at the community, state, and national level. This course is designed to delve deeper into the evolving healthcare system and its economic impact, as well as touch on the broad context of related social and political issues. The course evaluates the application of basic economic principles in the system of healthcare to appraise implementation of public policy considerations. Specifically, this course looks at the supply and demand considerations in healthcare, how elasticity is measured, the costs and benefits of healthcare decisions, as well as how to evaluate profits and loss of the healthcare industry on both the micro and the macro level. Prerequisites: BUS 107A or MA 111 or equivalent; BUS 223 or BUS 223A or equivalent.

HCA 310, HCA 310A Healthcare Organizational Behavior and Design 3 credits
 This course provides a systematic understanding of organizational principles, practices, and insight pertinent to the management of health services organizations. Students will focus on organizational theory and research with a high emphasis on application that goes beyond the traditional focus on health care in hospitals and other provider organizations. Included is a more comparative global perspective of how the world addresses health and health care, as well as application of contemporary management techniques, such as strategic management, operations management, and social responsibility appropriate for all health care organizations.

HCA 320, HCA 320A Strategic Human Resources and Health Care 3 credits
 This course identifies the strategic nature of an organization’s human resource plan. We will discuss the essential practices and functions of staff selection and placement, including identifying staffing needs, recruiting externally and internally, assessing applicants, making selection and placement decisions, and managing the staffing system as it relates to the health care industry.

HCA 401, HCA 401A Decision Making and Information Systems in Health Care 3 credits
 An applied course in basic health statistics and research methods intended to introduce common applications in the health care setting: emphasis is on the ability to analyze and interpret clinical and other health data for use in research, health care decision-making, and policy development as well as the ability to locate, read, and use published research relevant to identified subjects; topics include commonly used health statistics, the process of research, epidemiology, outcomes research, case mix, registries, Institutional Review Board, and ethics in research.

HCA 402A Finance in Health Care Organizations 3 credits
 In this course students will study the fundamentals of financial management in health services, with emphasis on the financial environment, payment systems, discounted cash flow analysis, risk, financial statements, capital investments, capital budgeting, and Medicare and Medicaid regulations. These concepts are explicated in the light of decisions made by health care organizations by using accounting and finance theories, principles, and concepts most important to managers in the health care industry. Contemporary case studies will be used to illustrate the relationship between finance theory and organizational policy, including those for non-profit health care institutions. Prerequisites: BUS 107A or MA 111 or equivalent; BUS 223 or BUS 223A or equivalent.

Elements associated with quality improvement will be discussed and applied to real world events to demonstrate how it can improve organizational effectiveness.

HISTORY

HIS 200A	Introduction to History	3 credits
This course is an overview of the practice of historical scholarship and how that knowledge can be applied to our understanding of the ever-changing world in the present. Rather than focusing on chronological survey over time, we will be focusing on some major thematic areas of History. The first is to understand how historical arguments function. Secondly, is to engage and analyze primary and secondary source materials, which are the lifeline of any historical inquiry. The third is how we can practically apply that knowledge to better analyze and understand our surroundings as well as contemporary social, political, and economic issues. Finally, we will be introduced to how history is conducted publicly to conserve and remember the past. We will be using material from modern US history as the “arena” for applying what we learn about the study of history.

HD 330, HD 330A Life Span Human Development 3 credits
Also listed as SW 330, SW 330A. This course analyzes theories of human behavior in the social environment from a lifespan developmental approach. The study of the mental, physical, emotional, interpersonal, and spiritual development of an individual from birth to death is explored through the life stages and transitions of infancy; childhood; adolescence; early, middle, and late adulthood; and death and dying. This course examines the complexities of human development and behavior of individuals, families, communities, groups, and organizations, as well as the interaction of the biological, psychological, and social factors that shape experiences. The course provides a broad understanding of how humans develop within the family system and within the social context. Prerequisites (HD 330): EN 111, PSY 140.

HD 480 Family Resource Management 2 credits
 This course provides students with knowledge and experience in understanding and planning resources for both individuals and families. Emphasis will be placed on the roles of values, goals, attitudes, and decision-making in the process of managing resources and other commodities. Prerequisite: PSY 140 or SOC 140.

HUMAN SERVICES

HS 501A Persons in Context: Systems Thinking Across Society 3 credits
 Students will discuss theories and themes in human services, including the history of the helping relationship, the human services movement, current influences of technology, managed care, and models of service delivery. Systems thinking across society will also be considered in this course. Content examined will be systemic concepts, understood in their history and development; contextual considerations; causality; communication; system stability and change; system structures; and social and cultural narratives.

HS 502A Spirituality & the Practice of Human Services: An Integrative View 3 credits
 This course examines the roles of religion and spirituality in human services. Explored topics are: introduction to spirituality in human service, competencies regarding spirituality and religion, as well as various faith systems, healthy and toxic faith, spiritual development, the value system and attitude of the human service professional, and spiritual/religious assessment. Throughout the course consideration is given to application in a variety of human service settings as well as personal application of the materials to the student.

HS 503A Human Services: Research & Practice 3 credits
 This course provides an overview of commonly used research methods to prepare students to be critical consumers of scholarly social science research. Students will explore a variety of social science research traditions and will gather scholarly materials related to human service organizations and the populations frequently served by these systems. At the completion of this course, students will develop a proposal for their master's thesis, due at the end of this program.

HS 504A Case Management: Knowledge & Skills for Human Service Professionals 3 credits
 This course provides concepts and skills for case management. Students preparing for careers in human services gain foundational knowledge about case management, including ecological sensitivity, cultural competence, interpersonal skills, and the change process. Course learning activities include reading, thinking, and writing; working with cases; and practicing and receiving feedback on their use of the interpersonal skills.

HS 505A Stewardship and Resource Management for Families & Organizations 3 credits
 This course familiarizes the student with an understanding of the decisions individuals, families, and organizations make about developing and allocating resources to meet their goals. Topics include: decision-making, valuing, planning, communication, and management skills for resource work. Organizational resource disposition and reporting will also be discussed.

HS 506A Professional Ethics: Character, Quality & Social Justice 3 credits
 This course provides an analysis of human services ethics, application of the National Organization of Human Services (NOHS) Code of Ethics, the National Council on Family Relations' ethics for family life educators, and concepts and dilemmas specific to helping relationships. From a foundation in multicultural values, the course investigates the issues of responsible practice through critical analysis and discussion. Students will make application of knowledge gained to their personal and professional lives. Codes of conduct in relationships with potential clients, customers, students, subordinates, co-workers, and supervisors will be examined.

HS 507A Education and Prevention Strategies: Planning, Creating & Implementing 3 credits
 Developing the knowledge and skills required to identify the needs of diverse client populations, designing targeted programs for varied environments, teaching content with an understanding of the learning process, effectively facilitating groups, and evaluating participants and programs in a positive, constructive, professional manner that promotes growth and development form the basis of this course. Since reflective practice is an essential skill for any educator, this course provides students with the opportunity to reflect on and discuss their own experiences as learners and articulate their beliefs about people and how they learn and change. This course will be another step in preparing students to create human service or family life education projects.

HS 508A Public Policy & Advocacy: Legal Issues, Policies, Laws, & Well-Being 3 credits
 This course integrates the latest research and cutting-edge practice to make an evidence-based case for family policy. Examples from around the globe will be given to explain how families support society and how policies support families. The course encourages students to move beyond analysis to action with pragmatic processes and procedures for improving the effectiveness and efficiency of policies by viewing them through the lens of human and family impact.

HS 509A Lifespan Human Development: All Persons, including Vulnerable & At Risk Populations 3 credits
 This course provides an in-depth look at the science of human development with an emphasis on theories and research that have useful applications for individuals working in the human services. It will provide students with information that can be translated into professional "best practice" applications. Also emphasized will be the contemporary view that life span development is a process deeply embedded within and inseparable from the context of family, social network, and culture. Of special note will be knowledge about those who do not follow a "typical" course of development.

- HS 601A Human Services Administration: Fiscal Management, Fundraising, & Grant Seeking 3 credits
This course introduces students to the theory and practice of managerial and leadership functions, with a practical approach that provides guidelines for working within agencies. Topics discussed will be evidence-based and empirically supported practice, challenges of management, environments of human service agencies, organizational theory and design, human resources, supervisory relationships, information systems, program evaluation, organizational change, grant writing, fund raising, leadership, and achieving and maintaining organizational excellence.
- HS 603A Sexuality for Human Service Professionals: Value-Respectful Understanding of Self and Others 3 credits
This course, geared to the family life educator who will provide sexuality education in a variety of settings, addresses many aspects of sexuality and how to approach it educationally. Some of these are: the historical perspective on sex education; self-awareness of the family life educator; biological, sociological, psychological aspects of sexual education; family life and interpersonal relationships; strategies for sexuality instruction; and the effectiveness of the sex educator and sexual education.
- HS 604A Parent Education & Guidance: Models, Principles, Strategies 3 credits
This course will investigate how self-understanding and understanding of one's own experiences with their parents can free one to parent their own children more effectively. Persons do not have to repeat dysfunctional patterns in the lives of their children but can parent in loving, nurturing ways. Students will gain knowledge about parenting skills and learn parent educator tools as well. The reciprocal nature of parent-child interactions will be emphasized as a systems viewpoint will be foundational.
- HS 605A Field Practicum 3 credits
This field practicum course is designed to provide students with a hands-on, realistic experience in a community-based agency. Students will have an opportunity to apply and evaluate the knowledge and skills learned in the coursework, will become more aware of the skills required to be an effective and successful human services/family life education professional, and will further determine their appropriateness for the profession. The course helps the students to develop an understanding of the human services/family life education delivery systems and their relevance to local, state, and national policy.
- HS 606A Thesis 3 credits
This course will require students to integrate theory and practice, applying an action research approach as they connect human service/family life education concepts to real-life challenges. Throughout the preceding courses, beginning with the HS 501A students will be working on a proposal that they have submitted at the end of HS 503A in preparation for the thesis. Students will then be required design, organize, and conduct a major project that integrates a topic of special interest based on the proposal. The project will analyze and synthesize theoretical and applied concepts in the field of human services from a specialized area selected by the student in conjunction with a faculty supervisor. The project should involve both scholarly research and experiential application. The student should expect to produce a 40- to 50-page APA style paper and defend this paper/work in oral presentation. This course serves as a capstone course for the Master's in Human Services.

HUMANITIES

- HUM 210 Humanities Colloquy: Science in Society 3 credits
An interdisciplinary approach to questions about the relationship between science and society. Students will explore the nature of both the individual's and society's responsibility in the understanding and application of science with reference to ethics, technology and social justice. Readings in foundational perspectives in moral philosophy are applied to current issues such as the role of science in: world health issues, race and gender, and art and creativity. Students will pursue a project that focuses on ethical aspects of a selected topic. Prerequisite: EN 111+112.
- HUM 211, HUM 211A Humanities Colloquy: War and Peace 3 credits
An interdisciplinary approach to questions about war and peace, human aggression, conflict resolution, and the variety of Christian approaches to these issues. Readings in foundational philosophical perspectives are applied to issues involving war and peace. Discussion of the nature of human life is integral to the course. Prerequisite: EN 111+112 or EN 111A+112A.
- HUM 212 Humanities Colloquy: Earthkeeping 3 credits
An interdisciplinary approach to understanding the cultural and scientific aspects of ecological and environmental issues through developing a common ecological vocabulary bridging disciplines; examining the scientific, religious, and cultural debates that surround the concept of deep ecology; describing how theories of nature and of human nature relate to current ecological issues; and examining globalization and commodification in an effort to understand how human societies relate to natural systems. Prerequisite: EN 111+112.
- HUM 213 Humanities Colloquy: Politics and People of the Book 3 credits
"Politics and the People of the Book" asks the central question: what is the proper role of religion in politics? By reading the most significant contributions of Christian thinkers to the question from the Western tradition, being exposed to responses from the Christian non-West, and seeing parallels in the Jewish and Islamic traditions, students will see the breadth and complexity of the question and its various answers. Prerequisite: EN 111+112.
- HUM 310 Humanities Colloquy: Faith, Living and Learning 3 credits
An interdisciplinary consideration of the relationship of the Christian faith to aspects of the human condition. Students will be challenged to infuse a personal theological perspective into their thinking about self, society, the world, the cosmos, and the like. Prerequisite: EN 111+112.

- HUM 310A Humanities Colloquy: Faith, Living and Learning 3 credits
This course is an interdisciplinary consideration of the relationship of the Christian faith to aspects of the human condition. Students will be challenged to infuse a personal theological perspective into their thinking about the intellectual world of ideas, the self, and society. Prerequisite: EN 111A+112A.
- HUM 385 Critical and Cultural Theory 3 credits
This course introduces students to contemporary interdisciplinary cultural interpretation and critique, relevant to literary, historical, and cultural studies. Students will learn how to understand or read culture through various “texts” in our world and to apply critical lenses to cultural artifacts. Readings and activities will focus on a variety of related approaches which re-assess cultural notions of meaning, identity, power, representation, production and consumption. Prerequisite: Upper division course in Literature, History, or Philosophy. (As Needed)
- HUM 391, 392, 393 Humanities Internship 2-5 credits
Student works and learns under supervision in an approved internship with an agency, program, or institution. Application and integration of interdisciplinary knowledge, theory, and understanding. Prerequisites: Junior class standing, 2.8 GPA, consent of instructor and Division Dean. Pass/No Pass grade. (Generally, students need to plan schedules so as to spend a concentrated amount of time [at least six hours/week, preferably 10-15 weeks] in a semester or summer placement. [45 hours of consultation, travel, and internship activities = one credit.]) Must be prearranged one term in advance of placement.
- HUM 410 Senior Humanities Seminar 3 credits
An exploration from a humanities perspective of personal, social, ethical, and religious issues related to selected disciplines in the student’s liberal arts experience. Student produces a formal paper that 1) identifies an issue constant to the human condition and 2) examines that issue via synthesis through the lenses of at least three academic disciplines. Prerequisites: EN 200, ILR 300 or consent of professor. Students who are required to take 200-level and 300-level Humanities series courses must complete those courses before entering HUM 410.

INFORMATION LITERACY AND RESEARCH

- ILR 300, ILR 300A Advanced Information Literacy and Research 3 credits
Students will learn critical skills related to finding, organizing, analyzing, and making meaning from information from a variety of sources, including social media, news sources, search engines, books/articles, and academic databases. They will learn about the ways information is curated for them as well as how the personal data they create and share is used. They will apply this to a research project in a major discipline. Prerequisites: EN 111+112 or EN 111A+ 112A or equivalent.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

- IT 101 IT Fundamentals 4 credits
This course offers a broad survey of topics relevant to the Information Technology field, including computer hardware, software, networking, programming, databases, and information security. Students will develop the basic foundational knowledge required for today’s increasingly technology driven world. After completing this course, students will have a better understanding, and appreciation of how various information technologies work together to deliver solutions for organizations and individuals.
Prerequisites: MA 111 or equivalent, EN 111+112 or equivalent.
- IT 201, 202, 203, 204 IT Support I, II, III, IV 4, 4, 4, 4 credits
This four-course series provides students a simulated real-world experience of working as an IT support technician. Students will build the skills needed to install, configure, maintain and troubleshoot computer hardware, peripheral devices, operating systems, mobile devices, and simple networks through realistic hands-on scenarios. Students will also learn how to employ security best-practices to protect workstations and small networks from attackers. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. This series is also designed to help students prepare to sit for the CompTIA A+ (200-1001 and 220-1002) certification exams. Must be taken in sequence. Additional fees required.
- IT 251 Network Fundamentals 6 credits
This course provides students a simulated real-world experience of working as an entry-level network administrator. Students will build the skills needed to install, configure, maintain and troubleshoot complex networks through realistic hands-on scenarios. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. This course is also designed to help students prepare to sit for the CompTIA Network+ (N10-007) certification exam. Prerequisite: IT 201-204. Additional fees required.
- IT 281 Cybersecurity Fundamentals 6 credits
This course provides students a simulated real-world experience of working as an entry-level cybersecurity specialist. Students will build the skills needed to protect systems and networks from a variety of threats. Students will also learn about fundamental security concepts such as cryptography, access controls, and risk management. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. This course is also designed to help students prepare to sit for the CompTIA Security+ (SY0-501) certification exam. Prerequisite: IT 251. Additional fees required.
- IT 290 IT Practicum 4 credits
The IT Practicum is an educational experience designed for students to continue to practice and learn the technical skills they have gained in their IT/Cybersecurity courses in another professional setting. The specific course activities are determined in collaboration with a site supervisor and internship supervisor. Prerequisites: IT 251 and 281. Additional fees required.

IT 301, IT 302Windows Administration I, II*4, 4 credits

This two-course series provides students a simulated real-world experience of working as an entry-level Microsoft Windows Server administrator. Students will build the skills needed to install, configure and manage Windows servers and Active Directory domains. In this series students will also learn about Hyper-V virtualization, PowerShell scripting, and Azure cloud services. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. Must be taken in sequence. Prerequisite: IT 251, 281. Additional fees required.

IT 311, IT 312Linux Administration I, II*4, 4 credits

This two-course series provides students a simulated real-world experience of working as an entry-level Linux system administrator. Students will build the skills needed to install, configure and manage Linux based servers and workstations. In this series students will also learn about shell scripting. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. Must be taken in sequence. Prerequisite: IT 301, 302. Additional fees required.

IT 481Security Assessments and Audits*8 credits

This course provides students the experience of working as a cybersecurity analyst involved in the testing and auditing of an organization's information systems security (Red Team). Students will build the skills needed to conduct a basic security assessment, including vulnerability scanning, penetration testing, and application testing, as well as a simple compliance audit. In this course students will also learn about the tools and techniques used by attackers to compromise systems and networks, and how to defend against them. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. At the end of the course students will participate in a realistic security assessment activity that will require them to apply all their skills acquired throughout the program. Prerequisite: IT 301, 302, 311, 312. Additional fees required.

IT 482Incident Response and Analysis*8 credits

This course provides students the experience of working as a cybersecurity analyst involved in monitoring and defending an organization's information systems (Blue Team). Students will build the skills needed to analyze data from a variety of security tools, identify and address vulnerabilities, and respond to and recover from security incidents. Students will also develop their professional, communications, collaboration, and customer service skills; helping prepare them to enter the technology workforce. This course is also designed to help students prepare to sit for the CompTIA CySA+ (CS0-002) certification exam. Prerequisite: IT 481. Additional fees required.

IT 490Cybersecurity Capstone/Internship*1-12 credits

The IT Internship is an educational experience designed for students to continue to practice and learn the technical skills they have gained in their IT/Cybersecurity courses in another professional setting. The specific course activities are determined in collaboration with a site supervisor and internship supervisor. Prerequisites: IT 481 and 482. Additional fees required.

KINESIOLOGYKIN 230*Introduction to Kinesiology*3 credits

This course is designed to give students interested in kinesiology an introduction to the majors available at Warner Pacific University. The disciplines of Sports Management, Kinesiology (Exercise Science), and Sports Medicine will be represented. The basic terms and concepts, important issues, current trends, and professional avenues available in each discipline will be presented. Students will understand and be able to select a major in the department by the end of the course.

KIN 310Motor Learning*3 credits

A study of the neuropsychological aspects of human movement. Application of neuroanatomical and neurophysiological concepts to the understanding of learning, perception, motivation, memory, and variables affecting motor skill acquisition and performance. Prerequisites: BIO 121 or 221. (Alternate years 2021-2022)

KIN 325Biomechanics*3 credits

Study of the anatomical and bio-mechanical aspects of human motion with comprehensive attention to functional human anatomy. Prerequisites: BIO 121, EN 112. (Alternate years 2021-2022)

KIN 350Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries*3 credits

Techniques of prevention, recognition, treatment, and rehabilitation of high incidence injuries in physical education and sports activities. Includes appropriate regional anatomy and implications of growth, development, and aging. Prerequisites: BIO 121, EN 112. (Alternate years 2022-2023)

KIN 360Organization and Administration of Sports*3 credits

This course will examine the provision of sport services through the exploration of organizational planning and decision making at recreational, scholastic and intercollegiate levels. This includes understanding various roles within an organization as well as staffing and managing diversity. Emphasis will be placed on experiential learning as a means of evaluating programs, service quality and effectiveness. Prerequisite: KIN 230 or consent of instructor. (Alternate years 2022-2023)

KIN 460	Tests, Measurements and Evaluation in Exercise Science	3 credits
Introduction to the basic statistics essential to measurement and evaluation in health and physical education including tests to determine classification, neuromuscular achievement, knowledge, power, endurance, and work capacity. Prerequisites: EN 112, Junior class standing. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
KIN 470	Adapted Physical Education	3 credits
Analysis of the physical education/activity needs of physically and/or mentally and/or emotionally handicapped individuals. Content includes nature of selected handicapping conditions, selection of appropriate activities, program design, mainstreaming, and evaluation. Prerequisites: BIO 121, KIN 230, EN 112. (As needed)
KIN 475	Exercise Physiology	4 credits
Study of the physiological aspects of human performance including basic nutrition and the metabolic, endocrine, neuromuscular, respiratory, and cardiovascular responses to exercise. Lecture and laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 121, EN 112.
KIN 490	Senior Seminar	1 credit
The course will encompass a survey of research, literature, professional ethical considerations and career opportunities in areas related to athletics. Students will complete professional development activities including writing a resume, critical review of the current literature, and other items. Prerequisite: Senior standing.
KIN 494	Internship	1-6 credits
A field work practicum proposed by the student, involving experience pertinent to kinesiology, sports management, or sports medicine. Pass/No Pass grade. Prerequisite: Current First Aid/CPR certification and instructor consent.

MANAGEMENT AND ORGANIZATIONAL LEADERSHIP

MOL 503A	Financial Environments of Organizations	3 credits
This course provides a broad overview of the financial environment in which organizations function. It provides leaders with the critical financial interpretation skills needed to understand the impact of financial performance within their organization, as well as the impact of their decisions. Topics covered include: an overview of the general business environment, financial fundamentals, budgetary concepts, project analysis, and assessing the financial well-being of the organization. It will also enable students to utilize financial data for strategic planning.
MOL 508A	Project Management	3 credits
Project Management is an important subject for all companies regardless of Business Model. This course will provide students with the skills needed to manage a project by exploring the processes and knowledge areas recommended by the Project Management Institute for effective initiation, planning, execution, monitoring and control, and closure of projects.
MOL 509A	Social Entrepreneurship and Sustainable Business	3 credits
Social entrepreneurship is a fairly new field in which business and nonprofit leaders design, grow, and lead mission-driven enterprises. As business models evolve, it is important to analyze both the opportunities and challenges associated with this new way of doing business. Students will explore this topic within the framework of sustainable business model focusing on a triple bottom-line of people, planet, and profit.
MOL 604A	Legal and Regulatory Environment of Business	3 credits
An examination of the legal environment and its effect on organizational decisions and operations. Contracts, commercial and consumer law, and ethical awareness in corporate life are studied as guidelines for executive actions that produce a moral organizational culture where the spirit of the law is as important as the letter of the law. The role of public policy and governmental regulation is also examined.
MOL 610A	Coaching, Mentoring, and Conflict Resolution	3 credits
This course surveys the latest theories, models, research, and best practices related to coaching, mentoring, counseling, and conflict resolution including consideration of models based on Christian perspectives. It covers diverse performance models, performance management, performance appraisal, mentoring, power and influence, and negotiation, as well as training and interventions and their effectiveness on performance. Students are provided opportunities for practicing and receiving feedback on their degree of mastery of skill levels in these areas.
MOL 611A	Problem Solving and Decision Making	3 credits
This course explores various contemporary theories and practices for effective decision making in organizations. Various models and frameworks for analyzing problems, including the major stakeholder model and SWOT analysis, are examined. Strategic planning and analysis will be informed through use of appropriate research methods, building appropriate problem-solving skills through collecting, analyzing, and interpreting data.
MOL 612A	Integrated Organizational Leadership Project	2 credits
This course concludes an extensive, long-term inquiry and formal study that integrates key learning components into a final paper and report. Students choose a specific problem or change initiative within their own or another organization and examine it in light of the material covered in previous courses. Introduced in MOL 502A, this group project is conducted under the guidance of WP PGS faculty, is formally reviewed half way through the program, and is presented to the cohort as part of this course.

MARKETING

MKTG 242	Marketing	3 credits
This course is an introduction to marketing concentrating on the fundamentals including emphasizing segmenting and targeting customers, researching the market, market image, uniqueness in marketing, developing a basic marketing plan including distribution, location, price structure and promotion. Prerequisite or corequisite: EN 111.

- MKTG 300 Consumer Behavior 3 credits
This course is an introduction to the world of consumer behavior. The discipline borrows from business combined with several social sciences including psychology, sociology, and anthropology to explain behavior in the marketplace. In this course, the student will explore how perceptions, learning, memory, personality, and attitudes influence consumption behavior, how consumption changes during one's life cycle, and how powerful cultural and subcultural influences are on consumers.
- MKTG 342 Marketing Management 3 credits
An advanced course in marketing which is designed to teach the complex principles, concepts and strategies associated with marketing and institutional research and assessment. This course builds upon the content contained in Marketing (MKTG 242) and Research Methods and Applied Statistics (BUS 393), and focuses on the development of comprehensive marketing and institutional research strategies and design. Prerequisite: MKTG 242.
- MKTG 350 Customer Relationship Management 3 credits
This course examines customer relationship management (CRM) and its application in marketing, sales, and service. Effective CRM strategies help companies align business process with customer centric strategies using people, technology, and knowledge. Companies strive to use CRM to optimize the identification, acquisition, growth and retention of desired customers to gain competitive advantage and maximize profit. Anyone interested in working with customers and CRM technology and would like to be responsible for the development of any major aspect of CRM will find this course beneficial. Emphasis is given on both conceptual knowledge and hands-on learning using a leading CRM software. Prerequisite: MKTG 242.
- MKTG 420 Advertising and Public Relations 3 credits
Consideration of the nature and role of advertising and sales promotion in the marketing mix, with attention focused on objectives, strategy and evaluation of results. Will develop video and print advertisements and campaigns. Prerequisite: MKTG 242.
- MKTG 425 Integrated Marketing Communication 3 credits
Integrated marketing communication (IMC) is a strategic marketing process that aligns business objectives with customer-centric communications. Students will learn about various methods to advance an organization's success ranging from internally focused initiatives to restructure teams and workflows to help understand how to breakthrough siloed and channel mindsets. The days of broadcast communication are behind us, but to be truly integrated marketers must reflect customer experiences and multiple methods of engagement in their communication initiatives. The development of an IMC program requires an understanding of the overall marketing process, communications theory and processes, marketing communications tools, consumer behavior, and marketing communications organization structures and operations. Prerequisite: MKTG 242.
- MATHEMATICS
- MA 90 Elementary Algebra 3 credits
Elementary algebra is the first course in the algebra sequence. This course will cover simplifying expressions, solving linear equations and inequalities, and solving linear systems of equations. Following the successful completion of this course, students may enter MA 95 or MA 104, depending on major area and skill level. Graded P/NP. Does not fulfill General Education Core Studies requirements for math.
- MA 95 Intermediate Algebra 3 credits
This course covers concepts and skills of algebra including linear equations, functions, graphs, polynomials, factoring, rational expressions, radicals and other topics. This course is appropriate for students who do not yet feel prepared to take MA 111 College Algebra or another higher level math course. Graded P/NP. Does not fulfill General Education Core requirements for math.
- MA 104, MA 104A Math for Liberal Arts 3 credits
A course devoted to topics for liberal arts students emphasizing problem-solving. Topics covered may be sets and set logic, series and sequences and their application, graph theory, geometry, mathematics of finance, probability and statistics, number theory, or decision theory. Three or four of these topics will be covered during a semester. Prerequisites: A minimum of two years of high school math, including one year of algebra and one year of geometry or two years of integrated math. This is an appropriate general education course for students who are not required to take any other math for their majors.
- MA 111 College Algebra 3 credits
College Algebra is the study of functions: polynomial, rational, exponential, and logarithmic. Functions are examined through problem solving, graphing, and application (with the aid of graphing technology). Meets General Education Core Studies outcome L8. Prerequisite: MA 95 or two years of algebra in high school or three years of integrated math in high school and a grade of A or B in the last math class taken. Credit cannot be earned for both MA 111 and MA 115.
- MA 115 Precalculus 4 credits
Precalculus is the study of functions: polynomial, rational, exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric. Functions are examined through problem solving, graphing, and application (with the aid of graphing technology). Meets General Education Core Studies outcome L8. Prerequisite: MA 95 or two years of algebra in high school or three years of integrated math in high school and a grade of A or B in the last math class taken. Credit cannot be earned for both MA 111 and MA 115.

MA 211, MA 211A	Fundamentals of Elementary Mathematics I	3 credits
A course for prospective elementary and middle school teachers with a focus on problem solving. Topics include the development of number systems, from whole numbers to real numbers. Meets General Education Core Studies outcome L8. Prerequisites: MA 95 or two years of algebra in high school or three years of integrated math in high school and a grade of A or B in the last math class taken. (MA 211 Alternate years, 2022-2023)
MA 212, MA 212A	Fundamentals of Elementary Mathematics II	3 credits
A course for prospective elementary and middle school teachers with a focus on problem solving. Topics include geometry, measurement, statistics, and probability. Prerequisites: MA 95 or two years of algebra in high school or three years of integrated math in high school and a grade of A or B in the last math class taken. (MA 212 Alternate years, 2022-2023)
MA 251	Calculus I	4 credits
This course is an introduction to differential and integral calculus, utilizing verbal, graphical, tabular, and algebraic points of view." Prerequisite: MA 115 or equivalent. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
MA 252	Calculus II	4 credits
This course is a continuation of MA 251 that includes integration techniques, applications of integration, improper integrals, differential equations, and infinite series. Prerequisite: MA 251. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
MA 253	Calculus III	4 credits
This course includes topics in vector calculus such as lines, planes, and space curves in vector form, partial differentiation, multiple integration, and vector analysis. Prerequisite: MA 252. (As Needed)
MA 342	Statistical Methods	4 credits
An introductory course in descriptive and inferential statistics, including the practice of hypothesis testing, linear regression, and analysis of variance. Meets General Education Core Studies outcome L8. Prerequisite: MA 95 or equivalent.
MA 343	Linear Algebra	3 credits
Topics in matrix algebra, including vector spaces, determinants, systems of linear equations, eigenvalues, eigenvectors, linear transformations, and proof. Prerequisite: MA 251 with grade of C or better. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
MA 356	Discrete Mathematics	3 credits
Introduction to the mathematical analysis of finite collections, data structures and algorithms. Topics include set theory, logic, methods of proof, combinatorics, sequences, recurrence relations, and graph theory. Prerequisite: MA 251 with grade of C or better. (Alternate years 2022-2023)

MUSIC

MUS 101-104, 201-204, 301-304, 401-404	Applied Music	1 credit
Private lessons in respective areas of voice, keyboard, guitar, strings, wind, brass, or percussion instruments. Students pay the university for the cost of academic credit and a fee for individual lessons. Performance in a Friday Arts program is expected, unless excused by applied instructor in writing. Stated level repertoire must be satisfied through jury evaluation before advancement to next level can be achieved.
MUS 111	Understanding Music	3 credits
A hands-on introduction to the fundamental facts and skills of music, geared specifically to the non-major. Examination of rhythmic and pitch notation, and the ways in which they are combined to make music. Students will learn to read music, to listen to it for more understanding and pleasure, and to be familiar enough with the keyboard for basic note reading. No previous background required. Available on a Pass/No Pass basis.
MUS 112	Intro to Song Writing	2 credits
An introduction to the primary elements of Music Theory with a particular focus on application to song writing.
MUS 115, MUS 315	Wind Ensemble	1-2 credits
Study and performance of representative concert band literature. Open to all students with previous instrumental experience. Prerequisites: Audition and commitment to annual tour and full-year participation. Course may be repeated.
MUS 242	Global Worship through the Arts	3 credits
Also listed as FA 242. An overview of arts in worship related in biblical, historical, and cultural stories, this course explores the various ways in which the global and gathered worshipping church interacts with God. Music, dance, theatre arts, painting, sculpture, architecture, and symbols are studied in ancient, contemporary, and emerging contexts. The student will rediscover worship as a beautiful and diverse expression and design their own theologically informed approach toward the use of art in Christian worship today.
MUS 280/380	Music Leadership	(3 credits)
Students learn to lead music in a variety of settings (education, worship, rehearsals, etc.). Students learn basic conducting skills and rehearsal technique.
MUS 300	Music Performance Consortium	(2 credits)
The Music Performance Consortium invites auditioned musicians to select, arrange, rehearse, present, and assess creative musical selections in contemporary styles. Extremely collaborative, and highly visible via bi-weekly performances at local venues, the Consortium moves the students from ideas to performance and explores not only the production of music, but various relational and business requirements for industry success. The Consortium works together as a whole and encourages the formation of smaller musical ensembles drawn from its members.

MUS 415 Wind Ensemble with Leadership1-2 credits

Study and performance of representative concert band literature. Prerequisite: Senior class standing and six semesters of Wind Ensemble or by consent of the instructor. Experience will be gained in leadership responsibilities. Course may be taken a total of two times.

NURSINGNURS 210 Interprofessionalism in Nursing*3 credits

This didactic course socializes BSN students from the cornerstone of a liberal arts education to interprofessionalism within professional nursing practice according to an organizing framework. The framework features WPU core themes, nursing metaparadigm concepts, essentials of nursing education, and standards of professional nursing practice. The course explores nursing as a theory-driven discipline and values-based profession whose members collaborate with other professionals to improve health outcomes for diverse recipients of care across the lifespan, including at end of life. Prerequisite: Admission to the prelicensure BSN program.

NURS 301 Pathophysiology3 credits

This didactic course focuses on concepts of pathophysiology essential to understanding diseases and disabling conditions that can affect body systems across the lifespan. Provision of holistic, patient-centered care depends on an understanding of pathophysiology. Prerequisite: Admission to the prelicensure BSN program.

NURS 302 Pharmacology3 credits

This didactic course examines pharmacotherapeutic agents used in the treatment of illness and the promotion, maintenance, and restoration of wellness in diverse individuals across the lifespan, including at end of life. Content emphasizes principles of pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics, and pharmacogenetics/genomics in the treatment of prevalent illnesses and pain management. The course includes concepts of safe drug administration and monitoring of the effects of selected pharmacotherapeutic agents. Content also addresses clinical prevention through principles of “farmacology” (organic and whole food approaches). Prerequisite: Admission to the prelicensure BSN program.

NURS 310A RN to BSN Transition (Didactic)3 credits

This course is designed to facilitate the transition of registered nurses into academic work and builds on existing knowledge and professional experience. Emphasis is on studying the complex roles of the nurse in today’s global healthcare system. Building on existing knowledge, students will be introduced to the critical thinking, leadership, economics, technology, information management, population health, and individual responsibility for safe and ethical practice. Intercultural competence will be evaluated and emphasized. Health care trends related to equitable and holistic nursing practice with individual patients, groups and communities will be emphasized. Prerequisite: Admission to the postlicensure BSN program.

NURS 320A Role of the Nurse as a Manager of Care3 credits

This course provides students with skills to balance the maintenance of patient optimal health, equitable access to care, and resource management with a focus on persons’ autonomy in care decisions. The student will be given tools to build collaborative teams including patients, nurses, doctors, social workers, hospitals, acute and long-term care facilities, and the home. Trans-culturally competent interpersonal and small group communication skills are emphasized. Strategies in resource coordination to effectively manage care are considered. Prerequisite: NURS 310A.

NURS 330A Health Promotion and Assessment for the RN (Didactic)3 credits

This course provides students with additional problem-solving and critical thinking tools that are integral to primary, secondary and tertiary prevention nursing interventions. Building on existing knowledge, students will expand and refine the observational and psychomotor skills required for assessing the health status and needs of patients across the life-span with a focus on the adult. Data that suggests illness, deformity and/or common deviations from the normal expected findings will be identified and described. An emphasis will be placed on the role of the nurse in care management and care transitions, and on personal skills necessary to address the intersection of culture and faith in practice. Prerequisite: NURS 320A.

NURS 336 Health Assessment and Health Promotion4 credits

This didactic and skills development course provides students with further application of the nursing process and critical thinking skills integral to nursing interventions for primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention. In a laboratory setting and building on knowledge from the liberal arts, students will expand and refine the observational and psychomotor skills required for assessing the health status and needs of patients across the lifespan, with a focus on the health of adult men and women and older adults. Prerequisite: Admission to the prelicensure BSN program. Corequisite: NURS 210.

NURS 340 Medical-Surgical Nursing I: Providing Care5 credits

This didactic, skills development, and clinical course introduces medical-surgical nursing practices in the provision of care for diverse adults and older adults, including at end of life. The course examines and applies convictions, knowledge, skills, and attitudes arising from a liberal arts foundation, professional standards, evidence-based practice guidelines, and interprofessionalism to patient care. A key topic is pain management. Prerequisites: NURS 210, NURS 301, NURS 302, and NURS 336.

- NURS 350, 350A Diversity, Equity and Advocacy 3 credits
 This course examines the increasingly important roles of cultural competence and advocacy in the process of increasing the quality care, decreasing cost of care, and increasing access to care, along with working alongside an interdisciplinary care team and providing care to patients from diverse backgrounds. Concepts of various socio-cultural, economic, educational, cultural communication patterns and geographical location are examined as influences in the health care for both the patient and practitioner. Equitable frameworks of health care will be examined to develop strategies of patient and practitioner advocacy, to provide access to quality care, and create health care environments where patients and practitioners are valued for their unique cultural backgrounds, empowered to engage in the health care process, and supported to achieve their unique health care goals. This course meets the Diversity requirement for General Education Core. Prerequisite: NURS 210 or NURS 330A.
- NURS 370, NURS 370A Research, Statistics & Evidence-Based Practice 3 credits
 This course serves as an introduction to the research process and its integration into professional nursing practice. Students will learn the foundations of quantitative and qualitative research, how to locate, critically analyze, and critique nursing research, and how to identify their role in the research process as baccalaureate prepared professional nurses. Statistical methods used in nursing research will be introduced and applied in the context of reading current nursing research literature. Students will apply the steps of the research process to address a patient care problem identified in their clinical practice. Opportunities to critique and evaluate nursing research literature and the use of various evidence-based practice models, including their impact on equity and accessibility, will also be provided. This course meets the Critical Thinking & Strategic Planning requirement for General Education Core. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350 or MA 104A and NURS 350A.
- NURS 380 Maternal & Neonatal Health Nursing 3 credits
 This didactic, skills development, and clinical course extends the art and science of nursing and the various roles of the nurse as they apply to diverse and self-identified childbearing families. Students use the nursing process and QSEN competencies to relate to biophysical, psychosocial, cultural, and spiritual principles that have an impact on the childbearing family. Best evidence forms the basis for nursing care and management. The course also addresses family theories and dynamics and emphasizes a family-centered approach during antepartum, intrapartum, postpartum, and neonatal clinical experiences. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350.
- NURS 390 Elective Externship 2-3 credits
 This pass/fail elective externship is a clinical immersion for nursing students who have completed their junior year. Participating students, under the preceptorship of a registered nurse, provide direct patient care in selected health care settings. The clinical practicum of 24-36 hours per week focuses on the nursing process, critical thinking, organizational skills, clinical competency, and decision-making in the practice setting. A clinical agency may offer a paid practicum, which is negotiated with individual students at the time of application. Supporting seminars, held every other week during the externship, bring students together with course faculty to discuss ethical, legal, and professional practice issues through the lens of the program's organizing framework. All students and preceptors are in communication with the course faculty or clinical Instructor through site visits and weekly conferences. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350.
- NURS 400 Child and Adolescent Health Nursing 3 credits
 This didactic and clinical course focuses on the art and science of providing ethical, evidence-based nursing care to diverse children and adolescents within ANA standards, National Patient Safety Goals, and the QSEN Institute's quality and safety framework. Utilizing current patient care technologies and practice guidelines, the course emphasizes the understanding of pathophysiology unique to pediatric and adolescent populations in the provision of quality nursing care. For each developmental level, course content holistically addresses relevant anticipatory guidance, health promotion, and developmentally appropriate communication strategies. In addition, the course examines health care policy, finance, and regulatory environments affecting diverse children and adolescents. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350.
- NURS 410 Family and Community Health Nursing 3 credits
 This didactic and clinical course introduces students to the extension of nursing to a patient's family, to health of diverse families in a larger geographic community, and to community-based health care and prevention topics, with an emphasis on social justice and equity. Students develop an understanding of the history of community health nursing, along with the various roles, delivery systems and models, and stratification of services that form the foundation of community health nursing. Students practice the role of a community health nurse with public and home health care systems, with an emphasis on reflecting increased cultural intelligence (competence and humility). Building on existing skills, students will assess health needs, plan, and implement appropriate primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention interventions for diverse and vulnerable population groups in a variety of community settings, emphasizing safe and ethical practice. Evaluation of political processes related to emergency preparedness, local community health funding, and equitable patient/family/community access to healthcare is included. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350.
- NURS 410A Family Care and Community Health (Didactic) 2 credits
 This course introduces students to the extension of nursing to a patient's family and larger geographic community, and to community-based health care and prevention topics, with an emphasis on social justice and equity. Students will develop an understanding of the history of community health nursing, along with the various roles, delivery systems and models, and stratification of services that form the foundation of community health nursing. Students will practice the role of a community health nurse with public and home health care systems, with an emphasis on reflecting increased intercultural competence. Building on existing skills, students will assess health needs, plan, and implement appropriate primary, secondary and tertiary prevention interventions for at-risk and underserved population groups in a variety of community settings, emphasizing safe and ethical practice. Evaluation of political processes related to local community health funding and equitable patient/family/community access to healthcare is included. Prerequisite: NURS 370A.
- NURS 411A Family Care and Community Health (Clinical) 1 credit
 Health promotion and disease prevention at the individual and population level are necessary to improve individual well-being and population health and are important components of baccalaureate generalist nursing practice. This clinical course provides students practice in the role of a community health nurse with public and home health care systems, allowing integration of new knowledge from the lecture course, NURS 410A Family Care and Community Health. Clinical experiences in community health nursing focus on application of public health and nursing principles in the care of individuals, families and communities in a variety of settings, including public health departments, schools, occupational health, home health, correctional health, and other community-based agencies. Prerequisite or Corequisite: NURS 410A.

- NURS 420A Epidemiology/Population Health (Didactic) 3 credits
 This course introduces students to the concepts of epidemiology and the practice of population-based nursing. Students will develop an understanding of epidemiological methods as tools for data-driven health promotion, disease prevention and treatment across the lifespan in particular populations. An introduction to informatics will be included, and application of statistical methods will be reinforced and extended. Evaluation of political processes related to environmental impact, policy development, and state and federal funding of health initiatives will be considered. The nurse's role in disaster planning, risk management, environmental health, communicable disease outbreak, care for marginalized communities, and bioterrorism will also be considered. Prerequisite: NURS 410A/411A.
- NURS 440 Medical-Surgical Nursing II: Managing Care 5 credits
 This didactic, skills refresher, and clinical course presents the nurse's advanced roles of designer, manager, and coordinator of care in relation to human responses to alterations in health. The course provides students with skills to balance the maintenance of optimal health for adult and older adult recipients of care, equitable access to care, and resource management with a focus on persons' autonomy in care decisions. Content focuses on pathophysiology, corresponding medical-surgical nursing management, and the application of nursing process in the provision of holistic care for diverse adults and older adults. Content is organized around improved health outcomes and evidence based practice models. The focus of clinical practice is continuing development of organizational skills, priority setting, critical thinking, clinical reasoning, and problem solving as the student continues to assimilate the roles of the professional nurse in complex clinical settings. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350.
- NURS 450A Leadership/Management and Professional Role (Didactic) 2 credits
 This capstone course focuses on the nurse as a coordinator of human, fiscal and material resources in the health care delivery system. Strategies and skills necessary for the management of appropriate and effective nursing care within the organizational structure of the health care delivery system are explored and analyzed in relation to the nursing management process. Leadership of nursing and interdisciplinary teams utilizing both formal and informal power to promote quality person-focused care is explored, with special focus on the influence of cultural and religious factors on decision-making. Analysis and use of outcome measures to promote quality and cost-effective health care in various organizations and health care delivery systems is emphasized. This course meets the Ethics requirement for General Education Core. Prerequisite: NURS 420A. Corequisite: NURS 451A.
- NURS 451A Leadership/Management and Professional Role (Clinical) 2 credits
 The capstone clinical focuses on the application of related leadership strategies and skills, including reflective practice, conflict management, and intercultural competence. Emphasis will be placed on development and refinement of teamwork, conflict resolution, effective inter- and intra-disciplinary communication techniques and resource management. Students will develop and implement a change process for a simulated board meeting, incorporating legal, ethical, and nursing care standards required to safely adapt nursing actions to improve quality outcomes measures, to address the identified needs of a department or groups of patients. Prerequisite: NURS 420A. Corequisite: NURS 450A.
- NURS 460 Leadership I: Epidemiology, Prevention & Informatics 3 credits
 This didactic course extends a foundation in the liberal arts to application of a systems-based ecological model as a framework for understanding determinants of health in diverse populations. Senior students embrace responsibility and accountability for clinical leadership related to clinical prevention and population health. The course expands the nurse's role in stewardship of holistic human health and healing through principles of epidemiology and biostatistics, clinical prevention and harm reduction, and use of informatics to mitigate error and improve interprofessional communication and collaboration. Prerequisites or corequisites: NURS 370 and NURS 410.
- NURS 470 Mental Health Nursing 3 credits
 This didactic and clinical course addresses the principles and techniques of therapeutic communication and interprofessional collaboration as applied to working with patients who present with symptoms of mental health disorders in acute care and community-based settings. Contemporary issues in the field of mental health nursing are explored from a liberal arts foundation to attend to psychosocial, spiritual, cultural, emotional, and biophysical alterations as well as economic, legal, and ethical environments of recipients of care. Based on ANA standards of practice, the role of the nurse focuses on health promotion, disease prevention, and management for patients with mental health conditions across the life span. Students apply theoretical concepts of compassionate care and emotional support in clinical areas while working with diverse individuals, families, groups, communities, and vulnerable populations with varying levels of complexity. Prerequisites: NURS 340 and NURS 350.
- NURS 480 Leadership II: Caring, Safety and Leadership 3 credits
 This didactic and clinical leadership course focuses on the nurse as a change agent and coordinator of human, fiscal, and material resources in the health care delivery system. Clinical judgment and beginning application of management knowledge will support the establishment of priorities for nursing care and improved health outcomes. Strategies and skills of clinical reasoning necessary for the "Healing Trinity" of caring, safety, and leadership are explored and analyzed in relation to the nursing process, performance standards, and QSEN Competencies. Content emphasizes analysis and use of outcome measures to promote quality care, patient safety, and systems leadership in healthcare delivery systems. Leadership of nursing and interprofessional teams utilizing both formal and informal power to promote quality, person-focused care is explored, with a focus on the influence of cultural and spiritual factors on decision-making for diverse recipients of care. Prerequisite: NURS 460.
- NURS 490 Leadership III: Leadership and Management Capstone 6 credits
 This pass/fail capstone seminar and clinical course builds on existing knowledge and skills, focusing on the application of leadership strategies and skills necessary for the role of the nurse as a manager of care, including reflective practice, conflict management, and cultural intelligence (competence and humility). Emphasis is on development and refinement of leadership skills, collaborative care, conflict resolution, effective interprofessional communication techniques, and resource utilization and management. Students' clinical logs will emphasize their nursing actions to establish a nurse-patient relationship, improve health outcomes, promote patient safety, and demonstrate leadership as they fulfill a capstone clinical experience as an "RN Proxy." Prerequisites: NURS 440, NURS 480, ILR 300, HUM 310, REL 320.

Opportunities for conflict assessment and intervention will also be provided.

SS 390A Practicum: Exploring aspects of Criminal Justice and Legal Professions 3 credits
 Students will explore the field of criminal justice at the local, state, and federal level to include policing, policy, corrections, courts, private security, and legal professions through guest lectures and field visits.

SS 391A Research Design and Applied Statistics 3 credits
 An overview of the major principles of data gathering, statistical analysis, and evaluation. Students will be shown methods for defining, researching, analyzing, and evaluating problems, as well as the skills necessary to critique journal articles containing research.

- SS 393 Research Methods and Applied Statistics 4 credits
The fundamentals of research methods and applied statistics, including qualitative and quantitative approaches. The course will emphasize the use of descriptive and inferential statistics using Excel statistical software package. Prerequisite: College-level math course; MA 104 or MA 342 are recommended.
- SS 395A Data Analysis for Criminal Justice and Criminology 3 credits
This course acquaints students with current social problems such as poverty, crime and violence, drug abuse, health care, family break-up, and the public policies devised by the federal government, state governments, and local communities to reduce, remedy, or ameliorate the problems. Unique solutions utilized by state and local communities will also be emphasized. The social justice and equity of these policies as they affect individuals and groups, especially racial, gender, and cultural and ethnic minorities, will be explored particularly within the context of urban environments.
- SS 402A Criminal Justice Administration 3 credits
See PS 402A.
- SS 403 Grant Writing and Fundraising 3 credits
Also listed as URB 403. This focus of this course is to consider the nature and role of grant writing and fundraising within the context of urban programs and organizations, private or public, for-profit or non-profit. Special consideration is given to strategic planning, budget preparedness, grant prospects, the letter of inquiry, and grant proposal artisanship as well as the process of planning and successfully executing a fundraising event or special project. Prerequisites: Junior class standing, EN 111+112.
- SS 420, SS 420A Addictions, Mental Health, and Trauma 3 credits
Also listed as SW 420, SW 420A. This course examines how substance abuse, addiction, trauma, and mental health issues are contributing factors in criminal activity and victimology. Students will gain understanding of substance abuse, incorporating developmental approaches, treatment models, relapse prevention, issues of diversity, and impact on significant others. Students will also acquire knowledge of mental health problems, and learn a common language for diagnosis and treatment interventions. Students will learn about trauma, its impact on the brain, trauma across the lifespan (emphasis on developmental trauma), as well as, pathways for healing. Culturally competent, strength-based, and family systems approaches will be featured. Prerequisites (SS 420): Junior class standing, PSY 140, SOC 140, EN 111+112.
- SS 455A Restorative Justice Capstone 3 credits
In this course, students will critically examine the values, principles, and practices of restorative justice as it compares to the more familiar U.S. criminal legal system. The course explores the needs and roles of key stakeholders (victims, offenders, communities, justice systems) and identifies challenges and possibilities to the use of restorative justice models. Students will consider secular and religious understandings of justice – including the indigenous and non-western influences. Students will also have the opportunity to learn from individuals engaged in the practice of restorative justice. They will then apply the concepts of Restorative Justice to their profession in criminal justice as a capstone assignment.
- SS 492 Senior Internship 3 credits
Field work under professional supervision in a governmental agency, program, or institution. Application and integration of knowledge, theory and understanding; development of skills common to human service professionals. Involves three hours per week, per credit of agency experience during the 15-week semester, other brief assignments relevant to the field work, and a weekly on-campus supervisory seminar. Social Science Department internships may be repeated to a cumulative maximum of 20 credits. Must be prearranged one term in advance of placement. Prerequisites: PSY 140 or SOC 140 and consent of instructor.

SOCIAL WORK

- SW 200 Exploring Social Work 3 credits

- SW 385 Practice II: Families and Groups 4 credits
The second of three practice classes and deals with prevention and intervention within families and small groups. The concepts of families and groups will be discussed and the variety of dynamics will be explored through lenses of construct and diversity. Focus will include understanding and assessing family and small group functioning, planning strategic interventions, and effectively terminating and evaluating services with these client groups. Special practice emphasis will be placed on integrating generalist social work theory, knowledge and skills with common family and group issues to which the planned change model can be applied. Prerequisite: SW 200.
- SW 390 Practice III: Organizations and Communities 4 credits
The third in the series of practice classes and builds on components developed in the previous practice experiences. Focused on the analysis and effective functioning of large systems for the purpose of advocacy, prevention, and intervention targeted toward vulnerable populations, this course applies the planned change process and other competencies to communities and organizations. It addresses specific needs of macro-systems including funding and grant-writing and prepares students to positively contribute to the field practicum setting. Prerequisite: SW 200 or consent of instructor.
- SW 420, SW 420A Addictions, Mental Health, and Trauma 3 credits
See SS 420, SS 420A.
- SW 481 Family Violence Across the Life Span 2 credits
A comprehensive introduction to the subject of family maltreatment across the life span. Focus will include child physical, sexual, and psychological abuse and neglect; investigation and intervention in child maltreatment; sexual offenders; domestic violence; and elder maltreatment. The role of protective factors and resiliency/adaptability will also be explored as they relate to family abuse. In addition, each major topic area will be studied from an ecological perspective examining interacting explanations from a variety of levels: social; cultural; family; and individual. Prerequisite: PSY 140 or SOC 140 or consent of instructor. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
- SW 482 Child Welfare 2 credits
An introduction to the field of child welfare from a historical, theoretical, and practice perspective. The course will explore services to children and families including the following: services that “support” families to enhance family functioning and child development; services that “supplement” families struggling to regain and/or maintain balance; and services that “substitute” care when the family is unable to provide for the basic needs of a child either temporarily or permanently. Prerequisite: PSY 140 or SOC 140 or consent of instructor. (Alternate years 2021-2022)
- SW 485 Human Trafficking and Human Rights 3 credits
This course is designed to help students gain a better understanding of contemporary human trafficking and human rights. Students will examine human trafficking through a human rights approach and investigate violations of human rights as causes and consequences of human trafficking. Students will learn about various human rights abuses at different stages in the trafficking cycle. Students will also learn about the physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual trauma experienced by victims of human trafficking and the methods used to recruit and control them. Key terminology, types of human trafficking, and an understanding of the scope of the problem, both domestically and globally will be addressed. The roles that entities such as government, NGOs, media, faith-based agencies, organized crime and culture play in this complex human rights and social (in)justice issue will also be explored. A focus on the local community is at the heart of this course and the format integrates guest speakers invested in human rights and anti-trafficking work. Prerequisite: Junior class standing or consent of instructor.
- SW 491 Field Practicum I 4 credits
Fall Semester. The first 225-hour internship over the fall semester (5 credits) in which students are placed in a variety of agencies and organizations under professional supervision within the urban context of the metropolitan Portland area. The Field Practicum, along with the concurrent SW 495, Field Practicum Seminar I, provides the means to integrate and synthesize the knowledge, values and skills gained from academic courses into competent practice in the field. Students will be placed in community social service agencies for supervised periods of observation and direct service, which will provide the focus for the assessment components of the seminar. Offered as Pass/No Pass only. Prerequisite: Admission to the Social Work Program. Corequisite: SW 495.
- SW 492 Field Practicum II 4 credits
Spring Semester. The Field Practicum II, along with the concurrent Field Practicum Seminar II (SW 496), continues to provide the means to integrate and synthesize the knowledge, values and skills gained from academic courses into competent practice in the field. Students will continue their placement in community social service agencies for supervised periods of observation and direct service which will provide the focus for the assessment components of the seminar. Students will continue to demonstrate the practice behaviors associated with entry-level competencies necessary for entry-level generalist social work professionals. The application of grant writing skills and the integration of practice skills with organizations and communities (SW 390) will be emphasized. Offered as Pass/No Pass only. Prerequisite: Admission to the Social Work Program. Corequisite: SW 496.
- SW 495 Field Practicum Seminar I 2 credits
Fall Semester. A weekly seminar course that is held in conjunction with Field Practicum I. The seminar and the field practicum provide the means to integrate and synthesize the knowledge, values and skills gained from academic courses into competent practice in the field. Students will be placed in community social service agencies for supervised periods of observation and direct service which will provide the focus for the assessment components of the seminar. - SPED 502A Human Development and Exceptional Learners 3 credits
This course examines typical development from birth to age 21, and reviews the thirteen categories of special education eligibility in contrast with typical development. Topics include the development of: language, gross and fine motor skills, cognition, social-emotional stages, and adaptive skills. Students will engage in case studies to deepen understanding of exceptional learner development and gain inclusive terminology to address students.
- SPED 510A Assessment and Evaluation in SPED 3 credits
This course considers various models for determining Special Education eligibility. Students will be introduced to a number of standardized assessments commonly used in the eligibility process, and will be able to determine the appropriate assessments for each concern presented. At the end of this course, students will be prepared to facilitate the collaborative process of determining eligibility, along with sharing assessment data in a meaningful way with parents and other members of the IEP team.
- SPED 520A Instructional Best Practices in Special Education 3 credits
This course examines high incidence and low incidence disabilities to deeply understand the functional, academic, social, and emotional difficulties experienced by students with these exceptionalities. Best practices for supporting students are explored, including functional living skills, assistive technologies, how to implement small-group instruction targeted toward IEP goals, facilitate an inclusive program, collaborate with general education teachers, and determine appropriate accommodations and modifications. This course also includes four half-days of observation.
- SPED 522A Classroom Management for SPED Educators with 30-hour Placement 3 credits
This course addresses concerning behaviors that may be exhibited by students with disabilities. Teacher candidates will understand the dynamics of problem behaviors, as well as models for interpreting them and methods for addressing them effectively. Emphasis will be given to the positive impact of building strong relationships and communication systems with parents, general education teachers, and other stakeholders. This course includes a 30-hour placement to allow candidates to observe classroom management by an experienced, licensed SPED practitioner.
- SPED 530A Case Management and Collaboration 3 credits
This course prepares candidates to manage case files, including writing IEPs and progress notes, scheduling meetings, and providing documents to parents on a timeline. The importance of collaboration will be discussed in-depth, including how to effectively facilitate meetings with team members of diverse backgrounds, manage instructional assistants, and cooperate with general education teachers, parents, and administrators. Finally, the course will explore community resources and transitional programs available to exceptional students and their families.
- SPED 690A Student Teaching with Seminar 4 credits
This course supports candidates in refining professional expertise under the mentorship of a licensed specialist while engaging with students and all stakeholders in a school setting. Course content includes the role of the specialist, professional and ethical responsibilities, and commitment to lifelong learning and professional development in special education. According to Oregon Department of Education, student teaching for a Special Education Endorsement must be completed "in classroom environments with students who are 'individuals with exceptionalities' across the full range of disabilities" (OAR 584-420-0460 2(f)). The seminar will meet weekly to debrief the student teaching experience and collaborate. Placements and supervision will be coordinated by the Education Department. Students must have completed all other Special Education Endorsement coursework with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 before student teaching. Students must have passed the ORELA Special Education test. Offered on a Pass/No Pass basis.

URB 160	FYLC Topics Course	3 credits
The First Year Learning Community (FYLC) topics course explores topics relevant to Portland, immersing students in interdisciplinary, collaborative, hands-on learning. The specific FYLC course subjects vary from year to year, based on student and faculty interest. Regardless of the subject area, the course will focus on: 1) cultivating curiosity by approaching relevant real-world issues as co-learners and problem-solvers; 2) using the city as classroom and teacher; 3) building community that encourages mutual academic, social, emotional, and spiritual support; and 4) connecting otherwise separated aspects of university life. Each FYLC topics course intentionally brings social, spiritual, and personal growth into the curricular learning context within the framework of the university’s mission and values of being Christ-centered, urban, liberal arts, and diverse.

URB 390	Poverty in the Urban Context	3 credits
Also listed as SOC 390. This course addresses the root causes of poverty in all its social and spiritual dimensions. The meaning of powerlessness will be examined along with theoretical and practical steps for the elimination of poverty, and the cultural and political factors that inhibit its eradication. The course will study poverty as a global urban and rural phenomenon. It is designed to grapple with theological issues related to poverty and development. The student will explore various theoretical debates on poverty, ethics of development, liberation theologies and evangelical reflection on social action to understand assumptions about poverty. The course will explore case studies for transforming poverty in less developed countries. Prerequisite: URB 140 or SOC 140. (Alternate years 2022-2023)
